Handbook of Religious Culture in Nineteenth-Century Europe Anthony Steinhoff, Jeffrey Zalar, 2024-12-30 This handbook offers a guide to research on religious culture during Europe's long nineteenth century 1800-1914 Grounded in the latest theoretical approaches and in line with trends that have produced a religious turn in the study of modern Europe the volume assesses the state of the field while making provocative recommendations for its enlargement Unique and ambitious in its thematic breadth it addresses the histories of all five of Europe's main religious traditions Eastern Orthodox Christianity Judaism Islam Protestantism and Roman Catholicism and brings these histories into comparative analysis This analysis extends to a wide range of subjects from popular belief and practice education and modern knowledge formation and the arts to the intersections between religion and urbanization civil society and politics and missions and imperialism It also evaluates recent developments in work on religion vis vis both gender and nationalism while calling attention to newer research that proposes secularism as a form of belief in its own right Presenting the scholarship of eighteen leaders in their respective fields the volume explains why religion as a topic of research has moved from the periphery to the center of modern European historiography

Sarajevo, 1941-1945 Emily Greble, 2011-02-25 On April 15 1941 Sarajevo fell to Germany's 16th Motorized Infantry Division The city along with the rest of Bosnia was incorporated into the Independent State of Croatia one of the most brutal of Nazi satellite states run by the ultranationalist Croat Ustasha regime The occupation posed an extraordinary set of challenges to Sarajevo's famously cosmopolitan culture and its civic consciousness these challenges included humanitarian and political crises and tensions of national identity As detailed for the first time in Emily Greble's book the city's complex mosaic of confessions Catholic Orthodox Muslim Jewish and ethnicities Croat Serb Jew Bosnian Muslim Roma and various other national minorities began to fracture under the Ustasha regime's violent assault on Serbs Jews and Roma contested categories of identity in this multiconfessional space tearing at the city's most basic traditions Nor was there unanimity within the various ethnic and confessional groups some Catholic Croats detested the Ustasha regime while others rode to power within it Muslims quarreled about how best to position themselves for the postwar world and some cast their lot with Hitler and joined the ill fated Muslim Waffen SS In time these centripetal forces were complicated by the Yugoslav civil war a multisided civil conflict fought among Communist Partisans Chetniks Serb nationalists Ustasas and a host of other smaller groups The absence of military conflict in Sarajevo allows Greble to explore the different sides of civil conflict shedding light on the ways that humanitarian crises contributed to civil tensions and the ways that marginalized groups sought political power within the shifting political system There is much drama in these pages In the late days of the war the Ustasha leaders realizing that their game was up turned the city into a slaughterhouse before fleeing abroad The arrival of the Communist Partisans in April 1945 ushered in a new revolutionary era one met with caution by the townspeople Greble tells this complex story with remarkable clarity Throughout she emphasizes the measures that the city's leaders took to preserve against staggering odds the cultural and religious pluralism that had long enabled the city's diverse populations to thrive together

Education and Civic Culture in Post-Communist Countries S. Webber, I. Liikanen, 2016-01-20 The vivid discussion on civil society in Eastern Europe that flourished during the late 1980s and early 1990s has faded somewhat and been partly replaced by new attempts to conceptualise the nature of social change taking place in these countries This book strives to continue and go beyond the civil society discourse by analysing the interrelationship between education and civic culture in post communist countries The volume offers detailed case studies written by specialists from the region and from Western Europe and North America examining everyday patterns of civic culture the linkage between education and national identity ethnicity gender and religion the experience and attitudes of youth and attempts to render education systems better suited to the demands of post communist society

Russian Nationalism and the Politics of Soviet Literature S. Cosgrove, 2004-01-29 Russian nationalism increasingly important as the Russian Federation finds its place in the world is not a new phenomenon Who were the Russian nationalists before the creation of today's Russia What were their views What was their political influence This book seeks answers to these questions by looking in detail at the last decade of the USSR through the eyes of a group of Russian nationalist intellectuals gathered around the literary journal Nash sovremennik The author suggests that in the Twenty first century a specifically Russian type of nationalism ethnic and statist could provide the ideological underpinning for a new authoritarianism

A Handbook of Biblical Reception in Jewish, European Christian, and Islamic Folklores Eric Ziolkowski, 2017-08-21 This first volume of a two volume Handbook treats a challenging largely neglected subject at the crossroads of several academic fields biblical studies reception history of the Bible and folklore studies or folkloristics The Handbook examines the reception of the Bible in verbal folklores of different cultures around the globe This first volume complete with a general Introduction focuses on biblically derived characters tales motifs and other elements in Jewish

Mizrahi Sephardi Ashkenazi Romance French Romanian German Nordic Scandinavian British Irish Slavic East West South and Islamic folkloric traditions The volume contributes to the understanding of the Hebrew Bible Old Testament the New Testament and various pseudepigraphic and apocryphal scriptures and to their interpretation and elaboration by folk commentators of different faiths The book also illuminates the development artistry and migration of folktales opens new areas for investigation in the reception history of the Bible and offers insights into the popular dimensions of Jewish Christian and Muslim communities around the globe especially regarding how the holy scriptures have informed those communities popular imaginations

Civil War in Poland 1942-1948 A. Prazmowska, 2004-07-29 This challenging new work uses archival research to examine Poland's government in exile during the Second World War as it sought both to fight against the advances of Germany and the Soviet Union and to prepare for the moment when it would once more be possible to establish a national Polish government The author suggests that the Poles were as much at war with themselves throughout the war and in the years immediately following the end of hostilities as they were with the German and Soviet forces Civil War in Poland 1942-1948 contributes to the debate on the fate of Poland in this complex period the origins of Communist regimes in Eastern Europe and the process of transformation in Europe during and since the Second World War

Colonialism and Christianity in Mandate Palestine Laura Robson, 2011-09-01 Drawing on a rich base of British archival materials Arabic periodicals and secondary sources Colonialism and Christianity in Mandate Palestine brings to light the ways in which the British colonial state in Palestine exacerbated sectarianism By transforming Muslim Christian and Jewish religious identities into legal categories Laura Robson argues the British ultimately marginalized Christian communities in Palestine Robson explores the turning points that developed as a result of such policies many of which led to permanent changes in the region's political landscapes Cases include the British refusal to support Arab Christian leadership within Greek controlled Orthodox churches attempts to avert involvement from French or Vatican related groups by sidelining Latin and Eastern Rite Catholics and interfering with Arab Christians efforts to cooperate with Muslims in objecting to Zionist expansion Challenging the widespread but mistaken notion that violent sectarianism was endemic to Palestine Colonialism and Christianity in Mandate Palestine shows that it was intentionally stoked in the wake of British rule beginning in 1917 with catastrophic effects well into the twenty first century

Hugh Eteriano, Contra Patarenos Bernard Hamilton, 2004-12-01 The Pisan scholar Hugh Eteriano was adviser on western church affairs to Manuel Comnenus and lived in Constantinople from c 1165-82 where he encountered an heretical group among the western inhabitants of the city which prompted him to write the Contra Patarenos Patarenos was an alternative name for Cathars and this text is of considerable importance to an understanding of the relationship between the western Cathars and older Byzantine dualist movements Hugh's treatise is here published for the first time in a text established from the two extant manuscripts together with a commentary and translation a biography of the author and an historical introduction about the place of Hugh's treatise in the history of Christian dualism

Christendom, c.1050-1614 Brian A. Catlos, 2014-03-20 Through crusades and expulsions Muslim communities survived for over 500 years thriving in medieval Europe This comprehensive study explores how the presence of Islamic minorities transformed Europe in everything from architecture to cooking literature to science and served as a stimulus for Christian society to define itself Combining a series of regional studies Catlos compares the varied experiences of Muslims across Iberia southern Italy the Crusader Kingdoms and Hungary to examine those ideologies that informed their experiences their place in society and their sense of themselves as Muslims This is a pioneering new narrative of the history of medieval and early modern Europe from the perspective of Islamic minorities one which is not as we might first assume driven by ideology isolation and decline but instead one in which successful communities persisted because they remained actively integrated within the larger Christian and Jewish societies in which they lived New Medieval Literatures David Lawton, Rita Copeland, Wendy Scase, 2003-12 New Medieval Literatures is an annual containing the best new interdisciplinary work in medieval textual studies Volume 6 deals in depth with one of the most important of medieval vernacular writers Geoffrey Chaucer his closest successor Thomas Hoccleve and his most important precursor in England Marie de France

Performing Identity and Gender in Literature, Theatre and the Visual Arts Panayiota Chrysochou, 2017-03-07 This volume presents a compelling range of chapters focusing on the myriad ways in which performance and gender are inextricably bound to identity It shows how gender performance and identity play themselves out in various ways contexts and genres in order to illumine the very instability and fluidity of identity as a static category As such it is a must read for anyone interested in gender studies identity politics and literature in general Diversity in the Workplace Dr Stefan Gröschl, 2012-08-28 Most regions and countries in the world are experiencing increasingly diverse populations and labour markets While the causes may vary the challenges businesses face due to a heightened awareness of this diversity are often similar Internally organisations promote diversity and manage increasingly heterogeneous workforces accommodate and integrate employees with different value and belief systems and combat a range of different forms of discrimination with organisational and also societal consequences Externally organisations have to manage demands from government consumer and lobbying sources for the implementation of anti discrimination policies and laws This has generated demand for appropriate higher level teaching programmes and for more diversity focused research Diversity in the Workplace responds to the increasing social and political debate and interest in diversity throughout Europe The contributors discuss the concept of diversity in different social and legal contexts and from the perspectives of different academic disciplines including sociology anthropology psychology philosophy and organizational theory The book includes a European view and the makings of a conceptual framework to literature on diversity that hitherto has tended to be US orientated and overwhelmingly practice focused It will stimulate fruitful exchanges of ideas about different approaches to the challenges faced by businesses and organisations of all kinds With chapters by authors involved in research into diversity issues at leading academic institutions across Europe this book offers much that will interest academics researchers and higher level students as well as practitioners wanting to understand managing workforce diversity affirmative action programmes and anti discriminatory policy and practice in a wider context

Sikhs in Europe Kristina Myrvold, 2016-04-01 Sikhs in Europe are neglected in the study of religions and migrant groups previous studies have focused on the history culture and religious practices of Sikhs in North America and the UK but few have focused on Sikhs in continental Europe This book fills this gap presenting new data and analyses of Sikhs in eleven European countries examining the broader European presence of Sikhs in new and old host countries Focusing on patterns of migration transmission of traditions identity construction and cultural representations from the perspective of local Sikh communities this book explores important patterns of settlement institution building and cultural transmission among European Sikhs

Migration in the Western Balkans Russell King, Nermin Oruc, 2020-05-21 Migration in the Western Balkans rectifies the under investigation by migration scholars of the Western Balkans region by bringing together recent research at a time when migration is a hot topic for the future of Europe The book explores issues such as the complex geopolitics of the region the relationship between migration and development diasporas and refugees and humanitarianism Expert contributors present new research on economic migration forced migration diaspora formation and return migration at a time when migration is of crucial relevance for the future of Europe The chapters shed new light on the multiple migration dynamics of a region which has had a troubled past yet stands on the threshold of EU membership As a theatre of multiple migration processes Migration in the Western Balkans reveals new information on the region and will be of great interest to scholars of migration the Balkans and geopolitics The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Balkan and Near Eastern Studies
