Satisfied With Nothin A Compelling Story Of The Rural Black Experience:

"We Will Be Satisfied With Nothing Less" Hugh Davis, 2011-08-15 Historians have focused almost entirely on the attempt by southern African Americans to attain equal rights during Reconstruction. However, the northern states also witnessed a significant period of struggle during these years. Northern blacks vigorously protested laws establishing inequality in education, public accommodations, and political life, and challenged the Republican Party to live up to its stated ideals. In We Will Be Satisfied With Nothing Less, Hugh Davis concentrates on the two issues that African Americans in the North considered most essential: black male suffrage rights and equal access to the public schools. Davis connects the local and the national, he joins the specifics of campaigns in places such as Cincinnati, Detroit, and San Francisco with the work of the National Equal Rights League and its successor, the National Executive Committee of Colored Persons. The narrative moves forward from their launching of the equal rights movement in 1864 to the end of Reconstruction in the North two decades later. The struggle to gain male suffrage rights was the centerpiece of the movement's agenda in the 1860s, while the school issue remained a major objective throughout the period. Following the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment in 1870, northern blacks devoted considerable attention to assessing their place within the Republican Party and determining how they could most effectively employ the franchise to protect the rights of all citizens. LLA Bulletin, Louisiana Library Association, 1993. The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1992. Small Press Record of Books in Print, Len Fulton, 1994.

Unsettling the Great White North Michele A. Johnson, Funké Aladejebi, 2022-01-27 An exhaustive volume of leading scholarship in the field of Black Canadian history, Unsettling the Great White North highlights the diverse experiences of persons of African descent within the chronicles of Canada's past. The book considers histories and theoretical framings within the disciplines of history, sociology, law, and cultural and gender studies to chart the mechanisms of exclusion and marginalization in multicultural Canada and to situate Black Canadians as speakers and agents of their own lives. Working to interrupt the myth of benign whiteness that has been deeply implanted into the country's imagination, Unsettling the Great White North uncovers new narratives of Black life in Canada. The Great White Way, Warren Hoffman, 2014-02-18. Broadway musicals are one of America's most beloved art forms and play to millions of people each year. But what do these shows, which are often thought to be just frothy entertainment, really have to say about our country and who we are as a nation? The Great White Way is the first book to reveal the racial politics, content, and subtexts that have haunted musicals for almost one hundred years, from Show Boat (1927) to The Scottsboro Boys (2011). Musical mirror their time periods and reflect the political and social issues of their day. Warren Hoffman investigates the thematic content of the Broadway musical and considers how musicals work on a structural level, allowing them to simultaneously present and hide their racial agendas in plain view of their audiences. While the musical is informed by the cultural contributions of African Americans and Jewish immigrants, Hoffman argues that ultimately the history of the American musical is the history of white identity in the United States Presented chronologically The Great White Way shows how perceptions of race altered over time and how musicals dealt with those changes Hoffman focuses first on shows leading up to and comprising the Golden Age of Broadway 1927 1960s then turns his attention to the revivals and nostalgic vehicles that defined the final quarter of the twentieth century He offers entirely new and surprising takes on shows from the American musical canon Show Boat 1927 Oklahoma 1943 Annie Get Your Gun 1946 The Music Man 1957 West Side Story 1957 A Chorus Line 1975 and 42nd Street 1980 among others New archival research on the creators who produced and wrote these shows including Leonard Bernstein Jerome Robbins Stephen Sondheim and Edward Kleban will have theater fans and scholars rethinking forever how they view this popular American entertainment
