

Son, I Remember

When you were an infant my greatest joy,
Came from holding and rocking my baby boy!
At one you took such pleasure in talking,
And suddenly my baby was walking.
You were king of the house when you turned two,
And I spent my days chasing after you.
The time slipped away, and soon you were five,
Such a curious child and so alive!
At six you discovered that school was fun,
And you ran and played till the day was done.
In the blink of an eye my son was eight,
With an interest in sports & staying up late.
Then before I knew it, my boy was ten,
And putting off homework time and again.
At thirteen it seemed you were rarely home,
As through the neighborhood you would roam.
And sixteen found you behind the wheel,
If you only knew how that made me feel!
At eighteen your high school days were done,
They were filled with laughter & friendship & fun!
Now you're a man standing straight and tall,
And though time slipped away...I remember it all!

Kathryn Ervin, Ethel P. Walker, 2014-06-03 Kathryn Ervin and Ethel Pitts Walker have compiled a delicately balanced and impeccably coherent anthology of some of the best scenes from the past sixty years of African American theatre. Each scene subtly articulates African American culture in a Western frame and explores universal themes embedded in unique characters, stories, languages, and time periods. Theatrically appropriate for secondary students, African American Scenebook also provides unique opportunities for classroom discussion about the difficult issues relating to race in America. From Child to Elder Alan Pope, 2006 From Child to Elder explores the personal growth that can arise when a middle-aged adult loses his or her last living parent. Based on an empirical phenomenological study, this book details the complex ways in which the adult orphan's ongoing relationship to the deceased parents combined with the unique meanings of the loss leads to a deepening of individual autonomy and spiritual awakening. Confrontation with mortality and fundamental aloneness promotes, among other things, an increased sense of existential responsibility toward self and others as the adult orphan psychologically assumes its new role as an elder. These and many other themes are structured into an integrated whole and amplified through developmental, existential, and Jungian perspectives. The result is a compelling portrait of the processes by which the death of one's parents can accelerate psychospiritual development. The Works of that Eminent Servant of Christ, Mr. John Bunyan: Grace abounding to the chief of sinners. A confession of my faith, and a reason of my practice. Differences in judgment about water-baptism, no bar to communion. Peaceable principles and true. The doctrine of the law and grace unfolded. The pilgrim's progress. The Jerusalem sinner saved. The heavenly footman. Solomon's temple spiritualized. The acceptable sacrifice. Sighs from hell. Come and welcome to Jesus Christ. A discourse upon the Pharisee and the publican. Of justification by an imputed righteousness. Paul's departure and crown. Of the Trinity and a Christian. Of the law and a Christian. Israel's hope encouraged. The life and death of Mr. Badman. The barren fig-tree. An exhortation to peace and unity. One thing is needful John Bunyan, 1767 A Peculiar Child Jane Winters, 2001-03-27 A Peculiar Child is the odyssey of a good mind trying to pick its way out of mental illness. Honest, tough, laced with humor, it illuminates the experience of mental illness and the problems faced by the mentally ill, including psychiatry, psychiatric drugs, and the mental health industry. The Present Testament Barbara Ann Mary Mack, 2009-12 The Present Testament is a Continuation of the Old
