

ECOLOGICAL INTERACTIONS

Ecological Interactions Lab

Background information: Ecological interactions from the intricate web of relationships that govern the functioning and dynamics of ecosystems within these ecosystems, organisms constantly interact with one another and their environment, shaping the complex balance of nature. These interactions are complex & wide array of relationships, ranging from mutualistic alliances to predatory pursuits and competitive struggles. Understanding and studying these ecological interactions is critical for unraveling the complexity of ecosystems and predicting their responses to environmental changes.

In this lab, we delve into the fascinating world of ecological interactions, exploring the myriad ways in which organisms interact and influence one another's survival, reproduction, and distribution. By investigating these interactions, we aim to gain insight into the fundamental principles that govern the organization and functioning of ecosystems.

By immersing ourselves in these ecological interactions, we hope to gain a deeper appreciation for the intricate web of connections that sustain ecosystems and shape the biodiversity around us. Ultimately, this lab will provide us with valuable insights into the ecological dynamics that underpin the resilience and sustainability of natural systems, aiding in our efforts to conserve and manage these precious ecosystems in an ever-changing world.

Materials:

- 1 bowl of M&M's (one per student)
- 3 plastic cups (one per student)
- 3 stacks of note cards (one per student)

Directions: Each person in your group represents a different species (Species A, Species B, and Species C). For each round, you will read instructions from your designated note card about how your species can survive the round. Do not let anyone else see the instructions on your card or else they will have a better chance of "beating you," but the goal of nature is the center of your group. You will use a system to collect the M&M's you need to survive during the shortest time and place them into your cup. There are rules in someone else's hand who they are not allowed to touch it.

Rounds 1 - 3 will last one minute; round 4 will last 2 minutes. At the end of the round, count how many M&M's you got into your cup. You will record your group's numbers in the data table, and then identify what ecological relationship your group had. Then, put that your M&M's back into the community bowl. You will get new instructions each round that the next round.

Round 1
	Species A	Species B	Species C
Number of M&M's in the cup
Did this species collect enough food to survive the round?

1. Which ecological relationship(s)...

- a. Species A and Species B round
(predation / parasitism / competition / commensalism / none)
- b. Species A and Species C round
(predation / parasitism / competition / commensalism / none)
- c. Species B and Species C round
(predation / parasitism / competition / commensalism / none)
