Asian Interventions in Global Shakespeare

Poonam Trivedi, Paromita Chakravarti, Ted Motohashi, 2020-11-16 This volume critically analyses and theorises Asian interventions in the expanding phenomenon of Global Shakespeare. It interrogates Shakespeare's universality from Asian perspectives: how this has been modified or even replaced by the global bard as a recognisable brand and how Asian Shakespeares have contributed to or subverted this process by both facilitating the worldwide dissemination of the bard's plays and challenging and resisting the very templates through which they become globally legible. Critically acclaimed Asian productions have prominently figured at premier Western festivals and popular Asian appropriations like Bollywood, manga and anime have created new kinds of globally accessible Shakespeare. Essays in this collection engage with the emergent critical issues: the efficacy of definitions of the local/global/transnational and cosmopolitan and of the liminalities and mobilities in between. They further examine the politics of West and East, the evolving markers of the Asian and the equation of the global with the Asian, they attend to performance and archiving protocols and bring the current debates on translation, appropriation and world literature to speak to the concerns of global and transnational Shakespeare. These investigations analyse recent innovative Asian theatre productions, popular cinematic and manga appropriations and the increasing presence of Shakespeare in the Asian digital sphere. They provide an Asian standpoint and lens in rereading the processes of cultural globalisation and the mobilisation of Shakespeare.

Edinburgh Critical Edition of the Selected Writings of Andrew Lang, Volume 1 Lang Andrew Lang, 2015-05-22 The Selected Works of Andrew Lang Volume 1 Anthropology Fairy Tale Folklore the Origins of Religion Psychical Research Edited by Andrew Teverson Alexandra Warwick and Leigh Wilson This is the first critical edition of the works of Andrew Lang 1844-1912 the Scottish writer whose enormous output spanned the whole range of late nineteenth century intellectual culture. Neglected since his death partly because of the diversity of his interests and the volume of his writing his cultural centrality and the interdisciplinary nature of his work make him a vital figure for contemporary scholars. This volume covers Lang's wide and influential engagement with the central areas of late nineteenth century anthropology. Lang made decisive interventions in debates around the meaning of folk tales and the origins of religion as well as being an important figure in the investigation of spiritualist claims through psychical research. The work reproduced here includes journalism, essays, extracts from books and previously unpublished letters which together articulate and challenge some of the central ideas and discussions of the period including evolution, the relation between modern and non-modern cultures, the nature of scientific claims to truth and the consequences of materialism. The volume will provide new and illuminating ways of understanding and assessing the period for scholars across a range of disciplines including those interested in the histories of the fairy story, of science, of the occult, of colonialism and of anthropology. Key Features: Unpublished archival material; Critical introductions to the major areas of his work; Full explanatory notes. Andrew Teverson is Professor of English Literature and Associate Dean for the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences at Kingston University London. His research centres on the use and meaning of fairy tales and he has published both on the employment of them in contemporary writing and on the historical development of the form He is the author of Fairy Tale Routledge 2013 Alexandra Warwick is Professor of English Studies and Head of the Department of English Linguistics and Cultural Studies at the University of Westminster Her research is on Victorian culture in particular the fin de siècle Leigh Wilson is Reader in Modern Literature in the Department of English Linguistics and Cultural Studies at the University of Westminster Her research focuses on modernism on the place of supernatural and occult beliefs and practices in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and on the contemporary British novel She is the author of Modernism and Magic Experiments with Spiritualism Theosophy and the Occult EUP 2013

Central and Eastern European Literary Theory and the West Michał Mrugalski, Schamma Schahadat, Irina Wutsdorff, 2022-12-05 Literary theory flourished in Central and Eastern Europe throughout the twentieth century but its relation to Western literary scholarship is complex This book sheds light on the entangled histories of exchange and influence both within the region known as Central and Eastern Europe and between the region and the West The exchange of ideas between scholars in the East and West was facilitated by both personal and institutional relations both official and informal encounters For the longest time however intellectual exchange was thwarted by political tensions that led to large parts of Central and Eastern Europe being isolated from the West A few literary theories nevertheless made it into Western scholarly discourses via exiled scholars Some of these scholars such as Mikhail Bakhtin become widely known in the West and their thought was transposed onto new Western cultural contexts others such as Olga Freidenberg were barely noticed outside of Russian and Poland This volume draws attention to the schools circles and concepts that shaped the development of theory in Central and Eastern Europe as well as the histoire croisée the history of translations transformations and migrations that conditioned its relationship with the West

McKeon, 1998 Richard McKeon was a philosopher of extraordinary creativity who brought profoundly original ideas to bear on more standard ways of thinking and learning A classicist medievalist and revolutionary intellectual he fashioned an approach to philosophy as a plural conversation among varied traditions of thought epochs and civilizations This second volume of McKeon's selected works demonstrates his approach to inquiry and practice in culture education and the arts Together the writings in this book show how McKeon reinvented the ancient arts of rhetoric grammar logic and dialectic for the new circumstances of a global culture In essays on creation and criticism for instance rhetoric is distinguished from grammar and shown to be the master art of invention judgment and pluralistic interpretation Writings on themes of culture meanwhile explore the self-invention of mankind as justification for the arts the development of the humanities and the organization of the sciences In the closing essays on education and philosophy McKeon considers the implications of his ideas for the future of the liberal arts and

A Rhetoric of Aesthetic Power Christian Kock, 2024-10-18 This book offers a theory of those formal properties of art that are apt to afford strong aesthetic experience a project resembling Aristotle's in the Poetics where he analysed structures in tragedies that condition the peculiar pleasure of tragedy However the book's scope cuts across all genres of literature and also includes classical music the formal art par excellence Drawing on a wide array of recent theoretical work and empirical evidence the book closely analyses dozens of examples of both art forms Besides Aristotle major inspiration comes from two modern master thinkers the linguist Roman Jakobson who defined the poetic function of language and the rhetorician Kenneth Burke who proposed a psychological concept of form Throughout the book argues for aesthetic experience as an end in itself and a component of quality of life one to which everyone should have access rather than just a means to other ends
