

The background of the poster is a dramatic night sky with a full moon in the upper left. A large, dark, conical object, possibly a parachute or a piece of aircraft, is falling from the top right, with a bright orange and yellow flame or fire trailing behind it. Below the sky, a dark, silhouetted landscape is visible, featuring a winding road or path that leads towards a distant, brightly lit area. The overall tone is somber and mysterious.

The East German border:
836 miles of barbed-wire walls,

The Metaphysics of Action David-Hillel Ruben, 2018-06-25 In this book the author provides an account of three central ideas in the philosophy of action trying to act acting or doing and one s action causing further consequences In all three cases novel theories of these phenomena are offered trying to act is not a particular mental or physical act but can be explained using conditionals that action is not the same as causing something to happen and in the case of a special but important subset of actions for example the opening of a window the action is identical to the event of the window s opening A result of this last account is that it places actions out in the world sometimes far removed in time and space from the actor s body The world is full of action actions do not just exist in the many little islands of space and time that all of our bodies inhabit In the final chapter Ruben describes and discusses a skeptical challenge to the idea that we can ever know whether or not someone else has acted rather than just passive events having happened to that person

Derek Mahon: A Retrospective Nicholas Grene, Tom Walker, 2024-09-17 Derek Mahon 1941 2020 is widely recognized as one of the most important Irish poets of his generation This collection of new critical essays offers an important retrospective assessment of the nature of his poetic achievement Bringing together many leading scholars of modern and contemporary Irish poetry including a notable number of accomplished poet critics its contributors range widely across Mahon s body of work Their essays offer fresh considerations of the biographical geographical and literary contexts that shaped his poetic voice This includes paying attention not only to more familiar influences but also to previously little considered interlocutors The stylistic and formal achievement of his voice is re evaluated in ways that range from attentive close readings to considerations of his controversial practice of self revision and his engagements with music and experiments in translation The politics of a poet often misleadingly considered apolitical are also reframed to take in the engagements of his early work through to the ecocritical commitment of his later poetry Indeed a notable aspect of this book is the consideration it gives to all the phases of Mahon s career As a whole the collection opens up many new ways of reading and understanding Mahon s important body of work

When the World Turned Upside-Down Kathleen Starck, 2009-10-02 This collection of essays explores post 1989 Western perceptions of Eastern Europe and how these manifest themselves in cultural representations It starts out from findings in the academic field of post socialism claiming that Easterners and Westerners are still very much under the influence of the socialisation they underwent during the Cold War and its aftermath As a consequence the revolutions of 1989 and 1990 and the subsequent opportunities for exchange did not necessarily bring about a reconciliation of the different worldviews It seems the East West divide has not simply vanished with the collapse of socialism The essays included in this book examine in how far the divide is mirrored in the cultural arena They focus on portrayals of post 1989 Eastern European political and social transformations in Western poetry fiction travel writing autobiography theatre and documentaries and investigate the West's fascination with the Wild East and how outsiders view or have experienced Eastern life after the iron curtain was lifted

The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
