Self Sign And Symbol:

Self, Sign, and Symbol Mark Neuman, Michael Payne, 1987 These essays wrestle with a number of postformalist questions and are ordered so as to present a new argument for the self sufficiency of the text Collectively they suggest that recovery of interest in the meaning of texts and the exchange between writer and reader may become the next new criticism

Hegel on Beauty Julia Peters, 2014-11-20 While the current philosophical debate surrounding Hegel's aesthetics focuses heavily on the philosopher's controversial end of art thesis its participants rarely give attention to Hegel's ideas on the nature of beauty and its relation to art This study seeks to remedy this oversight by placing Hegel's views on beauty front and center Peters asks us to rethink the common assumption that Hegelian beauty is exclusive to art and argues that for Hegel beauty like art is subject to historical development Her careful analysis of Hegel's notion of beauty not only has crucial implications for our understanding of the end of art and Hegel's aesthetics in general but also sheds light on other fields of Hegel's philosophy in particular his anthropology and aspects of his ethical thought

Mis/takes Terrie Waddell,2012-09-10 Mis/takes departs from the bulk of screen discourse by applying Jungian and Post Jungian ideas on unconscious processes to popular film and television This perspective offers a rich insight into the way that various myths infiltrate popular culture By examining the function of psychological motifs and symbols in cinema and television Terrie Waddell opens up another way of thinking about how identity can be constructed and disrupted Mulholland Drive Memento The Others The X Files Twin Peaks The Sopranos Spider Intimacy and Absolutely Fabulous all lend themselves to this approach The close analysis of these films programs are guided by a number of core archetypes from trickster and Self to incest and the grotesque The book's four parts reflect these dominant patterns Jung trickster and the screen Mistaken identities self deception and the undead Redeemers bad dads and matricide Excesses of the sad and the sassy Mis takes gives readers a chance to engage with screen material in an original and subversive way This study will be of great interest to Jungian analysts and students of film cultural studies media gender studies and analytical psychology

Metamodernism Jason Ananda Josephson Storm, 2021-06-07 Not only an astute diagnosis of the confusions and contradictions of contemporary thought it also offers compelling alternatives Rita Felski author of Hooked Art and Attachment For decades scholars have been calling into question the universality of disciplinary objects and categories The coherence of defined autonomous categories such as religion science and art has collapsed under the weight of postmodern critiques calling into question the possibility of progress and even the value of knowledge Jason nanda Josephson Storm aims to radicalize and move beyond these deconstructive projects to offer a path forward for the humanities and social sciences using a new model for theory he calls metamodernism Metamodernism works through the postmodern critiques and uncovers the mechanisms that produce and maintain concepts and social categories In so doing Storm provides a new radical account of society's ever changing nature what he calls a Process Social Ontology and its materialization in temporary zones of stability or social kinds Storm then formulates a fresh approach to philosophy of language by looking beyond the typical theorizing that focuses solely on human language production showing us instead how our own sign making is actually on a continuum with animal and plant communication Storm also considers fundamental issues of the relationship between knowledge and value promoting a turn toward humble emancipatory knowledge that recognizes the existence of multiple modes of the real Metamodernism is a revolutionary manifesto for research in the human sciences that offers a new way through postmodern skepticism to envision a more inclusive future of theory in which new forms of both progress and knowledge can be realized

M. Lee, Susan E. Ackerman, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2003 If God has departed as Baudrillard claims is religion still relevant A new religious landscape is appearing in the new millennium The middle classes with their electronic technologies are producing a culture of commodified images and signs that is radically transforming the religious landscape and re-enchanting the world Ecstatic experiences pervade the reenchanted world Both fundamentalism and the New Age movement promote the free flow of charisma reshaping religion in unforeseen directions Analysing the crisis of modernity this book delves into the intricacies of these movements to examine the implications of religious change in the new millennium The authors provide an incisive assessment of religious change in the West and Asia to suggest an eclecticism in re-enchantment that will usher in new ideas about charisma consciousness and spirituality These ideas focus on new forms of shamanism that point the way to experiences of empowerment beyond the structures of disenchantment

Nothingness Jytte Bang, 2017-07-05 This book addresses nothingness as not only the intangible presence of an emotional cultural social or even political void that is felt on an existential level but has some solid foundations in reality The death of a loved one the social isolation of an individual or the culture shock one may experience in another country are examples of situations in which an external sense of absence mirrors an internal psychological and philosophical sense of nothingness Not much has been explicitly written on nothingness in the history of psychology On the other hand nothingness seems to be implicitly embedded in many scholars work This duality of explicitly and implicitly expressed ideas about nothingness reveals how psychology finds inspiration in philosophy and vice versa The book aims to illustrate how the concept of the presence of absence nothingness fills a void in contemporary psychological theorizing

Reason's Nearest Kin Michael Potter, 2000-03-16 How do we account for the truth of arithmetic And if it does not depend for its truth on the way the world is what constrains the world to conform to arithmetic Reason's Nearest Kin is a critical examination of the astonishing progress made towards answering these questions from the late nineteenth to the mid twentieth century In the space of fifty years Frege Dedekind Russell Wittgenstein Ramsey Hilbert and Carnap developed accounts of the content of arithmetic that were brilliantly original both technically and philosophically Michael Potter's innovative study presents them all as finding that content in various aspects of the complex linkage between experience language thought and the world Potter's reading places them all in Kant's shadow since it was his attempt to ground arithmetic in the spatio-temporal structure of reality that they were reacting against but it places us in Godel's shadow since his incompleteness theorems supply us with a measure of the richness of the content they were trying to explain This stimulating reassessment of some of the classic texts in the philosophy of mathematics reveals many unexpected connections and illuminating comparisons and offers a wealth of ideas for future work in the subject
