Save Generations Y And Z:

Generation on a Tightrope Arthur Levine, Diane R. Dean, 2012-07-19 Today's college students feel as if they are crossing an abyss between their dreams and the reality of an uncertain future. They are a generation seeking stability in a time of profound and accelerating change. They want government and our other social institutions to work in a time when they're broken; they cling to the American Dream in an age of diminished expectations. They are walking a tightrope attempting to balance digital connectedness and personal isolation, global citizenship and local vision, commonality and difference in the most diverse generation in American history and a desire to be treated as mature adults while being more dependent on their parents than previous college students. Generation on a Tightrope offers a compelling portrait of today's undergraduate college students that sheds light on their attributes, expectations, aspirations, academics, attitudes, values, beliefs, social lives, and politics. Based on research of 5,000 college students and student affairs practitioners from 270 diverse college campuses, the book explores the similarities and differences between today's generation of students and previous generations. The authors examine the myriad forces that have shaped these students and will continue to shape them as they prepare to meet the future. The first two volumes in this series exploring the psyche of college students: When Dreams and Heroes Died (1980) and When Hope and Fear Collide (1998) offered thoughtful and accurate profiles of the students of the 1980s and 1990s. As Generation on a Tightrope clearly reveals, today's students need a very different education than the undergraduates who came before them: an education for the 21st Century which colleges and universities are ill-equipped to offer and which will require major changes of them to provide. Painting a realistic picture of today's college students, the authors offer guidance to higher education professionals, researchers, practitioners, policymakers, employers, parents, and the public. The book's insights can help them equip students for the world they face and the world they will help to create. Starseed Lives - Four Generations on Earth! The Abbotts, 2016-12-08 STARSEED LIVES: Four Generations On Earth By The Abbotts. A Quick Read Book. The Starseeds are young people born since the late 1960s who have come to Earth to create Unity and help the planet. The Abbotts, paranormal experts, have written four short stories about these four generations: X, Y, Z, and A that you will easily relate to and find inspiring. Stories of finding your special purpose here on Earth, finding love, and creating the life you truly desire. Illustrated and in 14 pt for easy reading. A Beacon of Light Book. Colouring the Future Gary Rynhart, 2020-01-16 The world is in a mess, but the United Nations has a plan to fix things. The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are little talked about but they are ambitious, utopian, and cover a vast range of seemingly intractable issues. What is more, this book argues they will probably work. Gary Rynhart has worked within the UN system for two decades, wrestling with difficult problems in many different countries around the world. He is optimistic that a combination of the SDGs and the fresh perspective of the young can deliver the massive changes that the world so badly needs. The book begins by providing an insider's insight into how big global deals like the SDGs are negotiated behind the scenes. It continues by looking in turn at critical issues and showing how UN agencies have tackled them in the past and plan to do so in future in the arenas of human rights decent work democracy conflicts and disasters It concludes by examining the political context a world dogged by populism and fake news but in which the engagement of Generations Y and Z promises to ride to the rescue

Applications of Work Integrated Learning Among Gen Z and Y Students Gerhardt, Trevor, Annon, Paulette J., 2021-04-02 It has become evident within higher education and within or in partnership with the workplace that there is a growing demand for an integration of learning within the workplace. Formal and intentional models and processes utilizing experiential learning methods and pedagogy are often referred to as work integrated learning. However, there is a vast cross conceptualization evident within the field between concepts such as work related learning WRL workplace learning WPL work based learning WBL work integrated learning WIL and experiential learning EL. Furthermore, there are vast differences between different applications such as apprenticeships higher degree apprenticeships HDA co-operative education Coop internships placements projects sandwich courses practicums and more. There is a new focus on the impact of WIL on the future labor force specifically of generations Z and Y. Applications of Work Integrated Learning Among Gen Z and Y Students presents educational and theoretical concepts related to WIL and Gen Z and Y students as a workforce. The chapters include coverage not only on these concepts but in depth research on the implications of WIL on these generations educational themes in WIL and WIL innovation. The topic of WIL and all its applications are covered in a global context and for all fields of work focusing on the skills and expertise gained from the students of work based learning along with insights on how work based learning is implemented by teachers and educational administrations. This book is a valuable reference tool for in-service and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators human resources and career development management practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students interested in insight theory and practical examples of WIL from around the world and the impact these have within the workplace as related to generations Y and Z. Groundwork

Marketing to Gen Z Jeff Fromm, Angie Read, 2018-03-26 With bigger challenges come great opportunities and Marketing to Gen Z wants to help you get ahead of the game when it comes to understanding and reaching this next generation of buyers. Having internalized the lessons of the Great Recession, Generation Z blends the pragmatism and work ethic of older generations with the high ideals and digital prowess of youth. For brands reaching this mobile first and socially conscious cohort, real change, not just tweaks to the Millennial plan. In Marketing to Gen Z, businesses will learn how to get past the 8-second filter. Avoid blatant advertising and tap influencer marketing. Understand their language and off-beat humor. Offer the shopping experiences they expect. Marketing to Gen Z dives into and explains all this and much more so that businesses may most effectively connect and converse with the emerging generation that is expected to comprise 40 percent of all consumers by 2020. Now is the time to learn who they are and what they want.

2020s Foresight Tom Sine, Dwight J. Friesen, 2020-09-01 In 2020s Foresight, authors Tom Sine and Dwight Friesen seek to wake up Christian leaders and those whom they serve to the realities that leaders in other fields must deal with all the time. We are no longer simply living in changing times. We live in the reality that we are racing into a new world of accelerating change. The authors want to enable leaders in churches and Christian organizations to learn how to lead in this time of acceleration. They focus on three vital practices: foresight, analyzing the accelerating changes and anticipating new opportunities and strategies for addressing change, reflection, discerning biblical purposes for times like these and creating innovative ways to engage new challenges so as to advance God's purposes in our lives, congregations and organizations in the 2020s. The book is intended to equip Christian leaders to anticipate some of the new challenges in the 2020s, discover God's shalom purposes for our lives, the church and God's world, and create innovative new possibilities for our lives, communities and congregations that both engage new opportunities and advance God's purposes.
