

Purpose of Police Assignment

The purpose of police assignment is to ensure systematic and effective utilization of all the members of the force.

Power to make designation or assignment

The Chief of PNP (CPNP), Regional Director (RD), Provincial Director (PD), and the City or Municipal Chief of Police (COP) can make designation or assignment of the police force within their respective levels. They shall have the power to make designations or assignments as to who among the police officers shall head and constitute various offices and units of the police organization. The assignment of the members of the local police agency shall be in conformity with the career development program especially during the probationary period. Thereafter, shall be guided by the principle of placing the right man in the right job after proper classification has been made.

Criteria in Police Assignment

1. Those possessing the general qualifications for police duties without technical skills may be assigned to positions where any personnel can acquire proficiency within considerably short period of time.
2. Those possessing skills acquired by previous related experiences should be assigned to the corresponding positions.
3. Those possessing highly technical skills with adequate experience and duly supported by authoritative basis shall be given preferential assignment to the corresponding positions, which call for highly technical trained police officers. (Misassignment of personnel falling under this criteria constitute a serious neglect of duty of the CPNP, RD, or the COP, in the exercise of his administrative function)
4. Those selected to undergo further studies in specialized courses shall be chosen solely on the basis of ability, professional preparation and aptitude.
5. Qualifications of the police officers shall be examined annually to ascertain newly acquired skills, specialties, and proficiencies.
6. Those with physical limitation incurred while in the performance of duties should be assigned where they can be best used in accordance with the requirements of the force.
7. Assignments and reassignments of the police officers from one unit to another shall be the prerogative of the authority.
8. To give well rounded training and experience to police recruits, tour of duties in various assignments during the probationary period shall be in accordance with Republic Act 8551.

POLICE SALARIES, BENEFITS, AND PRIVILEGES On Salary

The uniformed members of the PNP are considered employees of the National Government and draw their salaries there from. They have the same salary grade that of a public school teacher. Police Officers assigned in Metropolitan Manila, chartered cities, and first class municipalities may be paid with financial incentives by the local government unit concerned subject to the availability of funds.

On Benefits and Privileges 1. Incentives and Awards

The NAPOLCOM shall promulgate standards on incentives and award system in the PNP administered by the Board of Incentives and Awards. Awards may be in the forms of decorations, service medals and citation badges or in monetary considerations. The following are examples of authorized

Selected Solely On The Basis Of Administrative Ability:

The Public Administration Theory Primer H. George Frederickson, Kevin B. Smith, Christopher Larimer, Michael J. Licari, 2018-04-17 The Public Administration Theory Primer explores how the science and art of public administration is definable, describable, replicable, and cumulative. The authors survey a broad range of theories and analytical approaches from public institutional theory to theories of governance and consider which are the most promising, influential, and important for the field. This book paints a full picture of how these theories contribute to and explain what we know about public administration today. The third edition is fully revised and updated to reflect the latest developments and research in the field, including more coverage of governments and governance, feminist theory, emotional labor theory, and grounded research methodology. Expanded chapter conclusions and a brand new online supplement with sample comprehensive exam questions and summary tables make this an even more valuable resource for all public administration students. Laws of the State of New Mexico, 1929 Includes extraordinary and special sessions
