Canadian Heroine, Volume 3 Harry Coghill, 2007-06-15 Mr Leigh was in a very depressed and anxious mood His late conversations with Mrs Costello had disturbed him and broken up the current of his thoughts and even to some extent of his usual occupations without producing any result beneficial to either of them She had told him a strange and almost incredible story of her life and then just when he was full of sympathy and eagerness to be of use to her everything seemed suddenly to have changed and the events that followed had been wholly as it were out of his reach He thought over the matter with a little sensation which if he had been less simple and generous a man might have been offence Even as it was he felt uncomfortably divided between his real interest in his old friends and a temptation to pretend that he was not interested at all He remembered too with a serio comical kind of remorse the manner in which he had spoken to Mrs Costello about Maurice He was obliged to confess to himself that Maurice had never said a word to him which could be taken as expressing any other than a brotherly feeling of regard for Lucia he had certainly fancied that there was another kind of affection in his thoughts but it was no part of the old soldier s code of honour to sanction the betrayal of a secret discovered by chance and he felt guilty in remembering how far the warmth of his friendship had carried him

British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement, 1896-1913 Dean Pavlakis, 2016-03-09 The Congo Free State was under the personal rule of King Leopold II of the Belgians from 1885 to 1908 The accolades that attended its founding were soon contested by accusations of brutality oppression and murderous misrule but the controversy by itself proved insufficient to prompt changes Starting in 1896 concerned men and women used public opinion to influence government policy in Britain and the United States to create space for reforming forces in Belgium itself to pry the Congo from Leopold s grasp and implement reforms Examining key factors in the successes and failures of a pivotal movement that aided the colonized people of the Congo and broadened the idea of human rights British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement provides a valuable update to scholarship on the history of humanitarianism in Africa The Congo Reform movement built on the institutional experience of overseas humanitarianism the energy of evangelical political involvement and innovations in racial imperial and nationalist discourse to create political energy Often portrayed as the efforts of a few key people especially E D Morel this book demonstrates that the movement increasingly manifested itself as an institutionalized and transnational campaign with support from key government officials that ultimately made a material difference to the lives of the people of the Congo The Publishers Weekly , 1881
