Rem Koolhaas Projects For Prada:

Architecture and the Image at the Turn of the 21st Century Sanja Rodeš, 2024-06-28 This book examines architecture image and media relationships as productive for architecture and architectural discourses By arguing that the relationships between architecture and media cannot be dismissed via linear criticism of architecture and media or image these relations are instead seen as a part of a sphere a mediasphere of complex relationships In lieu of anything like a consensus on the contemporary condition of architecture referring to the late twentieth and the twenty first centuries the starting point of this book is that the relationships between architecture media and images continue to multiply owing to continuous technological advancements Contemporary architecture considered in this book is related to the selected circumstances of high visibility where architectural images are propelled into visibility and conflated with non architectural images This takes architecture outside of architectural only discourse and into the public realm By granting higher visibility to both the architectural images and architecture in the public realm architecture can also be influenced by the various perceptions of the general public and can enter public consciousness via non architectural media With increased visibility architecture s far reaching presence calls for more structured analysis of its nature and potential As the analysed architecture in this book is associated with the discourses outside of architecture some of which relate to terrorism natural disaster and branding and consumption the limits of contemporary architectural discipline are questioned and extended This book is written for academics and students in architectural history theory and criticism particularly those interested in visual and media studies

Fashion and Art Adam Geczy, Vicki Karaminas, 2013-08-15 For at least two centuries fashion and art have maintained a competitive love hate relationship Both fashion and art construct imaginary worlds and use a language of style to invigorate beliefs perceptions and ideas Until now the crossovers of fashion and art have received only scattered treatment and suffered from a dearth of theorization As an attempt to theorize the area this collection of new and updated essays is the most well rounded and authoritative to date Some of the world s foremost scholars in the field are assembled here to explore the art fashion nexus in numerous ways from aesthetics and performance to masquerade and media Original and inspiring this book will not only secure art fashion as a discrete area of study but also suggest new critical pathways for exploring their continuing cross pollination Fashion and Art is essential reading for students and scholars of fashion art history and theory cultural studies and related fields

Merchants of Style Natasha Degen, 2023-05-17 Looking at Andy Warhol s legacy as maker and muse this book offers a critical examination of the coalescence of commerce and style Merchants of Style explores the accelerating convergence of art and fashion looking at the interplay of artists and designers and the role of institutions both public and commercial that have brought about this marriage of aesthetic industries The book argues that one figure more than any other anticipated this moment Andy Warhol Beginning with an overview of art and fashion s deeply entwined histories and then picking up where Warhol left off Merchants of Style tells the story of art s emboldened forays into commerce and fashion's growing embrace of art. As the two industries draw closer together than ever before, this book addresses urgent questions about what this union means and what the future holds. Designing

Pornotopia Rick Poynor, 2006 Following the discussion of Poynor's previous anthology Obey the Giant, Designing Pornotopia covers a wide area of subjects from magazines, billboard advertising, branding, illustration, photography, tattoos, and music graphics to architecture and includes interviews with architect Rem Koolhaas and maverick American graphic designer and performance artist Elliott Earls. Along the way, Poynor reassesses the early work of Peter Saville and tracks the seemingly unstoppable rise of Stefan Sagmeister among other graphic designers. Poynor's concise, riveting prose constantly challenges the reader with strong and through provoking arguments. Architecture for a Free Subjectivity Dr Simone

Brott, 2013-06-28 Architecture for a Free Subjectivity reformulates the French philosopher Gilles Deleuze's model of subjectivity for architecture by surveying the prolific effects of architectural encounter and the spaces that figure in them. For Deleuze and his Lacanian collaborator Félix Guattari, subjectivity does not refer to a person but to the potential for and event of matter becoming subject and the myriad ways for this to take place. By extension, this book theorizes architecture as a self-actuating or creative agency for the liberation of purely impersonal effects. Imagine a chemical reaction, a riot in the banlieues; indeed, a walk through a city. Simone Brott declares that the architectural object does not merely take part in the production of subjectivity but that it constitutes its own. This book is to date the only attempt to develop Deleuze's philosophy of subjectivity in singularly architectural terms. Through a screening of modern and postmodern American and European works, this provocative volume draws the reader into a close encounter with architectural interiors, film scenes, and other arrangements while interrogating the discourses of subjectivity surrounding them and the evacuation of the subject in the contemporary discussion. The impersonal effects of architecture radically change the methodology just as it reimagines architectural subjectivity for the twenty-first century. The Asian Modern C. J. Wan-ling Wee, 2007 How does one comprehend the phenomenon of the modernization of an Asian society in a globalized East Asian context? With this opening question, the author proceeds to give an account of how the modernization processes for postcolonial societies in Asia, such as those of India, Malaysia, and Singapore, are fraught with collaborations and conflicts between different socio-political, historical, economic, and cultural agents. The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit, understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves. The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience, introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces. Organized into three parts, this book begins with foundational concerns such as place, identity, materiality, and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia, virtuality, and social justice. Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory, supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading Drawing on a wide range of scholarship The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition Accessible to students useful to professionals and provocative for scholars The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life

Commodification And Spectacle in Architecture William S. Saunders, More than ever architectural design is seen as a means to promote commercial goals rather than as an end in itself Frank Gehry s Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao for example simply cannot be considered apart from its intended role as a catalyst for the economic revitalization of Bilbao and its ability to attract tourist dollars regardless of its architectural merits A built environment intended to seduce consumers is more likely to offer instant gratification than to invite independent thought and reflection But how harmful if at all is this unprecedented commercialization of architecture Framed with a provocative introduction by Kenneth Frampton the contributions to Commodification and Spectacle in Architecture stake out a variety of positions in the debate over the extent to which it is possible or desirable to escape from resist or suggest plausible alternatives to the dominant culture of consumer capitalism Rejecting any dreamy nostalgia for an idealized present or past in which design is completely divorced from commerce and in some cases celebrating the pleasures of spectacle the individual essays range from indictments of particular architects and critiques of the profession to broader concerns about what the phenomenon of commodification means for the practice of democracy and the health of society Bringing together an impressive and varied group of critics and practitioners Commodification and Spectacle in Architecture will help to sharpen the discussion of how design can respond to our hypercommodified culture Contributors Michael Benedikt Luis Fernandez Galiano Thomas Frank Kevin Ervin Kelley Daniel Naeyegele Rick Poyner Michael Sorkin Wouter Vanstiphout William S Saunders is editor of Harvard Design Magazine and assistant dean for external relations at the Harvard Design School He is the author of Modern Architecture Photographs by Ezra Stoller Kenneth Frampton is Ware Professor of Architecture at Columbia University Graduate School of Architecture Planning and Preservation and author of many books including Labour Work and Architecture
