around the world      I Won't Let You Go Rabindranath Tagore, 2010 Poetry Book Society Recommended Translation

Rabindranath Tagore 1861-1941 is India's greatest modern poet and the most brilliant creative genius produced by the Indian Renaissance. As well as poetry, he wrote songs, stories, and novels, plays, essays, memoirs, and travelogues. He was both a restless innovator and a superb craftsman, and the Bengali language attained great beauty and power in his hands. He created his own genre of dance drama and is one of the most important visual artists of modern India. He won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1913. Tagore's poetry has an impressive wholeness, a magnificent loving warmth, a compassionate humanity, a delicate sensuousness, an intense sense of kinship with nature, and a burning awareness of man's place in the universe. He moves with effortless ease from the literal to the symbolic, from the part of the whole to a tiny detail to the vast cosmos. He is religious in the deepest sense, wavering between a faith that sustains the spirit in times of crisis or fills it with energy and joy in times of happiness, and a profound questioning that can find no enduring answers. To him, the earth is a vulnerable mother who clings to all her offspring, saying, "I won't let you go to the tiniest blade of grass that springs from her womb, but who is powerless to prevent the decay and death of her children." This is the revised and enlarged second edition of a substantial selection of Tagore's poems and songs, translated with an illustrated introduction, notes, and glossary by the bilingual writer Ketaki Kushari Dyson, who lives in Oxford. Poet, novelist, playwright, translator, linguist, and critic, she is one of the outstanding Bengali writers of her generation and has published more than thirty titles in her two languages, including acclaimed scholarly works on Tagore.

Rabindranath Tagore, 2005-03-31 The poems of Rabindranath Tagore 1861-1941 are among the most haunting and tender in Indian and in world literature, expressing a profound and passionate human yearning. His ceaselessly inventive works deal with such subjects as the interplay between God and the world, the eternal and the transient, and with the paradox of an endlessly changing universe that is in tune with unchanging harmonies. Poems such as "Earth" and "In the Eyes of a Peacock" present a picture of natural processes unaffected by human concerns, while others, as in "Recovery 14," convey the poet's bewilderment about his place in the world. And exuberant works such as "New Rain" and "Grandfather's Holiday" describe Tagore's sheer joy at the glories of nature or simply in watching a grandchild play.
