Remembering Milton Catherine Hakim,1992-11-30 Re-membering Milton Mary Nyquist,Margaret W. Ferguson,2019 Re-membering Milton Mary Nyquist,Margaret W. Ferguson,2019-01-03 First published in 1987 Passionately praised and equally passionately criticised by contemporary and later writers the figure of Milton inherited by the twentieth century is by no means unified despite the appearance of monumental unity his work sometimes acquires in the classroom and in academic criticism This collection of essays gathers together disparate and often conflicting representations of Milton as author and cultural figure Critics familiar with the traditions of Milton scholarship and with debates in literary theory reconstruct Milton from evidence provided by his own prose and poetry by his contemporaries including some little known women writers by Romantics such as Blake and Wordsworth and finally by a tradition of Afro American writing that reflects Milton s influence in ways previously unexamined by critics The process of reconstruction can also be seen as a process of re membering The volume draws inspiration from but also interrogates the figure used in Areopagita to describe the quest for truth Likening Truth to the dismembered body of Osiris Milton urges Truth s friends to seek up and down gathering limb by limb the body scattered through time and space Re membering Milton includes work by established critics from both sides of the Atlantic Together these contributors place Milton and different Milton traditions firmly within the arenas of modern critical debate As a result the collection will be of interest to a wide range of readers scholars concerned with Milton and Renaissance literature and history advanced undergraduates and graduate students researchers in women s studies and all readers generally concerned with trends in literary and cultural theory Milton's Late Poems Lee Morrissey,2022-08-25 Upending conventional scholarship on Milton and modernity Lee Morrissey recasts Paradise Lost Paradise Regained and Samson Agonistes as narrating three alternative responses to a world in upheaval adjustment avoidance and antagonism Through incisive engagement with narrative form and genre Morrissey shows how each work considered specifically as a fiction grapples with the vicissitudes of a modern world characterised more by paradoxes ambiguities subversions and shifting temporalities than by any rigid historical periodization The interpretations made possible by this book are as invaluable as they are counterintuitive opening new definitions and stimulating avenues of research for Milton students and specialists as well as for those working in the broader field of early modern studies Morrissey invites us to rethink where Milton stands in relation to the greatest products of modernity and in particular to that most modern of genres the novel Fuseli's Milton Gallery Luisa Cale,2006-12-21 Fuseli s Milton Gallery challenges the antipictorial theories and canons of Romantic period culture Between 1791 and 1799 Swiss painter Henry Fuseli turned Milton s Paradise Lost into a series of 40 pictures Fuseli s project and other literary galleries developed within an expanding market for illustrated books and a culture of anthologization used to reading British and other classics in terms of the visualization of key moments in the text Thus transformed into repositories of virtual pictures literary texts became ideal

sources of subjects for painters Illustrating British literature was a way of inventing a national grand style to fit the needs of a consumer society Cale calls into question the separation of reading and viewing as autonomous aesthetic practices To turn readers into spectators meant to place readers and reading within the dizzying world of associations offered by an emerging culture of exhibitions Attending to the energized reading effects developed by Fuseli's Gallery we rediscover a new side of the Romantic imagination which is not the solitary mentalist experience preferred by Wordsworth and Coleridge nor divorced from the senses let alone a refuge from the crowded public spaces of the Revolutionary period Rather Fuseli's embodied aesthetic exemplifies the associationist psychology espoused by the radical circle convening around the publisher Joseph Johnson including Joseph Priestley and Mary Wollstonecraft This book analyses exhibitions as important sites of Romantic sociability and one of many interrelated mediums for the literature debates and controversies of the Revolutionary period

A Companion to Milton Thomas N. Corns, 2008-04-15 The diverse and controversial world of contemporary Milton studies is brought alive in this stimulating Companion Winner of the Milton Society of America's Irene Samuels Book Award in 2002 Invites readers to explore and enjoy Milton's rich and fascinating work Comprises 29 fresh and powerful readings of Milton's texts and the contexts in which they were created each written by a leading scholar Looks at literary production and cultural ideologies issues of politics gender and religion individual Milton texts other relevant contemporary texts and responses to Milton over time Devotes a whole chapter to each major poem and four to Paradise Lost Conveys the excitement of recent developments in the field A Search for Meaning Paula Harms Payne, 2004 In its exploration of drama poetry and prose this collection of nine essays invites students teachers and scholars to rethink their evaluations of Shakespeare Milton Sidney Jonson and other British writers of the Early Modern period Using a formalist approach A Search for Meaning establishes new critical perspectives that are dependent on close readings of the text and current secondary research and which carefully consider reader's reactions Milton and the Jews Douglas A. Brooks, 2008-03-31 The issue of the Jews deeply engaged Milton throughout his career and not necessarily in ways that make for comfortable or reassuring reading today While Shakespeare and Marlowe for example critiqued rather than endorsed racial and religious prejudice in their writings about Jews the same cannot be said for Milton The scholars in this collection confront a writer who participated in the sad history of anti-Semitism even as he appropriated Jewish models throughout his writings Well grounded in solid historical and theological research the essays both collectively and individually offer an important contribution to the debate on Milton and Judaism This book will be of interest not only to scholars of Milton and of seventeenth century literature but also to historians of the religion and culture of the period Rethinking Liberty before Liberalism Hannah Dawson, Annelien de Dijn, 2022-02-03 Reflects on histories of freedom and republicanism through a major new reappraisal of Quentin Skinner's Liberty before Liberalism Magical Epistemologies Anannya Dasgupta, 2021-07-21 This book began with a simple question when readers such as us encounter the term magic or figures of magicians in early modern texts dramatic or otherwise how do we read them In the twenty first century we have recourse to an array of genres and vocabulary from magical realism to fantasy fiction that does not however work to read a historical figure like John Dee or a fictional one he inspired in Shakespeare s Prospero Between longings to transcend human limitation and the actual work of producing translating and organizing knowledge figures such as Dee invite us to re examine our ways of reading magic only as metaphor If not metaphor then what else As we parse the term magic it reveals a rich context of use that connects various aspects of social cultural religious economic legal and medical lives of the early moderns Magic makes its presence felt not only as a forms of knowledge but in methods of knowing in the Renaissance The arc of dramatists and texts that this book draws between Doctor Faustus The Tempest The Alchemist and Comus A Masque at Ludlow Castle offers a sustained examination of the epistemologies of magic in the context of early modern knowledge formation This book is co published with Aakar Books New Delhi Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the print versions of this book in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

Eternally Vigilant Lee C. Bollinger, Geoffrey R. Stone, 2018-06-01 While freedom of speech has been guaranteed us for centuries the First Amendment as we know it today is largely a creation of the past eighty years Eternally Vigilant brings together a group of distinguished legal scholars to reflect boldly on its past its present shape and what forms our understanding of it might take in the future The result is a unique volume spanning the entire spectrum of First Amendment issues from its philosophical underpinnings to specific issues like campaign regulation obscenity and the new media With group efforts such as this collection of essays it is almost inevitable that there will be a couple and often several duds among the bunch or at least a dismaying repetition of ideas Such is not the case here Whether one agrees with a given author or not and it is possible to do both with any of the essays each has something to add Overall Eternally Vigilant is a thoughtful and thought provoking book consistently intelligent and at times brilliant Richard J Mollot New York Law Journal Contributors Lillian R BeVier Vincent Blasi Lee C Bollinger Stanley Fish Owen M Fiss R Kent Greenawalt Richard A Posner Robert C Post Frederick Schauer Geoffrey R Stone David A Strauss Cass R Sunstein

The Pathology of the English Renaissance: Sacred Remains and Holy Ghosts Elizabeth Mazzola, 2022-04-11 This examination of the fate of lost ideas after the Protestant reformation explores what might be called the pathology of the Renaissance The first part of the book treats Spenser s Faerie Queene and Milton s Paradise Lost concentrating on vacant cultural spaces and abandoned icons to trace the gap between sacred and secular life between poetry and belief The second part focuses on Shakespeare s Hamlet and Elizabeth Cary s Tragedy of Mariam to investigate the eschatological implications of this gap the ways that history is disentangled from memory and nostalgia severed from experience The book challenges readings of Renaissance culture as an increasingly secular one proposing that sacred symbols and practices still powerfully organized the English moral imagination oriented behaviors and arranged perceptions and specified the limits of the known world

The Future of the Word Tiffany Eberle Kriner, 2014 In scripture Jesus promises a future that potentially infuses all texts my words will not pass away Matt 24 28 This book argues that texts even literary texts have an eschatology too a part in God's purpose for the cosmos They with all creation move toward participation in the new creation in the Trinity's expanding creative love This eschatological future for texts impacts how we understand meaning making from the level of semiology to that of hermeneutics This book tells the story of how readers participate in the future of the word the eschatology of texts If texts have a future in the kingdom of God then readers' engagements with them everything from preservation and utterance to translation criticism and call and response can cultivate those futures in the love of the Trinity Kriner explores how the fallenness and failures of texts alongside readers' own failures while seeming to challenge the future of the word ultimately point to reading as a posture of reconciliation in which reader and text meet in the Maranatha of all text Fashioning the Female Subject Sabine Sielke, 1997 Exploring the interrelatedness of the poetry of three American women writers

Dangerous Familiars Frances E. Dolan, 2017-04-15 Looking back at images of violence in the popular culture of early modern England we find that the specter of the murderer loomed most vividly not in the stranger but in the familiar and not in the master husband or father but in the servant wife or mother A gripping exploration of seventeenth century accounts of domestic murder in fact and fiction this book is the first to ask why Frances E Dolan examines stories ranging from the profoundly disturbing to the comically macabre of husband murder wife murder infanticide and witchcraft She surveys trial transcripts confessions and scaffold speeches as well as pamphlets ballads popular plays based on notorious crimes and such well known works as The Tempest Othello Macbeth and The Winter's Tale Citing contemporary analogies between the politics of household and commonwealth she shows how both legal and literary narratives attempt to restore the order threatened by insubordinate dependents A Communion of Friendship Beth Daniell, 2003-04-03 Drawing on interviews and an array of scholarly work Beth Daniell maps out the relations of literacy and spirituality in A Communion of Friendship Literacy Spiritual Practice and Women in Recovery Daniell tells the story of a group of women in Mountain City who use reading and writing in their search for spiritual growth Diverse in socioeconomic status the Mountain City women are or have been married to alcoholics In Al Anon they use literacy to practice the Twelve Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous in order to find spiritual solutions to their problems In addition Daniell demonstrates that in the lives of these women reading writing and speaking are intertwined embedded in one another in rich and complex ways For the women private literate practice is of the utmost importance because it aids the development and empowerment of the self These women engage in literate practices in order to grow spiritually and emotionally to live more self aware lives to attain personal power to find or make meaning for themselves and to create community By looking at the changes in the women's reading Daniell shows that Al Anon doctrine particularly its oral instruction serves as an interpretive tool This discussion points out the subtle but profound transformations in these women's lives in order to call for an inclusive notion of politics Foregrounding the women's voices A Communion of Friendship addresses a number of issues important in composition studies and reading instruction This study examines the meaning of literacy within one specific community with implications both for pedagogy and for empirical research in composition inside and outside the academy Institutional Individualism Michael W. Kaufmann, 1998 Exploring the means by which individuals define themselves in relation to their institutional affiliations New Science, New World Denise Albanese, 1996 In New Science New World Denise Albanese examines the discursive interconnections between two practices that emerged in the seventeenth century modern science and colonialism Drawing on the discourse analysis of Foucault the ideology critique of Marxist cultural studies and de Certeau's assertion that the modern world produces itself through alterity she argues that the beginnings of colonialism are intertwined in complex fashion with the ways in which the literary became the exotic other and undervalued opposite of the scientific Albanese reads the inaugurators of the scientific revolution against the canonical authors of early modern literature discussing Galileo's Dialogue on the Two Chief World Systems and Bacon's New Atlantis as well as Milton's Paradise Lost and Shakespeare's The Tempest She examines how the newness or novelty of investigating nature is expressed through representations of the New World including the native the feminine the body and the heavens New is therefore shown to be a double sign referring both to the excitement associated with a knowledge oriented away from past practices and to the oppression and domination typical of the colonialist enterprise Exploring the connections between the New World and the New Science and the simultaneously emerging patterns of thought and forms of writing characteristic of modernity Albanese insists that science is at its inception a form of power knowledge and that the modern and postmodern division of Two Cultures the literary and the scientific has its antecedents in the early modern world New Science New World makes an important contribution to feminist new historicist and cultural materialist debates about the extent to which the culture of seventeenth century England is proto modern It will offer scholars and students from a wide range of fields a new critical model for historical practice

Renovating Rhetoric in Christian Tradition Elizabeth Vander Lei, Thomas Amorose, Beth Daniell, Anne Ruggles Gere, 2014-02-28 Throughout history determined individuals have appropriated and reconstructed rhetorical and religious resources to create effective arguments In the process they have remade both themselves and their communities This edited volume offers notable examples of these reconstructions ranging from the formation of Christianity to questions about the relationship of religious and academic ways of knowing The initial chapters explore historic challenges to Christian doctrines and gender roles Contributors examine Mormon women's campaigns for the recognition of their sect women's suffrage and the statehood of Utah the Seventh day Adventist challenge to the mainstream designation of Sunday as the Sabbath a female minister who confronted the gendered tenets of early Methodism and created her own sacred spaces women who across three centuries fashioned an apostolic voice of humble authority rooted in spiritual conversion and members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church who redefined notions of women's intellectual capacity and appropriate fields for work from the Civil War through World War II Considering contemporary learning environments other contributors explore resources that can help faculty and students of composition and rhetoric consider more fully the relations of religion and academic work. These contributors call upon the work of theologians, philosophers, and biblical scholars to propose strategies for building trust through communication. The final chapters examine the writings of Apostle Paul and his use of Jewish forms of argumentation and provide an overarching discussion of how the Christian tradition has resisted rhetorical renovation and in the process missed opportunities to renovate spiritual belief.

Gender and the Sacred Self in John Donne Elizabeth M. A. Hodgson, 1999. This first book-length feminist study of Donne argues that his sacred subject position is ambivalently and illustratively invested in cultural archetypes of mothers, daughters, and brides. The chapters focus on baptism, marriage, and death as key moments in Donne's and his culture's construction of the gendered soul.
