School Reform And Research In Educational Psychology:

School Reform and Research in Educational Psychology Ronald W. Marx, 2000 The legendary Greek figure Orpheus was said to have possessed magical powers capable of moving all living and inanimate things through the sound of his lyre and voice Over time the Orphic theme has come to indicate the power of music to unsettle subvert and ultimately bring down oppressive realities in order to liberate the soul and expand human life without limits The liberating effect of music has been a particularly important theme in twentieth century African American literature The nine original essays in Black Orpheus examines the Orphic theme in the fiction of such African American writers as Jean Toomer Langston Hughes Claude McKay James Baldwin Nathaniel Mackey Sherley Anne Williams Ann Petry Ntozake Shange Alice Walker Gayl Jones and Toni Morrison The authors discussed in this volume depict music as a mystical shamanistic and spiritual power that can miraculously transform the realities of the soul and of the world Here the musician uses his or her music as a weapon to shield and protect his or her spirituality Written by scholars of English music women s studies American studies cultural theory and black and Africana studies the essays in this interdisciplinary collection ultimately explore the thematic linguistic structural presence of music in twentieth century African American fiction School Reform and Research in Educational Psychology Paul R. Pintrich, 2000 The Keys to Effective Schools Willis D. Hawley, 2006-10-18 Raise organizational effectiveness to improve the quality of instruction and dramatically impact student achievement Working in tandem with the powerful National Education Association s KEYS initiative Keys to Excellence in Your Schools this second edition provides a wealth of knowledge from leading experts in the field including Patricia A Alexander Eva L Baker James A Banks Peter Cookson Lorna M Earl Richard F Elmore Michael Fullan Geneva Gay Willis D Hawley Jacqueline Jordan Irvine Kenneth Leithwood Ann Lieberman Judith Warren Little Lynne Miller P Karen Murphy Fred M Newmann Sonia Nieto Janet Ward Schofield Walter G Stephan Gary Sykes and Linda Valli Teacher and Student Evaluation Alyson Leah Lavigne, Thomas L. Good, 2013-09-05 Following the recent major school reform of Race to the Top schools teachers and students are increasingly evaluated through high stakes achievement test scores In six concise chapters Teacher and Student Evaluation explores the historical rise and modern landscape of accountability in American education and the current models of teacher evaluation The authors provide realistic and useful suggestions for responding to current accountability demands The authors explore the methodological concerns and policy implications of using value added and observational measures to make high stakes decisions After reaching the conclusion that these contemporary evaluation practices are flawed Alyson Lavigne and Thomas Good offer possible solutions that inform current and future teacher evaluation This book is a valuable resource for students of educational assessment as well as policy makers administrators and teachers who are currently building accountability plans The book is written in an accessible but authoritative fashion that practitioners policymakers and scholars will find useful Making the Grade Martin V. Covington, 1992-04-24 Achievement behaviour in schools can best be understood in terms of attempts by students to maintain a positive self image For many students trying hard is frightening because a combination of effort and failure implies low ability which is often equated with worthlessness Thus many students described as unmotivated are in actuality highly motivated not to learn but to avoid failure Students have a variety of techniques for avoiding failure ranging from cheating to setting low goals which are easily achieved In Making the Grade Martin Covington extracts powerful educational implications from self worth theory and other contemporary views of motivation that will be useful for everyone concerned with the educational dilemmas we face He provides a comprehensive insightful review of research and theory both contemporary and historical on the topic of achievement motivation and arranges this knowledge in ways that lead to imminently practical recommendations for restructuring schools

How Students Learn Nadine M. Lambert, Barbara L. McCombs, 1998 In How Students Learn Reforming Schools Through Learner Centered Education leaders in the psychological and educational communities suggest that successful school reform must not only uphold standards but also must recognize students differences and unique learning styles The volume examines current research on how students learn and presents the theoretical perspectives and research findings of leading authors in educational psychology The chapters reflect the work of these distinguished educators and psychologists in developing and articulating the psychological knowledge base that is most relevant to education

Educational Values and Cognitive Instruction Lorna Idol, Beau Fly Jones, 2013-12-16 This volume is a comprehensive guide to state of the art research on thinking cognitive instruction social values and reform Cognitive instruction for at risk students is discussed in great detail along with a thorough examination of the teaching of thinking skills from the viewpoint of educational values and school culture The issues of thinking learning and cognitive instruction are linked to the educational reform movement from numerous perspectives Specifically the reader can better anticipate which aspects of research on thinking will conflict with existing paradigms and which aspects of schooling will be most resistant to change
