

PRIMARY FOCUS

Direct Facilitation of Learning (Instructional Component)

- High quality teachers
- Improved academic assessment systems
- Standards-based instruction
- Staff development

- Shared governance
- Improved data collection systems
- Increased accountability
- Building level budget control & management
- Flexible funding

Governance, Resources, & Operations (Management Component)

SECONDARY/MARGINALIZED FOCUS

Addressing Barriers to Learning & Teaching (Not a unified component)

Districts and schools have a variety of marginalized interventions that are implemented in a fragmented manner. They are not well integrated with each other or with the instructional and management components.

• A few examples are:

- School-wide positive behavioral supports and interventions
- Response to intervention
- Safe Schools, Healthy Students Program
- Coordinated School Health Program
- Full Service Community Schools Initiatives
- School Based Health Centers
- Specialized instructional support services
- Compensatory and special education interventions
- Bullying prevention
- Family Resource Centers
- Foster Child and Homeless Student Education

Despite the fact that student and learning supports are essential, they are developed as a comprehensive system and are not treated in school improvement policy and practice as a primary component of school improvement.
