School Of Terror:

School of Terror Vince Robinson, 1980 Postmemories of Terror S. Kaiser, 2005-12-10 Postmemories of Terror focuses on how young Argentineans remember the traumatic events of the military dictatorship 1976-83. This fascinating work is based on oral histories with sixty-three young people who were too young to be directly victimized or politically active during this period. All were born during or after the terror and possessed an entirely mediated knowledge of it. Susana Kaiser explores how the post-dictatorship generation was reconstructing this past from three main sources: inter-generational dialogue, education, and the communication media. These conversations discuss selected and recurrent themes like societal fears and silences, remembering and forgetting, historical explanations, and accountability. Together, they contribute to our understanding of how communities deal with the legacy of terror.

The Tale of Terror Edith Birkhead, 1921 A history of the thriller from myth and folk tale through Walpole and Mrs Radcliffe to Poe and Le Fanu.

Gothic Readings Rictor Norton, 2005-04-01 This is an anthology of Gothic Literature set within the context of contemporary criticism and readers' responses. It includes selections from the major practitioners and many of their followers as well as contemporary reviews, private letters, and diaries, chapbooks, and contemporary anecdotes about dramatic performances and the design of theatre sets. The selections provide representative samples of the major genres: historical gothic, the Radcliffe school of terror, the Lewis school of horror, tragic melodrama, comic parody, supernatural poetry, and ballads, book reviews, and literary criticism and anti-Gothic polemic.

The Sea of Terror Stuart Gibbs, 2023-05-09 Tim and his friends travel by land and sea collecting treasure and defeating monsters as they go.

Types of Prose Narratives Harriott Ely Fansler, 2022-07-21 This book is meant as a work-table guide for the student and as a time-saver for the teacher; hence, all the necessary material should be immediately at hand. The instructor's concern in the teaching of narrative writing is just the twofold one mentioned before: to orientate the young scribbler and to give him a quick and sure inspiration. After that, he is to be left alone to write, and the fewer the books around him, the better.

Wave of Terror Theodore Odrach, 2014-10-01 This novel is a major literary discovery, and Odrach is drawing favorable comparisons with such eminent writers as Chekhov and Solzhenitsyn. Odrach wrote in Ukrainian while living an exile's life in Toronto. This remarkable book is a microcosm of Soviet history, and Odrach provides a first-hand account of events during the Stalinist era that newsreels never covered. It has special value as a sensitive and realistic portrait of the times while capturing the internal drama of the characters with psychological concision. Odrach creates a powerful and moving picture and manages to show what life was really like under the brutal dictatorship of Stalin and brings cataclysmic events of history to a human scale.

Katherine Bowers, 2022-03-01 In Russia gothic fiction is often seen as an aside a literary curiosity that experienced a brief heyday and then disappeared In fact its legacy is much more enduring persisting within later Russian literary movements Writing Fear explores Russian literature's engagement with the gothic by analysing the practices of borrowing and adaptation Katherine Bowers shows how these practices shaped literary realism from its romantic beginnings through the big novels of the 1860s and 1870s to its transformation during the modernist period Bowers traces the development of gothic realism with an emphasis on the affective power of fear She then investigates the hybrid genre's function in a series of case studies focused on literary texts that address social and political issues such as urban life the woman question revolutionary terrorism and the decline of the family By mapping the myriad ways political and cultural anxiety take shape via the gothic mode in the age of realism Writing Fear challenges the conventional literary history of nineteenth century Russia
