Tribes and Empire on the Margins of Nineteenth-Century Iran Arash Khazeni,2011-06-01 Tribes and Empire on the Margins of Nineteenth Century Iran traces the history of the Bakhtiyari tribal confederacy of the Zagros Mountains through momentous times that saw the opening of their territory to the outside world As the Qajar dynasty sought to integrate the peoples on its margins into the state the British Empire made commercial inroads into the once inaccessible mountains on the frontier between Iran and Iraq The distance between the state and the tribes was narrowed through imperial projects that included the building of a road through the mountains the gathering of geographical and ethnographic information and the exploration for oil which culminated during the Iranian Constitutional Revolution These modern projects assimilated autonomous pastoral nomadic tribes on the peripheries of Qajar Iran into a wider imperial territory and the world economy Tribal subjects did not remain passive amidst these changes in environment and society however and projects of empire in the hinterlands of Iran were always mediated through encounters accommodation and engagement with the tribes In contrast to the range of literature on the urban classes and political center in Qajar Iran Arash Khazeni adopts a view from the Bakhtiari tents on the periphery Drawing upon Persian chronicles tribal histories and archival sources from London Tehran and Isfahan this book opens new ground by approaching nineteenth century Iran from its edge and placing the tribal periphery at the heart of a tale about empire and assimilation in the modern Middle East Nomads Of South Persia

Michael Casimir, Aparnu Rao,2021-01-07 Territorial behaviour among various herders and hunter gatherers has been discussed in earlier studies but this is the first time that a comparison of these three types of mobile populations has been attempted The original papers presented in this volume discuss the conditions and problems of securing access to resources among pastoralists peripatetics and hunting gathering and fishing communities in Africa Asia Europe and the Middle East A comprehensive introductory chapter places these empirical studies in a broader theoretical context of the behavioural sciences African Seminars Various Authors,2021-02-25 Originally published between 1986 and 1989 the 8 volumes in this set reflect the research and debate surrounding many issues for the African economy society and culture and as such make a vital contribution to effective development both rural and urban They re issue key titles from the International African Library and the International African Seminars and address themes of direct relevance to contemporary Africa on topics as diverse as medicine migration housing pastoralism and marriage

Pastoralists of the West African Savanna Mahdi Adamu,A. H. M. Kirk-Greene,2018-09-03 Originally published in 1986 this volume deals with various aspects of the life of the pastoralists who live in the area between what was Senegambia and Cameroon. It analyses the changing relations between pastoralists and agricultural peoples and the changes that pastoral societies are undergoing with urbanisation, increased central government control and the spread of market relations. The papers are in both English and French and include historical studies of aspects of the history of Adamawa, the Fulani, the Twareg, the Shuwa Arabs and the Koyam in pre-colonial times. There is also a survey of the state of Fula language studies and the variety of Fula literature, discussions of the changing nature of pastoralism and the nomadic way of life in Cameroon, Senegal and Nigeria including the effects of drought.

Babatha's Orchard Philip F. Esler, 2017-02-09 In 1961 archaeologists discovered a family archive of legal papyri in a cave near the Dead Sea where their owner, the Jewish woman Babatha, had hidden them in 135 CE at the end of the Bar Kokhba revolt. Babatha's Orchard analyzes the oldest four of these papyri to argue that underlying them is a hitherto undetected and surprising train of events concerning how Babatha's father Shim'on purchased a date palm orchard in Maoza on the southern shore of the Dead Sea in 99 CE that he later gave to Babatha. The central features of the story untold for two millennia relate to how a high Nabatean official had purchased the orchard only a month before but suddenly rescinded the purchase and how Shim'on then acquired it in enlarged form from the vendor. Teasing out the details involves deploying the new methodology of archival ethnography combined with a fresh scrutiny of the papyri written in Nabatean Aramaic to investigate the Nabatean and Jewish individuals mentioned and their relationships within the social, ethnic, economic and political realities of Nabatea at that time. Aspects of this context which are thrown into sharp relief by Babatha's Orchard include the prominence of wealthy Nabatean women and their husbands' financial reliance on them, the high returns and steep losses possible in date cultivation, the sophistication of Nabatean law and lawyers, the lingering effect of the Nabateans' nomadic past in lessening the social distance between elite and non-elite and the good ethnic relations between Nabateans and Jews.

The Cambridge History of Iran W. B. Fisher, William Bayne Fisher, 1968-10 Volume I is devoted to the geography, geology, anthropology, economic life and flora and fauna, setting the physical stage for the human events which follow.

Daily Life, Materiality, and Complexity in Early Urban Communities of the Southern Levant Meredith S. Chesson, 2011-06-30 This volume emerges from a session honoring Walter E. Rast and R. Thomas Schaub held during the 2003 Annual Meeting of the American Schools of Oriental Research in Atlanta, Georgia, and includes expanded versions of many of the papers presented in that session. By gathering in Atlanta and by participating in this volume, the contributors honor the careers and scholarly passions of Walt and Tom, whose work in southern Levantine archaeology began in the 1960s when they were young scholars working with Paul Lapp. The breadth and depth of experience of the contributors, disciplinary and theoretical interests, reflects the shared influence of and esteem for Walt and Tom's own scholarly gifts as archaeologists, mentors, collaborators and intellectual innovators. The primary disciplinary homes for the scholars contributing to this volume encompass a broad range of methods and approaches to learning about the past anthropological archaeology Near Eastern archaeology biblical archaeology and physical anthropology Their institutional homes include universities and institutes in Canada Denmark Israel Jordan Sweden the United Kingdom and the United States their theoretical homes include the broadly conceived archaeological frameworks of culture history processualism and post processualism Collectively these papers reflect the enormous breadth of influence that Tom s and Walt s scholarly contributions have made to EB studies Walt and Tom shared a gift that many have benefited from gentle listening questioning and pushing for more sophisticated analyses of Early Bronze Age life Their eager engagement of younger scholars as well as their involvement with their peers arises from their dedication to listening well devoting time to others ideas and perspectives and a generous willingness to give freely to others out of the rich depths of their lifelong scholarly pursuits and profound understanding of the Early Bronze Age archaeology and life in general Many of the contributors to this volume have gained greater understanding because of Walt s and Tom s gift of listening keen insights and bottomless enthusiasm for learning more about the past and the present in the southern Levant The 18 essays presented here are to honor both men for these gifts both to the discipline of archaeology and to so many of us engaged in that intellectual endeavor

Arab Masculinities Konstantina Isidoros, Marcia C. Inhorn, 2022-01-04 Arab Masculinities provides a groundbreaking analysis of Arab men s lives in the precarious aftermath of the 2011 Arab uprisings It challenges received wisdoms and entrenched stereotypes about Arab men offering new understandings of masculinity across the Middle East and North Africa The 10 individual chapters of the book foreground the voices and stories of Arab men as they face economic precarity forced displacement and new challenges to marriage and family life Rich in ethnographic details they illuminate how men develop alternative strategies of affective labor how they attempt to care for themselves and their families within their local moral worlds and what it means to be a good son husband father and community member Arab Masculinities sheds light on the most private spaces of Arab men s lives offering stories that rarely enter the public realm It is a pioneering volume that reflects the urgent need for new anthropological scholarship on men and masculinities in a changing Middle East

Tribal Politics in Iran Stephanie Cronin, 2007-01-24 Placing Iran s tribal problem in its historical context this innovative and important work provides an overall assessment of tribal politics in the Riza Shah period challenging conventional political and scholarly approaches to tribal politics

Nomadic Peoples and Human Rights Jérémie Gilbert, 2014-03-26 Although nomadic peoples are scattered worldwide and have highly heterogeneous lifestyles they face similar threats to their mobile livelihood and survival Commonly nomadic peoples are facing pressure from the predominant sedentary world over mobility land rights water resources access to natural resources and migration routes Adding to these traditional problems rapid growth in the extractive industry and the need for the exploitation of the natural resources are putting new strains on nomadic lifestyles This book provides an innovative rights based approach to the issue of nomadism looking at issues including discrimination persecution freedom of movement land rights cultural and political rights and effective management of natural resources Jeremie Gilbert analyses the extent to which human rights law is able to provide protection for nomadic peoples to perpetuate their own way of life and culture The book questions whether the current human rights regime is able to protect nomadic peoples and highlights the lacuna that currently exists in international human rights law in relation to nomadic peoples It goes on to propose avenues for the development of specific rights for nomadic peoples offering a new reading on freedom of movement land rights and development in the context of nomadism
