On Solov'yev's View of Love and its Affinities with Proclus and Maximus the Confessor Paraskevi Zacharia, 2025-09-20 This dissertation explores the concept of love in the work of Russian philosopher Vladimir Solov'yev 1853-1900 with a focus on two of his writings La Sophia 1875-1876 and Smysl lyubvi The Meaning of Love 1892-1894 The author analyzes how the concept of Sophia wisdom as a feminine divine force and the idea of All-Unity a universal all-encompassing unity converge in Solov'yev's deeper philosophical theological vision of love The study connects Solov'yev's ideas to those of the Neoplatonist Proclus and the Christian Church Father Maximus the Confessor The central research questions are what is the relationship between love and Sophia in Solov'yev's thought and which Neoplatonic and Patristic elements influenced his conception of love The author argues that The Meaning of Love does not explicitly mention the name Sophia but implicitly describes a Sophianic reality in which love fulfills a theurgical function This reality has three dimensions philosophical religious mystical and social Through comparisons with Proclus and Maximus the author shows how Solov'yev develops a unique integrative vision in which love leads to the unification of the individual humanity and the divine This research offers an original approach to Solov'yev's thought with particular attention to mystical experience metaphysical love and the striving for wholeness It fills a gap in the existing literature by systematically exploring the connection between love Sophia and the influence of Proclus and Maximus

Paraskevi Zacharia 1983 studied Classical Languages in Athens and later Russian She obtained her PhD at Radboud University with a dissertation on Solov'yev's philosophy of love She has published on theology mysticism and Neoplatonism taught students and presented internationally She is an active member of various academic networks and received several fellowships including OIKOS the International Society for Neoplatonic
