Good Times, Bad Times, Ugly Times... That's Life! Gene Jackson, 2005 Rich in memories of family values and traditions the author reflects on his experiences and relationships while growing up during the Great Depression At an early age he entered the military to get away from home and surroundings that bred poverty Upon leaving the military the author enters a full time ministry only to leave it in order to enter the secular realm as an educator entrepreneur and farmer Continuing his search for fulfillment and challenge the book describes how the author gives up farming to become an executive officer with a company in a specialty market This venture takes him to many far away places and several trips around the world before semi retirement World Heritage in Iran Ali Mozaffari, 2016-02-11 Pasargadae is the location of the tomb of Cyrus the Great founder of the Achaemenid Empire Through the ages it was Islamised and the tomb was ascribed to the Mother of Solomon It was only at the beginning of the twentieth century that archaeological evidence demonstrated the relationship between the site and Cyrus and it was appropriated into conflicting political discourses on nationalism and Islamism while concurrently acknowledged as a national and then a World Heritage site However Pasargadae is neither an isolated World Heritage site nor purely a symbol of abstract state politics Pasargadae and its immediate vicinity constitute a living landscape occupied by villagers nomads and tourists This edited volume presents for the first time a broad multi disciplinary examination of Pasargadae by experts from both outside and within Iran It specifically focuses on those disciplines that are absent from existing studies such as ethnography tourism and museum studies providing valuable insights into this fascinating place In its totality the book argues that to understand World Heritage sites and their problems fully a holistic approach should be adopted which considers the manifold of perspectives and issues It also puts forward a novel approach to the question of heritage representation and construction of collective identity from the framework of place A European Memory? Małgorzata Pakier, Bo Stråth, 2012 An examination of the role of history and memory is vital in order to better understand why the grand design of a United Europe with a common foreign policy and market yet enough diversity to allow for cultural and social differences was overwhelmingly turned down by its citizens The authors argue that this rejection of the European constitution was to a certain extent a challenge to the current historical grounding used for further integration and further demonstrates the lack of understanding by European bureaucrats of the historical complexity and divisiveness of Europe's past A critical European history is therefore urgently needed to confront and re imagine Europe not as a harmonious continent but as the outcome of violent and bloody conflicts both within Europe as well as with its Others As the authors show these dark shadows of Europe s past must be integrated and the fact that memories of Europe are contested must be accepted if any new attempts at a United Europe are to be successful The Sumner Story Wilma F.

Bonner,2011-01-01 For the first three quarters of the twentieth century in the heart of our nation there thrived a safe haven which nurtured great aspirations of thousands of African American youth and their families The Sumner Story highlights the history of a segregated high school which became recognized for the stellar academic performance of its students Highly qualified faculty who believed in the students ability to achieve prepared them for a world of competition hard knocks compromises and closed doors The story also denotes and illuminates outstanding career successes of alumni In a socially and economically segregated nation black students who had a Sumner like experience were very fortunate because their schools served as clear windows and powerful springboards to promising possibilities In this regard nine other segregated high schools are reviewed Insights can be gained from this story on how to resolve the plight of low performing schools in socially and economically disadvantaged communities
