

The background of the entire cover is a deep blue gradient. In the upper right, a large, detailed Earth is shown, partially obscured by a soft shadow. In the lower left, a grey, cratered moon is visible. A rocket, with a silver body and orange and red fins, is depicted launching from the moon's surface, angled upwards towards the center. The rocket's engines are glowing with a bright yellow and orange flame. Several yellow, multi-pointed starburst graphics are scattered across the scene, particularly around the rocket and the moon. The title text is centered in the upper half of the image.
