Education and the Mobility Turn Kalervo N. Gulson, Colin Symes, 2018-12-18

The mobile turn in human geography, sociology, and cultural studies has resulted in a hitherto unparalleled focus on the critical role that mobility plays in conserving and regenerating society and culture. In this instance, mobility refers not just to the physical movement of goods and people's ideas and symbols; it can also be analytically applied to the technologies used to facilitate their movement. One such technology is education, which has yet to fall under the purview of the mobility lens. Something that this collection endeavours to redress. Its contributing authors, drawn from Canada, Australia, the United States, and the United Kingdom, explore salient issues relating to education and mobility. These include studies of the career implications for academics of moving across borders; the impact of university study on prison populations; policy, mobility, and the charter school movement; affect theory and policy development in Canada; educational advertising on Sydney trains and stations; and the employment mobile approaches to track policy development and implementation. One notable feature of the mobility turn is the willingness of its adoptees to explore innovative research methods. Various demonstrations of the efficacy and cogency of autoethnography, affect theory, textual ethnography, and human geography for a mobility-empowered education analytics; this collection is no exception. This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Studies in Education.
