Badshah Khan Eknath Easwaran,2001 Gandhi and Bin Laden James L. Rowell,2009-08-05 No two figures could seem further removed than Mohandas K Gandhi and Osama bin Laden Gandhi advocated an inclusive religious perspective and believed that the highest ideals in religion led to the path of absolute nonviolence In contrast Bin Laden has concocted a militant and exclusive interpretation of Islam and tried to justify some of the most barbarous acts of terrorism witnessed at the turn of the century Can both men be equally religious figures As leaders of movements of political protest do they have any points of similarity Moreover how can the religious philosophy of nonviolence respond to its nemesis which takes life so easily and casually These and other important questions are explored in this work that examines the lives and ideas of Mohandas K Gandhi and Osama bin Laden as well as that of Abdul Ghaffar Khan a refreshing nonviolent representative of Islam ISLAM'S PEACEFUL WARRIOR: ABDUL GHAFFAR KHAN

It generally appears in the context of violence waged against the West by militants in or from Muslim majority societies. This usage overwhelmingly colors popular discourse about Islam and Muslims and it has resulted in highly simplistic distorted and ahistorical understandings of the concept of jihad. For most Muslims, jihad refers to the continuous human struggle to promote and implement what is morally good and noble in all walks of life as well as to resist and prevent what is morally wrong and unjust. This book addresses the great need for a discussion of jihad that explores its various dimensions without fear mongering or sensationalism. Here it is examined from multiple perspectives: scriptural, theological, moral and ethical, legal and socio-political. Asma Afsaruddin looks at the key questions about jihad and provides concise yet thorough answers. Jihad: What Everyone Needs to Know R provides a historically grounded, scholarly yet accessible treatment of the meanings of jihad from the formative period of Islam until the contemporary period. Global counter-terrorism Sagnik Dutta, Tahir Abbas, Sylvia I. Bergh, 2025-02-25. This collection aims to inaugurate a new direction in research on counterterrorism by exploring global connections both in terms of practices and discourses as well as shared ideas and epistemes that animate counterterrorism practices. The chapters grouped under the themes of postcoloniality and coloniality and entanglements of the transnational and the local and counterterrorism and right wing extremism are attentive to global connections and are mindful of the complexities of global historical processes that constitute the politics of counterterrorism. This book aims to bring together scholars studying counterterrorism in the global North and the global South to explore convergence and divergence in how counterterrorism policies function in a range of national and local contexts. Is Religion Killing Us? Jack Nelson-Pallmeyer, 2015-08-27. Coverage of recent world events has focused on violence associated with Islam. In this courageous and controversial book, Jack Nelson-Pallmeyer claims that this narrow view ignores the broader and unfortunate relationship between human violence and the sacred texts of Jews, Christians, and Muslims. Both the Bible and the Quran, he believes, are riddled with violent images of God and with passages that can be reasonably interpreted to justify violence against enemies in service to God's will. According to Nelson-Pallmeyer, many wondered how Muslims could in God's name kill innocent civilians by flying airplanes into the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. Few, however, questioned U.S. leaders and citizens invoking God's name or assuming God's favor to fight the responsive war against terrorism. And in the Middle East, the roots of the continuing and seemingly unsolvable conflict and violence are to be found in both the Torah and the Quran. Nelson-Pallmeyer challenges the understanding of power that lies at the heart of the sacred texts of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. He argues that nonviolence is powerful and necessary and that a viable future for human beings and the planet depends on challenging the ways in which sacred texts reinforce visions of power that are largely abusive. A viable future, he says, depends on re-visioning God's power. Jack Nelson-Pallmeyer is Assistant Professor of Justice and Peace Studies at the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota. For more than twenty years, he has studied and written about the relationship of religion, violence, and peace, and his books include Jesus Against Christianity. Reclaiming the Missing Jesus.
