State and Sufism in Iraq David Jordan, 2021-12-30 State and Sufism in Iraq is the first comprehensive study of the Iraqi Ba'ath regime's relationship with Sufis and of Sunnī Sufi Islam in Iraq from the late Ottoman period until 2003 and beyond For far too long the secular and authoritarian Ba'ath regime has been reduced to the dictator Saddam Husayn and portrayed as antireligious Its growing political employment of Islam during the 1990s in turn has been interpreted either as an abstract Ba'athist nationalist Islam or as an ideological U turn from secularism to a form of Islamism that ultimately contributed to the spread of Islamist terrorism after 2003 Broadening the narrow focus on Saddam Husayn this book analyses other leading regime figures their close entanglement with Sufis and Ba th religious politics of a state sponsored revival of Sufi Islam and Iraq s broad and distinct Sufi culture It is the story of a secular regime s search for moderate Islam in order to overcome the challenges of radical Islamism and sectarianism in Iraq The book s two pronged interdisciplinary approach that deals equally with politics and Sufi Islam in Iraq makes it a valuable contribution to scholars and students in Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies Religious Anthropology and Sociology Political Science and International Relations Eradicating Terrorism from the Middle East Alexander R. Eickelman, James Piscatori, 2018-06-05 In this updated paperback edition Dale Eickelman and James Piscatori explore how the politics of Islam play out in the lives of Muslims throughout the world They discuss how recent events such as September 11 and the 2003 war in Iraq have contributed to reshaping the political and religious landscape of Muslim majority countries and Muslim communities elsewhere As they examine the role of women in public life and Islamic perspectives on modernization and free speech the authors probe the diversity of the contemporary Islamic experience suggesting general trends and challenging popular Western notions of Islam as a monolithic movement In so doing they clarify concepts such as tradition authority ethnicity protest and symbolic space notions that are crucial to an in depth understanding of ongoing political events This book poses questions about ideological politics in a variety of transnational and regional settings throughout the Muslim world Europe and North America for example have become active Muslim centers profoundly influencing trends in the Middle East Africa Central Asia and South and Southeast Asia The authors examine the long term cultural and political implications of this transnational shift as an emerging generation of Muslims often the products of secular schooling begin to reshape politics and society sometimes in defiance of state authorities Scholars mothers government leaders and musicians are a few of the protagonists who invoking shared Islamic symbols try to reconfigure the boundaries of civic debate and public life These symbolic politics explain why political actions are recognizably Muslim and why Islam makes a difference in determining the politics of a broad swath of the world Postmodernity, Sociology and Religion Kieran Flanagan, Peter C. Jupp, 2016-07-27

This topical collection of eleven commissioned essays by well established contributors from sociology religious studies and theology is one of the first treatments of the relationship between postmodernity and religion from a sociological perspective The essays cover a diversity of interests but treat postmodernity in terms of its implications for the self the New Age and theology particularly Catholicism and Judaism Two of the essays are original appraisals of two important French writers on religion Jean Luc Marion and Daniele Hervieu Leger Middle East Contemporary Survey Bruce Maddy-Weitzman, 2003-05

Established in 1977 the Middle East Contemporary Survey is designed to be a current reference for scholars researchers and analysts policymakers students and journalists Each volume examines in detail the rapidly changing Middle Eastern scene in all its complexity Subjects include inter Arab relations Islamic affairs economic developments and the relations between major world powers and the Middle East Country by country surveys of seventeen Arab states and the Palestinian Authority Iran Israel and Turkey are also included Regional aspects of foreign policies and internal development which have wider implications on inter Arab relations and Islamic affairs are amply covered with special emphasis on elucidating the inner dynamics of each country s politics and society Failed States and the Origins of Violence Tiffiany Howard, 2016-04-15

What makes a terrorist Is an individual inherently predisposed to be attracted to political violence or does exposure to a certain environment desensitize them in such a way that violence represents a viable mode for addressing political grievances Identifying state failure as the impetus for political violence this book addresses these questions and focuses on why existing extremist groups find failed states so attractive Utilizing global barometer data Tiffiany Howard examines the underpinnings of individual support for political violence and argues that an insidious pattern of deprivation within failed states drives ordinary citizens to engage in and support extreme acts of political violence A rigorous examination of four regions plagued by a combination of failed states and political violence Sub Saharan Africa The Middle East and North Africa Southeast and South Asia and Latin America this text draws parallels to arrive at a single conclusion that failed states are a natural breeding ground for terrorism and political violence Religion and Political Violence Jennifer L. Jefferis, 2009-09-10

This book uses the theory of social movements and first hand interviews to create a new analysis of religiously motivated political violence in the modern world Examining the movement to restore Sharia law to a dominant place in the Egyptian government the movement to make abortion illegal in the United States and the religious effort to secure territory in Israel the author contends that religion becomes violent not because of ideology or political context alone but because of the constantly evolving relationship between them The ebb and flow of opportunities for political access ensures that secularization and religion although polar opposites depend on each other to define themselves As a result while their respective degrees of influence will inevitably undulate over time both will remain a part of the political process for some time Thus a full understanding of both is critical to a meaningful understanding of the political process Much work has been done to understand secular social movements as part of the political process and consequentially researchers now know a great deal about the motivations resources and timing of secular social movements Considerably less research has been done in the field of religious social movements and this book fills that gap in the literature This book will be of great interest to students of political violence religion sociology and Politics and International Relations in general Jennifer Jefferis is Assistant Professor in the Department of Government Regent University USA and has a PhD in Political Science from Boston University
