Religious And Philosophical Aspects Of The Laozi:

Religious and Philosophical Aspects of the Laozi Mark Csikszentmihalyi, P. J. Ivanhoe, Chair Professor of East Asian and Comparative Philosophy and Religion and Director of the Center for East Asian and Comparative Philosophy (Ceacop) Philip J Ivanhoe, 1999-01-01 Leading scholars examine religious and philosophical dimensions of the Chinese classic known as the Daodejing or Laozi

An Introduction to Daoist Philosophies Steve Coutinho, 2013-11-05 Steve Coutinho explores in detail the fundamental concepts of Daoist thought as represented in three early texts the Laozi the Zhuangzi and the Liezi Readers interested in philosophy yet unfamiliar with Daoism will gain a comprehensive understanding of these works from this analysis and readers fascinated by ancient China who also wish to grasp its philosophical foundations will appreciate the clarity and depth of Coutinho's explanations Coutinho writes a volume for all readers whether or not they have a background in philosophy or Chinese studies A work of comparative philosophy this volume also integrates the concepts and methods of contemporary philosophical discourse into a discussion of early Chinese thought The resulting dialogue relates ancient Chinese thought to contemporary philosophical issues and uses modern Western ideas and approaches to throw new interpretive light on classical texts Rather than function as historical curiosities these works act as living philosophies in conversation with contemporary thought and experience Coutinho respects the multiplicity of Daoist philosophies while also revealing a distinctive philosophical sensibility and he provides clear explanations of these complex texts without resorting to oversimplification

Dao Companion to Daoist Philosophy Xiaogan Liu, 2014-10-27 This is the first comprehensive companion to the study of Daoism as a philosophical tradition It provides a general overview of Daoist philosophy in various thinkers and texts from 6th century BCE to 5th century CE and reflects the latest academic developments in the field It discusses theoretical and philosophical issues based on rigorous textual and historical investigations and examinations reflecting both the ancient scholarship and modern approaches and methodologies The themes include debates on the origin of the Daoism the authorship and dating of the Laozi the authorship and classification of chapters in the Zhuangzi the themes and philosophical arguments in the Laozi and Zhuangzi their transformations and developments in Pre Qin Han and Wei Jin periods by Huang Lao school Heguanzi Wenzi Huainanzi Wang Bi Guo Xiang and Worthies in bamboo grove among others Each chapter is written by experts and specialists on the topic discussed

Zhuangzi (Longman Library of Primary Sources in Philosophy) Chuang Tzu, 2016-09-16 Part of the Longman Library of Primary Sources in Philosophy this translation edition of Chuang Tzu's works is framed by a pedagogical structure designed to make this important work of philosophy more accessible and productive for undergraduates

Historical Dictionary of Daoism Ronnie L. Littlejohn, 2019-11-29 Daoism is the oldest indigenous philosophic spiritual tradition of China and one of the most ancient of the world's spiritual structures The name Daoism comes from the term dao which means a way or a road through the field or woods to one's village It also means the way to do something such as how a master craftsman carves wood makes a bell or even butchers an ox But dao is also a nominative in the history of Daoism referring to the energizing process that permeates and animates all of reality and moves it along However both text and practice in this tradition insist that dao itself cannot be described in words it is not God in the sense of Western philosophy or religion Daoism has no supreme being even if there is an extensive grammar about nominally self conscious entities and powers for which the Chinese use the word spirit shen For example the highest powers of Daoism are variously called Taishang Laojun the deified Laozi the Celestial Worthy of Primordial Beginning Yuanshi tianzun the Jade Emperor Yuhuang Shangdi or the Perfected Warrior Zhenwu But these are expressions of dao in specific shen they are not identical to Dao except in the most unique case when Laozi the putative founder of Daoism and author of its major work Daodejing is said to be one with the dao Historical Dictionary of Daoism contains a chronology an introduction appendixes an extensive bibliography and more than 400 cross referenced entries related to the Chinese belief and worldview known as Daoism including dozens of Daoist terms names and practices This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Daoism

Contemplative Literature Louis Komjathy, 2015-08-31 This is the first theoretically informed and historically accurate comparative anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer Written by international experts on the respective texts and corresponding traditions Contemplative Literature provides introductions to and primary sources on contemplative practice from various religious traditions The contributors explore classical Daoist apophatic meditation Quaker silent prayer Jewish Kabbalah Southern Buddhist meditation Sufi contemplation Eastern Orthodox prayer Pure Land Buddhist visualization Hindu classical Yoga Dominican Catholic prayer Daoist internal alchemy and modern therapeutic meditation Each introduction to a contemplative text discusses its historical context the associated religious tradition and literature the method of contemplative practice and the text's legacy and influence Volume editor Louis Komjathy opens the work with a thoughtful consideration of interpretive issues in the emerging interdisciplinary field of contemplative studies Readers will gain not only a nuanced understanding of important works of contemplative literature but also resources for understanding contemplative practice and contemplative experience from a comparative and cross cultural perspective

The Oxford Handbook of Process Philosophy and Organization Studies Jenny Helin, Tor Hernes, Daniel Hjorth, Robin Holt, 2014-05-15 Process approaches to organization studies focus on flow activities and evolution understanding organizations and organizing as processes in the making They stand in contrast to positivist approaches that see organizations and phenomena as fixed static and measurable Process approaches draw on a range of ideas and philosophies The Handbook examines 34 philosophers and social theorists both those commonly linked to process thinking such as Whitehead Bergson and James and those that are not as often addressed from a process perspective such as Dilthey and Tarde Each chapter addresses the background and context of this thinker their work with a focus on the processual elements and the potential contribution to organization and management research For students and scholars in the field of

Organization Studies this book is an entry point into the work of philosophical thinkers and social theorists for whom the world is far from being a solid place

Learning from Chinese Philosophies Karyn Lai, 2016-04-22 Learning from Chinese Philosophies engages Confucian and Daoist philosophies in creative interplay developing a theory of interdependent selfhood in the two philosophical traditions Karyn Lai draws on the unique insights of the two philosophies to address contemporary debates on ethics community and government Issues discussed include questions on selfhood attachment moral development government culture and tradition and feminist queries regarding biases and dualism in ethics Throughout the book Lai demonstrates that Chinese philosophies embody novel and insightful ideas for addressing contemporary issues and problems

Constructive Engagement of Analytic and Continental Approaches in Philosophy Bo Mou, Richard Tieszen, 2013-05-01 From the vantage point of comparative philosophy and with the goal of cross tradition constructive engagement this anthology explores how analytic and Continental approaches in philosophy as understood broadly and presented in the Western and other traditions can learn from each other and jointly contribute to the contemporary development of philosophy on a range of issues The volume includes 14 essays which are organized into two parts respectively on analytic and Continental approaches in and beyond the Western tradition The anthology also includes the volume editors specific introductions to the two parts as well as a general introduction to the whole volume

Teaching the Daode Jing Gary Delaney DeAngelis, Warren G. Frisina, 2008-04-10 The Daode Jing a highly enigmatic work rooted in ancient Chinese cosmology ontology metaphysics and moral thinking is regularly offered to college and high school students in religion philosophy history literature Asian studies and humanities courses As a result an ever expanding group of faculty with very different backgrounds and training routinely confront the question How should I teach the Daode Jing Written for non specialists who may not have a background in ancient Chinese culture the essays collected in this volume provide up to date information on contemporary scholarship and classroom strategies that have been successful in a variety of teaching environments A classic text like the Daode Jing generates debate among scholars and teachers who ask questions like Should we capitalize on popular interest in the Daode Jing in our classrooms Which of the many translations and scholarly approaches ought we to use Is it appropriate to think of the Daode Jing as a religious text at all These and other controversies are addressed in this volume Contributors are well known scholars of Daoism including Livia Kohn Norman Girardot Robert Henricks Russell Kirkland Hans Georg Moeller Hall Roth and Michael LaFargue In addition there are essays by Eva Wong Daoist practitioner David Hall philosophy Gary DeAngelis mysticism and a jointly written essay on pedagogical strategies by Judith Berling Geoffrey Foy and John Thompson Chinese religion

Confucianism and Catholicism Michael R. Slater, Erin M. Cline, Philip J. Ivanhoe, 2020-05-31 Confucianism and Catholicism among the most influential religious traditions share an intricate relationship Beginning with the work of Matteo Ricci 1552 1610 the nature of this relationship has generated great debate These ten essays synthesize in a single volume this historic conversation Written by specialists in both traditions the essays are organized into two groups Those in the first group focus primarily on the historical and cultural contexts in which Confucianism and Catholicism encountered one another in the four major Confucian cultures of East Asia China Vietnam Korea and Japan The essays in the second part offer comparative and constructive studies of specific figures texts and issues in the Confucian and Catholic traditions from both theological and philosophical perspectives By bringing these historical and constructive perspectives together Confucianism and Catholicism Reinventing the Dialogue seeks not only to understand better the past dialogue between these traditions but also to renew the conversation between them today In light of the unprecedented expansion of Eastern Asian influence in recent decades and considering the myriad of challenges and new opportunities faced by both the Confucian and Catholic traditions in a world that is rapidly becoming globalized this volume could not be more timely Confucianism and Catholicism will be of interest to professional theologians historians and scholars of religion as well as those who work in interreligious dialogue Contributors Michael R Slater Erin M Cline Philip J Ivanhoe Vincent Shen Anh Q Tran S J Donald L Baker Kevin M Doak Xueying Wang Richard Kim Victoria S Harrison and Lee H Yearley Spirit, Qi, and the Multitude Hyo-Dong Lee, 2013-11-11 We live in an increasingly global interconnected and interdependent world in which various forms of systemic imbalance in power have given birth to a growing demand for genuine pluralism and democracy As befits a world so interconnected this book presents a comparative theological and philosophical attempt to construct new underpinnings for the idea of democracy by bringing the Western concept of spirit into dialogue with the East Asian nondualistic and nonhierarchical notion of qi The book follows the historical adventures of the idea of qi through some of its Confucian and Daoist textual histories in East Asia mainly Laozi Zhu Xi Toegye Nongmun and Su un and compares them with analogous conceptualizations of the ultimate creative and spiritual power found in the intellectual constellations of Western and or Christian thought namely Whitehead s Creativity Hegel s Geist Deleuze s chaosmos and Catherine Keller s Tehom The book adds to the growing body of pneumatocentric Spirit centered panentheistic Christian theologies that emphasize God s liberating equalizing and pluralizing immanence in the cosmos Furthermore it injects into the theological and philosophical dialogue between the West and Confucian and Daoist East Asia which has heretofore been dominated by the American pragmatist and process traditions a fresh voice shaped by Hegelian postmodern and postcolonial thought This enriches the ways in which the pluralistic and democratic implications of the notion of qi may be articulated In addition by offering a valuable introduction to some representative Korean thinkers who are largely unknown to Western scholars the book advances the study of East Asia and Neo Confucianism in particular Last but not least the book provides a model of Asian contextual theology that draws on the religious and philosophical resources of East Asia to offer a vision of pluralism and democracy A reader interested in the conversation between the East and West in light of the global reality of political oppression economic exploitation and cultural marginalization will find this book informative engaging and enlightening The Gulen Hizmet Movement and

Its Transnational Activities Sophia Pandya, Nancy Gallagher, 2012 This volume of essays on the Gulen or Hizmet service movement a Turkish Sufi Muslim and humanitarian civil society group looks at the recent activities of its followers to practice their form of Islam and carry out collective interfaith projects at the international level It adds to the newly burgeoning discourse by focusing on the ways in which participants challenge ideological and sectarian boundaries Included are essays which discuss how the movement is organized structured and institutionalized in many parts of the world explore Turkey's global influence evaluate criticisms of the movement and suggest directions for further research While most previous scholarly attention has focused on the theological and philosophical ideas of Fethullah Gulen the movement's inspirational figure less attention has been paid to the ways in which participants have interpreted and carried out Gulen's messages in the contemporary world

The Quest for God and the Good Diana Lobel, 2011 Lobel crosses Eastern and Western philosophical and religious traditions to discover a beauty and purpose at the heart of reality that makes life worth living This title does not treat philosophy as an abstract theoretical discipline but as living experience

Fortune and the Dao Jason P. Blahuta, 2015-04-16 Times of prolonged conflict spur great minds to seek a lasting peace Thus was the case of Warring States China which saw the rise of the Hundred Schools of Thought including the Daojiao and the Han Feizi and Renaissance Italy which produced Niccol Machiavelli Witnessing their respective societies fall prey to internal corruption and external aggression all three thinkers sought ways to produce a strong stable state that would allow both the leader and the populace to endure Fortune and the Dao A Comparative Study of Machiavelli the Daojiao and the Han Feizi demonstrates where the shortcomings of each theory lie with emphasis on the similarities among Machiavelli Laozi and Han Feizi Jason P Blahuta ultimately argues that if Machiavelli's philosophy the most comprehensive of the three theories were supplemented by aspects of the Daojiao the revision would potentially overcome the deficiencies of the original

The Analects: A Guide Erin M. Cline, 2021-10-05 The Analects Lunyu is the earliest and most influential record of the teachings of Kongzi 551-479 B C E known to most Westerners as Confucius If we measure influence according to the number of people who have lived their lives according to the teachings of a particular text there is a good argument to be made that the Analects has been the most influential text in the world This book argues that we have good reasons to study the Analects as a sacred text and that doing so sheds light not only on the text and the Confucian tradition but on what the sacred is more broadly It begins by examining what it means for a text to be regarded as sacred in relation to the unique history of this remarkably influential book and goes on to offer a close study of the Analects including its structure its composition and compilation and the purpose it has served in the Confucian tradition as the earliest and most authoritative record of Kongzi's teachings and conduct The book further considers the history of the Analects as the most authoritative collection of Confucian teachings which virtually all major Confucians as well as Chinese thinkers throughout history from the Mohist Daoist and Buddhist traditions responded This book explores the text situating its teachings in relation to the religious practices of its time including Zhou rituals and customs known as li and the veneration of ancestor and nature spirits and discusses the Analects use and reception both in the periods following its composition and compilation and throughout China's imperial history up through the modern era including the recent revival of activity in Confucian temples Transcendence and Non-Naturalism in Early Chinese Thought Alexis McLeod, Joshua R. Brown, 2020-09-03 Contemporary scholars of Chinese philosophy often presuppose that early China possessed a naturalistic worldview devoid of any non natural concepts such as transcendence Challenging this presupposition head on Joshua R Brown and Alexis McLeod argue that non naturalism and transcendence have a robust and significant place in early Chinese thought This book reveals that non naturalist positions can be found in early Chinese texts in topics including conceptions of the divine cosmogony and apophatic philosophy Moreover by closely examining a range of early Chinese texts and providing comparative readings of a number of Western texts and thinkers the book offers a way of reading early Chinese Philosophy as consistent with the religious philosophy of the East and West including the Abrahamic and the Brahmanistic religions Co written by a philosopher and theologian this book draws out unique insights into early Chinese thought highlighting in particular new ways to consider a range of Chinese concepts including tian dao li and you wu
