Shaw Industries A History:

Shaw Industries Randall L. Patton, 2002 Shaw Industries which is based in Dalton Georgia is the nation's leading textile manufacturer and the world's largest producer of carpets This history focuses on the evolution of Shaw's business strategy and its adaptations to changing economic conditions Randall L Patton chronicles Shaw's rise to dominance by drawing on corporate records industry data and interviews with Shaw employees and management including Robert E Shaw the only CEO the company has known in its more than thirty years Patton situates Shaw within both the overall context of Sunbelt economic development and the unique circumstances behind the success of the tufted carpet industry in northwest Georgia After surveying the state of the carpet industry nationwide at the end of World War II Patton then tells the Shaw story from the boom years of 1955-1973 through the transitional decade of 1973-1982 the consolidation phase of the 1980s and early 1990s and the new economy of the mid to late 1990s Throughout Patton shows Shaw's drive has always been toward vertical integration controlling the outside forces that could affect its bottom line He tells for instance how Shaw built its own trucking fleet and became its own yarn supplier all to the company's advantage He also relates less successful ventures most notably Shaw's attempt at direct retailing The picture emerges of a company proud of its image as a steady and profitable business surviving in a competitive industry Patton traces the history of Shaw Industries from its start as a family owned operation through its growth into a multinational corporation that recently joined Warren Buffett's holding company Berkshire Hathaway The Shaw saga has much to tell us about the continuing vitality of old economy manufacturers

Carpet Capital Randall L. Patton, 2003-12-01 After World War II the carpet industry came to be identified with the Dalton region of northwest Georgia Here entrepreneurs hit upon a new technology called tufting which enabled them to take control of this important segment of America s textile industry previously dominated by woven wool carpet manufacturers in the Northeast Dalton now dominates carpet production in the United States manufacturing 70 percent of the domestic product and prides itself as the carpet capital of the world Carpet Capital is a story of revolutionary changes that transformed both an industry and a region Its balanced and candid account details the rise of a home grown southern industry and entrepreneurial capitalism at a time when other southern state and local governments sought to attract capital and technology from outside the region The book summarizes the development of the American carpet industry from the early nineteenth century through the 1930s In describing the tufted carpet boom it focuses on Barwick Mills Galaxy Mills and Shaw Industries as representative of various phases in the industry s history It tells how owners coordinated efforts to keep carpet mills unorganized despite efforts of the Textile Workers Union of America by promoting a vision of the future based on individual ambition rather than collective security Randall L Patton and David B Parker show that Dalton has evolved in much the same way as California s Silicon Valley experiencing both a rapid expansion of new firms started by entrepreneurs who had apprenticed in older firms and an air of cooperation both among owners and between mills and local government Their close examination of this industry provides important insights for scholars and business leaders alike enhancing our appreciation of entrepreneurial achievement and broadening our understanding of economic growth in the modern South
