Warfield* Benjamin Breckinridge Warfield, 1970 John Meeter collected a hundred and thirteen articles not included in Warfield's 10 volume Oxford University Press original set published between 1927-1932 endeavoring firstly to remind us of the voluminous writing Warfield bequeathed to us Secondly he wished to demonstrate that Warfield's work is still growing in public demand and scholarly respect Thirdly he wished to cast a wide variety of his work best exhibiting the full range of ability that made Benjamin B Warfield the unique man he was This handsome two volume set is testimony to all that and an inveterate faithfulness to Scripture marked by all his studies Amazon.com John Frame's Selected Shorter Writings John M. Frame, 2016 The Authority of Scripture in Reformed Theology Henk Van Den Belt, 2008-01-01 This book discusses the concept of the self convincing authority of Scripture in the historical development of Reformed theology and advocates an emphasis on the autopistia in a postmodern context because truth and trust are inseparable Selected shorter writings Mark Twain, 1962 John Frame's Selected Shorter Writings John M. Frame, 2015 Selected Short Fiction Charles Dickens, 1976-07-30 More information to be announced soon on this forthcoming title from Penguin USA New Perspectives on Old Princeton, 1812-1929 Kevin DeYoung, Paul Kjoss Helseth, David P. Smith, 2024-12-03 This book focuses on Princeton Theological Seminary and the theologians who taught there from the time of its founding in 1812 to the time of its reorganisation in 1929 It confronts the standard assessment of Old Princeton in the historiography of North American evangelicalism and sets out why a new paradigm is needed The volume critically engages with the Ahlstrom thesis and other more recent scholarship concerning Old Princeton's relationship to the Scottish intellectual tradition The contributions seek to move beyond Old Princeton's alleged indebtedness to Enlightenment thought and advance a more constructive reading of the Old Princetonians their theology and their place in the American evangelical experience The book offers a fresh and more accurate assessment of the theological and philosophical assumptions that held sway at Old Princeton and through the seminary to the American continent and beyond It will appeal to scholars interested in theology religious history and intellectual history Old School, New Clothes Ronald E. Hoch, David P. Smith, 2011-09-09 Is much of Christian education in America distinctly Christian Ron Hoch and David Smith say No Instead it is guilty of having adopted an ideology and methodology that strips it of the right to call itself Christian and the ability to fulfill a truly Christian mission The authors claim that the fundamentally humanistic ideology of the West conditions and controls much of what is labeled Christian education By talking about the need to integrate faith and learning focusing on teaching methodology and operating schools in virtually the same way as government run schools many Christian academics betray captivity to the dogma that humans are the measure of all things and need to do what God has already done As a result much of what controls the conversation and practices in Christian academia echoes the humanistic arrogance of the West and offers no substantive alternative to it In Old School New Clothes Hoch and Smith issue a call for Christian academics to own up to their own confession that all reality was created and integrated by God damaged by sin and has already been reintegrated in and by Jesus Thus the emphasis in Christian education ought not to be what Christian educators are doing to redeem the culture but on what God is bringing to the Church in order to redeem sinners Only by recognizing that all human knowledge claims in every sphere are inherently theological and that God is truly seen in and experienced through knowledge of all things will a distinctly Christian education be forged Christian education must primarily emphasize the reintegration or redemption of teachers brought through right knowledge of Jesus that comes through every subject discipline and expressed in a life balanced on Sabbath work and family

Select Short Fiction
Charles Dickens, 2016-11-16 Known and loved around the world for his vast and sprawling novels Charles Dickens relished the opportunity to experiment with his shorter writings investigating hitherto unexplored themes and engaging in uncharacteristic narrative techniques This anthology presents some of the beloved storyteller's lesser known works focusing on tales that reflect his fascination with the supernatural as well as his impressionistic sketches and dramatic monologues The collection opens with The Story of the Goblins Who Stole a Sexton in which a gravedigger learns a lesson from mischievous spirits Other ghostly tales include The Baron of Grogzwig To Be Read at Dusk and more A selection of brief atmospheric essays most of them written for newspapers and magazines recaptures vibrant scenes from Victorian London its prisons churches schools and street life as well as episodes from the author's extensive travels The book concludes with a series of dramatic monologues from Doctor Marigold's Prescriptions and other stories all of them abounding in Dickens' distinctive wit and imaginative power

A fundamental requirement in an inclusivist understanding of the relationship between Christianity and other religions is evidence of God's salvific activity outside any knowledge of Christ. This is commonly identified in the religion of Old Testament Israel. On this basis an analogy, the Israel analogy, is drawn between the religion of the old covenant and contemporary non-Christian religions. Closely related is the parallel argument that as Christ has fulfilled the Old covenant, he can also be seen as the fulfillment of other religious traditions and their scriptures. This study outlines the use of the Israel analogy and the fulfillment model, subjecting these concepts to a biblical and theological critique, revealing that the exegetical and patristic data are misconstrued in support of these concepts. Furthermore, the Israel analogy and the fulfillment model undermine the sui generis relationship between the old and new covenants and fail to respect the organic progressive nature of salvation history. They also misconstrue the old covenant and the nature of its fulfillment in the new covenant. The Israel analogy and fulfillment model rely on a correspondence between the chronologically pre-messianic Israel and the epistemologically pre-messianic other religions and therefore consider the BC condition to continue today. In so doing, they undermine the significance of the Christ event by failing to appreciate the decisive effect of this event on history and the nature of existence. It marks a radical turn in salvation history, a crisis point rendering the BC period complete and fulfilled. Therefore, the concept of a continuing pre-messianic condition or state is seriously flawed, as are the Israel analogy and fulfillment model. Thus, the inclusivist paradigm, reliant in large part on these defective concepts, is also problematic, and proponents of this paradigm need to reconsider its basis.

Charles Hodge Ryan M. McGraw, 2023-01-23 Most scholars of Reformed orthodoxy devote little attention to the nineteenth century, and most students of nineteenth-century Reformed thought bypass the influence of Reformed orthodox ideas on their subjects. Aligning himself with Reformed theology in nineteenth-century America, Charles Hodge's writings are an ideal place to bring such studies together. Hodge's American context and Reformed identity illustrate the persistence and change of Reformed ideas in a post-Enlightenment context. Encompassing philosophy, science, and theology, Ryan M. McGraw traces the development of Hodge's ideas with an eye both to Reformed orthodoxy and to American thought.

The Life I Now Live Rich S. Brown III, 2023-05-05 The Life I Now Live recounts the life and ministry of J. Gresham Machen, the founder of Westminster Theological Seminary (1929), the Orthodox Presbyterian Church (1936), and the Independent Board for Presbyterian Foreign Missions (1933).
