Migration and Education in a Multicultural World U. Kelly, 2009-02-16 Arising from the legacies of the twentieth century unprecedented worldwide migration unrelenting global conflict and warring unchecked materialist consumption and unconscionable environmental degradation are important questions about the toll of loss such changes exact individually and collectively As large scale and ubiquitous as these changes are their deep specificity re inscribes the importance of place as a critical construct Attending to such specificity emphasizes the interconnections between contexts and broader movements and remains a prudent route to articulating critical interconnections among places and peoples in complex times This book of essays turns to such specificity as a means to examine the inflections of migration on identity displacement disorientation loss and difference as sites of both regression and possibility Fusing autobiography and cultural analysis it provides a framework for a critical education attuned to such concerns

Identity Matters Donna LeCourt, 2012-02-01 Identity Matters explores the question that consistently plagues composition teachers why do their pedagogies so often fail Donna LeCourt suggests that the answer may lie with the very identities values and modes of expression higher education cultivates In a book that does precisely what it theorizes LeCourt analyzes student written literacy autobiographies to examine how students interact with and challenge cultural theories of identity This analysis demonstrates that writing instruction does indeed matter and has a significant influence on how students imagine their potential in both academic and cultural realms LeCourt paints not only a compelling and vexing picture of how students interact with academic discourse as both mind and body but also offers hope for a
