Ashgate Critical Essays on Women Writers in England, 1550-1700 Clare R. Kinney, 2017-05-15 The last twenty five years have seen exciting new developments in scholarly work on Lady Mary Wroth whose Urania and Pamphilia to Amphilanthus constitute the first romance and the first sonnet sequence to be published by an Englishwoman Wroth s writings enter into a suggestive and gendered dialogue with the lyric and narrative works of her uncle Sir Philip Sidney even as they carve out a place for her own literary experiments This volume gathers together some of the most striking recent criticism addressing Wroth s oeuvre many of its essays also discuss the intellectual and cultural contexts in which she wrote The collection is prefaced by an extended editorial overview of scholarship in the field

Politics of the Self Richard W. McCormick, 2014-07-14 Richard McCormick examines the concepts of postmodernity and postmodernism as they apply to West Germany discussing them against the background of cultural and political upheaval in that country since the 1960s rather than exclusively in the more familiar setting of intellectual history Considering six literary and cinematic texts that are marked by a preoccupation with the self and subjectivity he underscores the crucial influence of feminism on writers and filmmakers and on the postmodern In a broad international context he describes the conflicting forces that affected the West German student movement the rationalistic tradition of the Weimar Left and more irrational influences such as French existentialism and surrealism as well as the American Beat movement and rock roll and shows how these forces played themselves out so that dogmatic Marxist Leninism was repudiated in favor of a New Subjectivity At the center of the discussion are the novels Lenz by Peter Schneider Class Love Klassenliebe by Karin Struck and Devotion by Botho Strauss and the films Wrong Move written by Peter Handke and directed by Wim Wenders Germany Pale Mother by Helma Sanders-Brahms and The Subjective Factor by Helke Sander The author shows how ongoing attempts to attack the separation of emotion from reason life from art the private from the public and the personal from the political brought about changes in outlook from the 1960s to the early 1980s that are related to the rise of new political movements ecology nuclear disarmament and feminism Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

A Sociological Phenomenology of Christian Redemption Paul Gilfillan, 2014-11-03 Despite much of the world's attention turning to Scotland in 2014 in the year of its Independence Referendum this is the only ethnographic study of Scottish nationalism to have appeared so far Based upon over fifteen years of research in a particular locality the author not only gives the reader an intimate portrait of the relations between class and national identity in contemporary Scotland but provides an intimate description of a particular Scottish locality from 1999 to 2014 This patient ethnographic study also gives an account of how the sociological imagination is indispensable in the task of integral liberation as it models how empirical sociological study can give an account of human beatitude and ultimately answer the question of transcendence and integrates with the Christian tradition This book then attempts to state the full significance of Scottish nationalism upon the basis of a full or integral account of fully contextualised Scottish human being and in succeeding in this ambitious endeavour the author has produced a remarkable book that deserves the attention of students of the social sciences and theology alike

Judah's Desire and the Making of the Abrahamic Israel Hong Guk-Pyoung, 2024-07-01 In this refreshing exploration of Judah's identity formation the emphasis is placed on the psychological underpinnings of Judah's sentiments towards Israel aiming to illuminate the significance of Judah's appropriation of Israel Richly contextual this book draws parallels observed in Asian contexts notably those of North and South Korea and China with its marginal Others Central to the thesis is that Judah's perceived inferiority to Israel played a crucial role in its quest to appropriate Israel's legacy and identity Adopting a functionalist lens Judah's rewriting of Israel's ancestral past is examined The Abraham and Jacob traditions are understood as competing identity narratives serving as critical discursive tools to construct their pasts

The study scrutinizes how the southern Abraham tradition fundamentally reoriented the Jacob tradition North Israel's standalone ancestral myth Set against the broader canvas of continued efforts to redefine and embody Israel within the history of Judeo Christian religions this exploration underscores how Judah's pivotal appropriation of Israel has established a paradigm for all future endeavors of becoming Israel

A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P,2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a person's own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

Tears of Repentance Julius H. Rubin,2013-07-01 Tears of Repentance revisits and reexamines the familiar stories of intercultural encounters between Protestant missionaries and Native peoples in southern New England from the seventeenth to the early nineteenth centuries Focusing on Protestant missionaries accounts of their ideals purposes and goals among the Native communities they served and of the religion as lived experienced and practiced among Christianized Indians Julius H Rubin offers a new way of understanding the motives and motivations of those who lived in New England's early Christianized Indian village communities Rubin explores how Christian Indians recast Protestant theology into an Indianized quest for salvation from their worldly troubles and toward the promise of an otherworldly paradise The Great Awakening of the eighteenth century reveals how evangelical pietism transformed religious identities and communities and gave rise to the sublime hope that New Born Indians were children of God who might effectively contest colonialism With this dream unfulfilled the exodus from New England to Brothertown envisioned a separatist Christian Indian commonwealth on the borderlands of America after the Revolution Tears of Repentance is an important contribution to American colonial and Native American history offering new ways of examining how Native groups and individuals recast Protestant theology to restore their Native communities and cultures fascination with the medieval period from a variety of critical perspectives exploring how metal musicians and fans use the medieval period as a fount for creativity and critique Statutes of the United States of America Passed at the ... Session of the ... Congress United States,1917 The Child Writer from Austen to Woolf Christine Alexander,Juliet McMaster,2005-06-16 A collection of essays on the juvenilia of famous authors including Austen the Bront s George Eliot and Virginia Woolf Race, Identity, and Representation in Education Cameron McCarthy,2005 First Published in 2005 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Baudelaire and Caricature: From the Comic to an Art of Modernity , Baudelaire s essays on caricature offered the first sustained defense of the value of caricature as a serious art worthy of study in its own right This book argues for the crucial importance of the essays for his conception of modernity so fundamental to the subsequent history of modernism From the theory of the comic formulated in De l essence du rire to his discussions of Daumier Goya Hogarth Cruikshank Bruegel Grandville Gavarni Charlet and many others Baudelaire develops not only an aesthetic of caricature but also a caricatural aesthetic dual and contradictory grotesque ironic violent farcical fantastic and fleeting that defines an art of modern life In particular Baudelaire s insistence on the dualism and ambiguity of laughter has radical implications for such emblems of modernity as the city and the fl neur who roams the streets The modern city is the space of the comic a kind of caricature presenting the fl neur with an image of dualism one s position as subject and object implicated in the same urban experiences one seems to control The theory of the comic invests the idea of modernity with reciprocity one s status as laughter and object of laughter thus preventing the subjective construction and appropriation of the world that has so often been linked with the project of modernism Comic art reflects what Walter Benjamin later defined as Baudelairean allegory at once representing and revealing the alienation of modern experience But Baudelaire also transforms the dualism of the comic into a peculiarly modern unity the doubling of the comic artist enacted for the benefit of the audience the self generating and self reflexive experience of the fl neur in a communion with the crowd This study examines his views in the context of the history of comic theory and contemporary accounts of the individual artists Complete with illustrations of the many works discussed it illuminates the history and theory of caricature the comic and the grotesque and adds to our understanding of modernism in literature and the visual arts The Politics of Becoming European Maria Mälksoo,2009-10-26 This book weaves together perspectives drawn from critical international relations anthropology and social theory in order to understand the Polish and Baltic post Cold War politics of becoming European Approaching the study of Europe s eastern enlargement through a post colonial critique author Maria M lksoo makes a convincing case for a rethinking of European identity Drawing on the theorist Edward Said she contends that studies of the European Union are marked by a prevailing Orientalism rarely asking who has traditionally been able to define European identity and whether this identity should be presented as an historical process rather than a static category The central argument of this book is that the historical experience of being framed as simultaneously in Europe and yet not quite in Europe informs the current self understandings and security imaginaries of Poland and the Baltic States Exploring this existential condition of liminal Europeaness among foreign and security policy making elites the book considers its effects on key security policy issues including relations with Western Europe Russia and the United States Supported by solid empirical analyses this book provides an innovative and interdisciplinary approach to the post Cold War predicament of Poland and the Baltic States It will be of interest to students and scholars of International Relations European Studies Social and Political Theory and Anthropology

Quebec Identity Jocelyn Maclure, 2003 Jocelyn Maclure provides a critical reflection on the ways in which Quebec's identity has been articulated since the 1960s Quiet Revolution He shows how neither the melancholic nationalism of the Montreal school Hubert Aquin Pierre Vallières Fernand Dumont and their followers nor the individualist anti nationalism of Pierre Trudeau and his followers provide identity stories and political projects adequate for contemporary Quebec In articulating an alternative narrative Maclure reframes the debate detaching the question of Quebec's identity from the question of sovereignty versus federalism and linking it closely to Quebec's cultural diversity and to the consolidation of its democratic sphere In so doing he rethinks the conditions of authenticity leaves space for First Nations self determination and takes account of globalization This edition has been expanded for English Canadians with additional references as well as a glossary of names institutions and concepts

Aristotle And Moral Realism Robert A Heinaman, 2018-03-08 This volume of essays brings together scholars of ancient philosophy and some of today's most distinguished moral philosophers to discuss Aristotle's ethics and the problems of moral realism One of the central and perennial philosophical problems is the question of whether our ethical assertions and beliefs can be justifiably claimed to rest on some objective foundation As an upholder of the objectivity of ethics and as one of the most important ethical thinkers in the history of philosophy Aristotle's writings on these questions are of the greatest interest Indeed much of recent moral philosophy has looked directly to Aristotle for inspiration on the problem of moral objectivity For example virtue theorists were influenced by Aristotle in their proposal that what determines the right thing to do in a particular case is what the virtuous man would do Similarly sensibility theorists have found support for their view in Aristotle's remarks about the importance of the conditioning of one's desires for the development of virtue and knowledge about the human good
