Italy reconstructs a historical concept of modern art on the basis of sources written between the 1390s and 1440s. The central point of reference in these sources was Giotto, the early fourteenth century painter who, as one writer put it in 1442, first modernized modernized ancient and mosaic figures. The word modern was used in a wide variety of ways throughout this period, some quite polemical, others rather prosaic. To call art ars modern however was to invoke a stable, well defined concept whose roots ran deep in late medieval intellectual life. According to this concept, to make an art modern was to set it on a new foundation in science, scientia, and rationalize it accordingly. As familiar as this formulation may sound in principle, each and every one of its key terms—art, modernity, science, rationality—meant something strikingly different in this period than it does in our time. The hallmark of modern art was not verisimilitude or expression or virtually any of the achievements that art historians associate with Giotto today, but rather the invention of techniques that aimed to imitate nature in its very manner of operation, aligning the concrete step by step process of painting with the inner workings of nature itself. By reclaiming this concept and tracking its complex relation to early Renaissance concerns such as linear perspective and the canon of proportion, the book not only establishes a novel framework for the visual analysis of fourteenth and fifteenth century Italian painting, but also unravels a fundamental master narrative of Western art history from within, clearing the way for renewed discussions of alternative modernities, including those that precede the story of modernism as we know it.

Publisher's website Douglas MacAgy and the Foundations of Modern Art Curatorship David R. Beasley, 1998. From formative years in Toronto and Philadelphia, MacAgy became the catalyst for the advent of American abstraction, the spirit behind the modern art movement, the introducer and interpreter of European and Russian art to America, the head of the National Endowment for the Arts and the installer of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. He was on the cutting edge of modern art movements from American abstract expressionism to conceptualism and fought as an independent educator against the forces using art for political ends. MacAgy has a place in history. George Rickey Renaissance and Modern Art William Henry Goodyear, 1906 Form and Meaning Robert Klein, 1979 Dictionary Of Modern Art Matthew Baigell, 2021-12-13. Employing a wide range of approaches from various disciplines, contributors to this volume explore the diverse ways in which European art and cultural practice from the fourteenth through the seventeenth centuries confronted, interpreted, represented and evoked the realm of the sensual. Sense and the Senses in Early Modern Art and Cultural Practice investigates how the faculties of sight, hearing, touch, taste and smell were made to perform in a range of guises in early modern cultural practice, as agents of indulgence and pleasure, as bearers of information on material reality, as mediators between the mind and the outer world, and even as intercessors between humans and the divine. The volume examines not only aspects of the arts of painting and sculpture but also extends into other spheres philosophy music and poetry gardens food relics and rituals Collectively the essays gathered here form a survey of key debates and practices attached to the theme of the senses in Renaissance and Baroque art and cultural practice Space, Image, and Reform in Early Modern Art Arthur J. DiFuria, Ian Verstegen, 2021-11-08 The essays in Space Image and Reform in Early Modern Art build on Marcia Hall's seminal contributions in several categories crucial for Renaissance studies especially the spatiality of the church interior the altarpiece's facture and affectivity the notion of artistic style and the controversy over images in the era of Counter Reform Accruing the advantage of critical engagement with a single paradigm this volume better assesses its applicability and range The book works cumulatively to provide blocks of theoretical and empirical research on issues spanning the function and role of images in their contexts over two centuries Relating Hall's investigations of Renaissance art to new fields Space Image and Reform expands the ideas at the center of her work further back in time further afield and deeper into familiar topics thus achieving a cohesion not usually seen in edited volumes honoring a single scholar

Mannerism Arnold Hauser, 1986 The Transformation of Vernacular Expression in Early Modern Arts, 2011-10-14 In response to the dominance of Latin as the language of intellectual debate in early modern Europe regional centers started to develop a new emphasis on vernacular languages and forms of cultural expression This book shows that the local acts as a mark of distinction in the early modern cultural context Interdisciplinary in scope essays examine vernacular strands in the visual arts architecture and literature from the fourteenth to seventeenth centuries Contributions focus on change rather than consistencies by highlighting the transformative force of the vernacular over time and over different regions as well as the way the concept of the vernacular itself shifts depending on the historical context Contributors include James J Bloom Jessica E Buskirk C Jean Campbell Lex Hermans Sun Jing Trudy Ko David A Levine Eelco Nagelsmit Alexandra Onuf Bart Ramakers and Jamie L Smith Parody and Festivity in Early Modern Art David R. Smith, 2017-07-05 Dwelling on the rich interconnections between parody and festivity in humanist thought and popular culture alike the essays in this volume delve into the nature and the meanings of festive laughter as it was conceived of in early modern art The concept of carnival supplies the main thread connecting these essays Bound as festivity often is to popular culture not all the topics fit the canons of high art and some of the art is distinctly low brow and occasionally ephemeral themes include grobianism and the grotesque scatology popular proverbs with ironic twists and a wide range of comic reversals some quite profound Many hinge on ideas of the world upside down Though the chapters most often deal with Northern Renaissance and Baroque art they spill over into other countries times and cultures while maintaining the carnivalesque air suggested by the book's title Fernand Léger Fernand Léger, Carolyn Lanchner, Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 1998 Fernand Leger 1881-1955 is the only modern artist to choose modernity itself as his subject From his early series Contrastes de formes 1913-14 the first fully abstract works to emerge from Cubism through his last realistic

Visual Culture and Ideology, 1400-1700* James Hutson, 2016-03

The development of art theory over the course of the Renaissance and Baroque eras is reflected in major stylistic shifts In order to elucidate the relationship between theory and practice we must consider the wider connections between art theory poetic theory natural philosophy and related epistemological matrices Investigating the interdisciplinary reality of framing art making and interpretation this treatment rejects the dominant synchronic approach to history and historiography and seeks to present anew a narrative that ties together various formal approaches focusing on stylistic transformation in particular artist's oeuvres Michelangelo Annibale Carracci Guercino Guido Reni Poussin and others and the contemporary environments that facilitated them Through the dual understanding of the art theoretical concept of the Idea an evolution will be revealed that illustrates the embittered battles over style and the overarching intellectual shifts in the period between art production and conceptualization based on Aristotelian and Platonic notions of creativity beauty and the goal of art as an exercise in encapsulating the divine truth of nature Edgar Wind and Modern Art Ben Thomas, 2020-12-10 This book presents the first comprehensive study of the philosopher and art historian Edgar Wind's critique of modern art The first student of Erwin Panofsky and a close associate of Aby Warburg Edgar Wind was unusual among the Warburgians for his sustained interest in modern art together with his support for contemporary artists This culminated in his respected and influential book Art and Anarchy 1963 which seemed like a departure from his usual scholarly work on the iconography of Renaissance art Based on extensive archival research and bringing to light previously unpublished lectures Edgar Wind and Modern Art reveals the extent and seriousness of Wind's thinking about modern art and how it was bound up with theories about art and knowledge that he had developed during the 1920s and 30s Wind's ideas are placed in the context of a closely connected international cultural milieu consisting of some of the leading artists and thinkers of the twentieth century In particular the book discusses in detail his friendships with three significant artists Pavel Tchelitchew Ben Shahn and R B Kitaj In the process the existence of an alternative to the prevailing formalist approach of Alfred Barr and Clement Greenberg to modern art based on the enduring importance of the symbol is revealed Mannerism Arnold Hauser, 1965

Brunelleschi, Lacan, Le Corbusier Lorens Holm, 2020-11-25 This well argued analytic text provides a greater understanding of spatial issues in the field of architecture Re interpreting the fifteenth century demonstration of perspective

Lorens Holm puts it in relation to today's theories of subjectivity and elaborates for the first time the theoretical link between architecture and psychoanalysis. Divided into three sections: Brunelleschi, Lacan, Le Corbusier, argues that perspective remains the primary and most satisfying way of representing form because it is the paradigmatic form of spatial consciousness. Well illustrated with over 100 images, this compelling book is a valuable study of this key aspect of architectural study and practice, making it an essential read for architects in their first year or their fiftieth.
