African American Foreign Correspondents Jason Berry, 2000-09-01 Since the late 1970s Louisiana a state long known for outrageous politicians has witnessed a blossoming of the arts and their enthusiastic reception by a national and even world wide audience From John Kennedy Toole's A Confederacy of Dunces to James Lee Burke's detective Dave Robicheaux from singers Fats Domino and Aaron Neville to jazz patriarch Ellis Marsalis and his music making family from George Rodrigue's blue dog to Chef Paul Prudhomme's transcendent cooking the list is long for Louisiana talent Louisiana Faces documents in images and words the human texture of this remarkable renaissance not only the painters sculptors chefs musicians poets and writers who create the art but also the ordinary people who in their daily and seasonal rhythms inform that art Some are living legends others well kept secrets all have a place and a face at the feast Philip Gould confirms his own part in the renaissance with the 125 stunning portraits in Louisiana Faces Gould's lively poignant photographs capture a range of personalities in timeless settings that mirror the larger culture whether masked riders in a Cajun carnival or jazzmen playing a street funeral Writer Jason Berry complements Gould's images with a probing witty essay that explores the parallels between art and life Using a meld of interviews anecdotes history and commentary Berry treats outsized political figures and pop culture celebrities as a parade of inspiration for Louisiana artists

The Professor and the Profession Robert Bechtold Heilman, 1999 Robert Bechtold Heilman is one of the last survivors of a remarkable generation of American critics that included such literary giants as Cleanth Brooks Allen Tate it is a reflection upon American literary history itself In the first section of essays The Self Displayed Heilman reveals how he developed from a small town boy into a distinguished critic touching upon his love of baseball football along the way Writers Portrayed Literary Types Problems Inspected the following sections offer his opinions on the past on the current state of American literary criticism including personal portraits of such renowned friends as Eric Voegelin Robert Penn Warren Theodore Roethke Malcolm Cowley The final section Education Examined is an enlightening inquiry into the development of American universities in the twentieth century A fascinating chronicle of a significant academic life The Professor the Profession will appeal to a broad array of scholars from young academics wanting to know where they came from to those of Heilman s generation who can appreciate this personal reminiscence into the world of letters The Land We Love ,1866 The Publishers Weekly ,1903 Love and Duty Angela Esco Elder,2022-03-10 Between 1861 and 1865 approximately 200 000 women were widowed by the deaths of Civil War soldiers They recorded their experiences in diaries letters scrapbooks and pension applications In Love and Duty Angela Esco Elder draws on these materials as well as songs literary works and material objects like mourning gowns to explore white Confederate widows stories examining the records of their courtships marriages loves and losses to understand their complicated relationship with the Confederate state Elder shows how in losing their husbands many women acquired significant cultural capital which positioned them as unlikely actors to gain political influence Confederate officialdom championed a particular image of white widowhood the young wife who selflessly transferred her monogamous love from her dead husband to the deathless cause for which he d fought But a closer look reveals that these women spent their new cultural capital with great shrewdness and variety Not only were they aware of the social status gained in widowhood they also used that status on their own terms turning mourning into a highly politicized act amid the battle to establish the Confederacy s legitimacy Death forced all Confederate widows to reconstruct their lives but only some would choose to play a role in reconstructing the nation Poole's Index to Periodical Literature William Isaac Fletcher,Mary Poole,1903

Poole's Index to Periodical Literature: Fourth supplement, January 1, 1897-January 1, 1902 William Frederick Poole,William Isaac Fletcher,1903 An index to periodical literature. 4th suppl., Jan.1,1897- Jan.1, 1902, by W.I. Fletcher and M. Poole William Frederick Poole,1903 Haiti and the Haitian Diaspora in the Wider Caribbean Philippe Zacaïr,2010-04-18 During the past ten years political debates legal disputes and rising violence associated with the presence of Haitian migrants have flared up throughout the Caribbean basin in such places as Guadeloupe the Dominican Republic French Guiana the Bahamas and Jamaica The contributors to this volume explore the common thread of prejudice against the Haitian diaspora as well as its potential role in the construction of national narratives from a comparative and interdisciplinary perspective These essays written by historians anthropologists sociologists and Francophone studies scholars examine how Haitians interact as an immigrant group with other parts of the Caribbean as well as how they are perceived and treated particularly in terms of ethnicity and race in their migration experience in the broader Caribbean By discussing the prevalence of anti Haitianism throughout the region alongside the challenges Haitians face as immigrants this volume completes the global view of the Haitian diaspora saga
