Remote Places:

Mobilities in Remote Places Phillip Vannini, 2023-07-21 Mobilities in Remote Places explores the meanings challenges and opportunities of remoteness as practiced and experienced by those who live and work in some of the world's most remote communities As mobilities around the world proliferate in countless forms the meanings of remoteness undergo significant change Places once considered impossibly distant have appeared to become closer more accessible and less distinct from global centers of geopolitical power But instead of disappearing altogether configurations of remoteness evolve manifesting themselves through new possibilities new challenges and new insecurities Drawing from a variety of case studies from around the globe the contributors of the book examine remoteness as an outcome of evolving mobility constellations Rather than defining remoteness as an absolute or objective time distance condition the book shows how remoteness is a practice experience and representation that is situated relational and emergent This collection of original and thought provoking chapters will be of interest to students and researchers in the humanities and social sciences with an interest in mobilities place and human geography

Coding Places Yuri Takhteyev, 2012-09-21 An examination of software practice in Brazil that reveals both the globalization and the localization of software development Software development would seem to be a quintessential example of today's Internet enabled knowledge work a global profession not bound by the constraints of geography In Coding Places Yuri Takhteyev looks at the work of software developers who inhabit two contexts a geographical area in this case greater Rio de Janeiro and a world of practice a global system of activities linked by shared meanings and joint practice The work of the Brazilian developers Takhteyev discovers reveals a paradox of the world of software it is both diffuse and sharply centralized The world of software revolves around a handful of places in particular the San Francisco Bay area that exercise substantial control over both the material and cultural elements of software production Takhteyev shows how in this context Brazilian software developers work to find their place in the world of software and to bring its benefits to their city Takhteyev's study closely examines Lua an open source programming language developed in Rio but used in such internationally popular products as World of Warcraft and Angry Birds He shows that Lua had to be separated from its local origins on the periphery in order to achieve success abroad The developers Portuguese speakers used English in much of their work on Lua By bringing to light the work that peripheral practitioners must do to give software its seeming universality Takhteyev offers a revealing perspective on the not so flat world of globalization

Aged Care Packages in the Community 2010-11, 2012 Assessing the Evidence on Indigenous Socioeconomic Outcomes Boyd Hunter, 2006-06-01 Aboriginal Australian Social conditions Economic conditions Planet Earth 2011 Elias Carayannis, 2011-10-03 The failure of the UN climate change summit in Copenhagen in December 2009 to effectively reach a global agreement on emission reduction targets led many within the developing world to view this as a reversal of the Kyoto Protocol and an attempt by the developed nations to shirk out of their responsibility for climate change. The issue of global warming has been at the top of the political agenda for a number of years and has become even more pressing with the rapid industrialization taking place in China and India. This book looks at the effects of climate change throughout different regions of the world and discusses to what extent cleantech and environmental initiatives such as the destruction of fluorinated greenhouse gases, biofuels and the role of plant breeding and biotechnology. The book concludes with an insight into the socio-religious impact that global warming has, citing Christianity and Islam. Residential Aged Care in Australia 2010-11, 2012 P 15 Access for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people p 25 Table 3 1 Permanent and respite residents by Indigenous status and sex 30 June 2011

Asian Perspectives on Teacher Education Shin'ichi Suzuki, Edward R. Howe, 2013-09-13 Research into teacher education is dominated by Anglophone literature with the inevitable result that teacher education in non-English speaking regions of the world largely remains unexamined. This book fills the gap in the existing literature and comprises twelve invited contributions from an international panel of educationists. To provide the reader with a clear structure, the book offers a detailed introduction and afterword which brings together the various themes examined in each chapter. The contributions offer perspectives on teacher education in the Asian region, perspectives which until now have been missing from contemporary debate on teacher education. Presenting research from Australia, Japan, the USA, the People's Republic of China, the Republic of Korea and Vietnam, this book examines the varied situations, teacher educators' experience in their own countries, in so doing the researchers identify resonances and dissonances in comparison with the dominant Anglophone research literature on the same subjects. This book is an important contribution to the comparative study of teacher education in the first decade of the twenty-first century, giving a voice to an important sector of the international community of teacher educators. This book was published as a special issue of Journal of Education for Teaching: International research and pedagogy. Relationships with Families in Early Childhood Education and Care Joanne Lehrer, Fay Hadley, Katrien Van Laere, Elizabeth Rouse, 2022-07-13 Relationships with Families in Early Childhood Education and Care radically challenges the role assigned to parents in neoliberal discussions of early childhood education and care and presents new ways of thinking about relationships with families. With contributions from international early childhood scholars and practitioners, this book includes outlooks of practitioners, families and children, particularly about the meanings they assign to relationships. Bringing together key understandings about how parent partnerships can be understood, this book provides innovative examples of how to enact democratic partnerships with parents in diverse contexts. Relationships with Families in Early Childhood Education and Care is an ideal text for ECEC practitioners and policy makers, trainers, graduate students and researchers. Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>
