BOOK JACKET Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development John Weiss,Michael Tribe,2015-09-16 The Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development is a global overview of industrialisation Each chapter will provide readers with contemporary insights into this this essential aspect of economic development Industrialisation has been at the forefront of discussion on economic development since the earliest days of development economics But over the last fifty years the manufacturing sectors of different countries and regions have grown at strikingly different rates In 1960 developing countries took a very small share of global manufacturing production Today the position had changed radically with fast growth of manufacturing in many parts of what was originally the developing world particularly in China and the rest of East Asia On the other hand countries in Africa and parts of Latin America have been largely left behind by this process of industrialisation This volume aims to illuminate this uneven development and takes stock of the current issues that hinder and support industrialisation in low and middle income economies This Handbook is a collection of chapters on different aspects of industrialisation experience in a range of countries Key themes include the role of manufacturing in growth the nature of structural change at different stages of development the role of manufacturing in employment creation alternative options for trade and industrial policy the key role of technology and technical change and the impact of globalisation and the spread of global value chains and foreign direct investment on prospects for industrialisation Several chapters discuss individual country experiences with examples from India Mexico South Africa and Tanzania as well as an overview of African industrialisation This authoritative Handbook will be a key reference source for those studying or wishing to understand contemporary economic development Offering inspiration and direction for future research this landmark volume will be of crucial importance to all development economics scholars and researchers

Knowledge for Justice Tor Halvorsen, Hilde Ibsen, 2017-11-28 With the adoption of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and the Paris Agreement the purpose of development is being redefined in both social and environmental terms Despite pushback from conservative forces change is accelerating in many sectors To drive this transformation in ways that bring about social environmental and economic justice at a local national regional and global levels new knowledge and strong cross regional networks capable of foregrounding different realities needs and agendas will be essential In fact the power of knowledge matters today in ways that humanity has probably never experienced before placing an emphasis on the roles of research academics and universities In this collection an international diverse collection of scholars from the southern African and Nordic regions critically review the SDGs in relation to their own areas of expertise while placing the process of knowledge production in the spotlight In Part I the contributors provide a sober assessment of the obstacles that neo liberal hegemony presents to substantive transformation In Part Two lessons learned from NorthSouth research collaborations and academic exchanges are assessed in terms of their potential to offer real alternatives In Part III a set of case studies supply clear and nuanced analyses of the scale of the challenges faced in ensuring that no one is left behind This accessible and absorbing collection will be of interest to anyone interested in NorthSouth research networks and in the contemporary debates on the role of knowledge production The Southern AfricanNordic Centre SANORD is a network of higher education institutions that stretches across Denmark Finland Iceland Norway Sweden Botswana Namibia Malawi South Africa Zambia and Zimbabwe Universities in the southern African and Nordic regions that are not yet members are encouraged to join
