Schools Where Children Matter Exploring Educational Alternatives:

Schools where Children Matter Doralice Lange DeSouza Rocha, 2003 A comparison of three quite different schools that practice holistic approaches to education Educating for Wisdom and Compassion John P. Miller, 2005-07-20 A clearly written concise and inspired book Lourdes Arguelles Professor of Education and Cultural Studies Claremont Graduate University Blending philosophy research and three decades of practice the author offers an engaging discussion of essential principles of timeless learning including attention contemplation connection participation responsibility wholeness and joy Educators in today's schools can apply these principles models and methods to inform instruction in their own classrooms and teaching practices Some of the benefits timeless learning can bring include Helping students develop deep joy wholeness awe and wonder and a sense of purpose Improving attention alertness perception and memory Using meditation and contemplation to help reduce stress anxiety heart rate and blood pressure Sustaining the Writing Spirit Susan A. Schiller, 2014-03-04 Sustaining the Writing Spirit Holistic Tools for School and Home second edition is aimed at all educators at school or home seeking non traditional ways to enliven the growth potential of the whole learner Schiller urges educators to accept a holistic orientation for learning one that combines the physical social emotional and spiritual with the intellect rather than primarily basing learning on the intellect Included are details on background historical development and philosophical explanations of holistic education including a timeline of key people and ideas This new edition also addresses sustainability and spirituality as the core of holistic learning and the teaching activities provide context and processes for writing that encourage activating multiple intelligences It also has a cross disciplinary quality and could be used in a number of educational settings Learning to Teach Natalie G. Adams, Christine Mary Shea, Delores D. Liston, Bryan Deever, 2006-08-15 This text is designed to assist preservice and inservice teachers in creating a critical and reflective dialogue with themselves their assigned classroom cultures and the larger school environment It engages readers in a series of classroom and school based activities observations and exercises that can be used in any teacher education course with a field component Different from other field experience guides this text aims to disrupt traditional conceptions of teacher education and field experiences by emphasizing the problematic nature and dynamics of public schooling and encouraging readers to seek a greater awareness of their own attitudes toward and connections with these educational processes Learning to Teach A Critical Approach to the Field Experience Second Edition dramatically reconceptualizes the field experience by asking preservice and inservice teachers to be active and critical researchers of classroom practices and processes provides a coherent framework for analyzing both structural and cultural aspects of schooling provides specific exercises to help preservice and inservice teachers evaluate and understand the intersections of race class gender and culture in real life school settings and grounds the observations of everyday school life within critical feminist and poststructuralist discourses New in the Second Edition A new section No Child Left Untested has been added to help

preservice teachers explore the implications of a very changed post September 11 world in which xenophobia violence patriotism citizenship and democracy have taken on new meanings The introduction to the book as a whole the section introductions the retained activities in existing sections and the references have been thoroughly updated Crossing Borders, Drawing Boundaries Barbara Couture, Patti Wojahn, 2016-03-01 With growing anxiety about American identity fueling debates about the nation's borders ethnicities and languages Crossing Borders Drawing Boundaries provides a timely and important rhetorical exploration of divisionary bounds that divide an Us from a Them The concept of border calls for attention and the authors in this collection respond by describing it challenging it confounding it and at times erasing it Motivating us to see anew the many lines that unite divide and define us the essays in this volume highlight how discourse at borders and boundaries can create or thwart conditions for establishing identity and admitting difference Each chapter analyzes how public discourse at the site of physical or metaphorical borders presents or confounds these conditions and consequently effective participation a key criterion for a modern democracy The settings are various encompassing vast public spaces such as cities and areas within them the rhetorical spaces of history books museum displays activist events and media outlets and the intimate settings of community and classroom conversations Crossing Borders Drawing Boundaries shows how rich communication can be when diverse cultures intersect and create new opportunities for human connection even while different populations cultures age groups and political parties adopt irreconcilable positions It will be of interest to scholars in rhetoric and literacy studies and students in rhetorical analysis and public discourse Contributors include Andrea Alden Cori Brewster Robert Brooke Randolph Cauthen Jennifer Clifton Barbara Couture Vanessa Cozza Anita C Hernandez Roberta J Herter Judy Holiday Elenore Long Jos A Montelongo Karen P Peirce Jonathan P Rossing Susan A Schiller Christopher Schroeder Tricia C Serviss Monica Torres Kathryn Valentine Victor Villanueva and Patti Wojahn

The Charter School Experience Michael Bitz, 2016-10-26 The Charter School Experience Voices from the Field is a unique book that presents readers with balanced perspectives from teachers students parents and school leaders at charter schools across the United States Through first person narratives the book highlights the delicate intricacies of what makes a school charter succeed or fail Unlike a book written by academics far removed from the practice of education this book gives voice to the people most impacted by charters the families and educators who have embraced these schools for better or worse and who now have enriching stories to tell These experiences embodied in introspective and moving chapters go well beyond the news headlines and politicized studies that have spotlighted charters in the past In this book teachers highlight their successes and failures in charter school classrooms parents explore decisions to enroll in charters school leaders discuss the social missions of charters and students write about how charter schools have impacted their lives The result is an engaging collection of ideas for a wide audience including people researching attending and making policy on charter schools in the United States and around the world
