Selfportrait Of A Holocaust Survivor:

Self-Portrait of a Holocaust Survivor Werner Weinberg, 2017-12-31 The breadth of Werner Weinberg's scholarship was prodigious yielding monographs on ancient Hebrew epigraphy and biblical exegesis the syntax of Rabbinic Hebrew medieval grammars and numerous studies on various aspects of Modern Hebrew Both Weinberg and Lisl his wife survived internment at the Bergen Belsen concentration camp This collection of essays reprinted here a little more than three decades after it first appeared conveys Weinberg's ongoing struggle to put into words something that might offer understanding to post Holocaust generations But they are also about a survivor's own desire for meaning and sense in a senseless world Most essays are framed around a series of questions which constitute Weinberg's prison and each time he attempts to pass through its portal he finds himself held back at the threshold Self Portrait of a Holocaust Survivor fuses together Weinberg's most personal reflections alongside careful analysis by an erudite theologian fully versed in traditional Jewish sources and historiography He moves between resisting and acquiescing to the implications of Bergen Belsen never shying away from the most painful questions about God morality virtue and the individual's potential to do good While today there is a vast literature penned by holocaust survivors and historians this collection grapples with the concept of survivorship from a unique perspective

The Jewish Self-Portrait in European and American Literature Hans-Jürgen Schrader, Elliott M. Simon, Charlotte Wardi, 2011-07-22 The articles in this collection originated from an international symposium at the University of Haifa and centre around a major topic in German European and American literature i.e. the way in which Jewish self definition both positive and negative has materialized as a product of the tensions between secular culture and society on the one hand and Jewish tradition and religion on the other The broad range of authors most of them of German speaking origin necessarily results in an almost equally broad range of answers to this central question The volume is dedicated to the memory of the Israeli literary scholar Chaim Shoham

Self Portrait Nadine Alexandre, 2001-10-01 French painter Nadine Alexandre uses deceptively simple matter of fact language to tell her incredible life story from orphaned Holocaust survivor to successful artist She describes war torn Paris as if she were sitting at her easel painting it on a Sunday afternoon her account of the disappearances of her father mother and older brother during German raids of the Jewish ghetto are heartrendering for their coolness Through all the hopeless tragedy of genocide and war Alexandre paints a portrait of a young girl's unflagging hope and later drive and ambition a girl who manages to soak up an education and develop her talent while being ferried between homes and orphanages The adult Alexandre's life is every bit as glamorous as the child's was destitute She describes the libertine life aboard the cruise ships where she worked as art director the cities and landscapes of Asia Africa and Latin America that she painted and of course her romances and affairs with men of various nationalities Nadine Alexandre's Self Portrait illustrated with her charming sketches is by turn tragic and entertaining publisher's description

Holocaust Icons in Art: The Warsaw Ghetto Boy and Anne Frank Batya Brutin, 2020-04-06 The photographs of the unknown Warsaw Ghetto little boy and the well known Anne Frank became famous documents worldwide representing the Holocaust Many artists adopted them as a source of inspiration to express their feelings and ideas about Holocaust events in general and to deal with the fate of these two victims in particular Moreover the artists emphasized the uniqueness of both children but at the same time used their image to convey social and political messages By using images of these children the artists both evoke our attention and sympathy and our anger against the Nazis crime of killing one and a half million Jewish children in the Holocaust Because they represent different sexes and different aspects Western and Eastern Jewry of Holocaust experience artists used them in many contexts This book will complete the lack of comprehensive research referring to the visual representations of these children in artworks Elie Wiesel and the Politics of Moral Leadership Mark Chmiel, 2001 Chmiel also critically engages Wiesel's long standing defense of the State of Israel as well as his confrontations and collaborations with the U S government including the birth of the U S Holocaust Memorial Museum the 1985 Bitburg affair with President Reagan and U S intervention in the Balkans BOOK JACKET The Armenian Genocide Richard G. Hovannisian, 2017-07-28 World War I was a watershed a defining moment in Armenian history Its effects were unprecedented in that it resulted in what no other war invasion or occupation had achieved in three thousand years of identifiable Armenian existence This calamity was the physical elimination of the Armenian people and most of the evidence of their ever having lived on the great Armenian Plateau to which the perpetrator side soon gave the new name of Eastern Anatolia The bearers of an impressive martial and cultural history the Armenians had also known repeated trials and tribulations waves of massacre captivity and exile but even in the darkest of times there had always been enough remaining to revive rebuild and go forward This third volume in a series edited by Richard Hovannisian the dean of Armenian historians provides a unique fusion of the history philosophy literature art music and educational aspects of the Armenian experience It further provides a rich storehouse of information on comparative dimensions of the Armenian genocide in relation to the Assyrian Greek and Jewish situations and beyond that paradoxes in American and French policy responses to the Armenian genocides The volume concludes with a trio of essays concerning fundamental questions of historiography and politics that either make possible or can inhibit reconciliation of ancient truths and righting ancient wrongs History, Historians, and Autobiography Jeremy D. Popkin, 2005-05-09 Though history and autobiography both claim to tell true stories about the past historians have traditionally rejected first person accounts as subjective and therefore unreliable What then asks Jeremy D Popkin in History Historians and Autobiography are we to make of the ever increasing number of professional historians who are publishing stories of their own lives And how is this recent development changing the nature of history writing the historical profession and the genre of autobiography Drawing on the theoretical work of contemporary critics of autobiography and the philosophy of Paul Ricoeur Popkin reads the autobiographical classics of Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams and the memoirs of contemporary historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie Peter Gay Jill Ker Conway and many others he reveals the contributions historians life stories make to our understanding of the human experience Historians autobiographies he shows reveal how scholars arrive at their vocations the difficulties of writing about modern professional life and the ways in which personal stories can add to our understanding of historical events such as war political movements and the traumas of the Holocaust An engrossing overview of the way historians view themselves and their profession this work will be of interest to readers concerned with the ways in which we understand the past as well as anyone interested in the art of life writing

Beyond Testimony and Trauma Steven High, 2015-03-15 Survivors of terrible events are often portrayed as unsung heroes or tragic victims but rarely as complex human beings whose lives extend beyond the stories they have told Beyond Testimony and Trauma considers other ways to engage with survivors and their accounts based on insights gained from long term oral history projects in a variety of contexts including factory closures industrial injury eugenics and forced sterilization the Holocaust genocide in Rwanda and Cambodia Argentinian torture camps the Yugoslav Wars and Jewish emigration from the Maghreb The contributors all innovators in the field of oral history include Henry Greenspan who provides reflections from forty years of listening to Holocaust survivors as well as an insightful afterword They demonstrate that through deep listening long term relationship building and collaborative research design it is possible to move beyond the problematic aspects of testimony to shine light on the more nuanced lives of survivors of mass violence In the process they offer alternative approaches to the collection of oral history that will shake the foundations of current historiographical practice

Remembering Genocide Nigel Eltringham, Pam Maclean, 2014-06-27 In Remembering Genocide an international group of scholars draw on current research from a range of disciplines to explore how communities throughout the world remember genocide Whether coming to terms with atrocities committed in Namibia and Rwanda Australia Canada the Punjab Armenia Cambodia and during the Holocaust those seeking to remember genocide are confronted with numerous challenges Survivors grapple with the possibility or even the desirability of recalling painful memories Societies where genocide has been perpetrated find it difficult to engage with an uncomfortable historical legacy Still to forget genocide as this volume edited by Nigel Eltringham and Pam Maclean shows is not an option To do so reinforces the vulnerability of groups whose very existence remains in jeopardy and denies them the possibility of bringing perpetrators to justice Contributors discuss how genocide is represented in media including literature memorial books film and audiovisual testimony Debates surrounding the role museums and monuments play in constructing and transmitting memory are highlighted Finally authors engage with controversies arising from attempts to mobilise and manipulate memory in the service of reconciliation compensation and transitional justice

A Final Reckoning Ruth Gutmann, 2013-12-15 Ruth Herskovits Gutmann s powerful memoir recounts her life not only as a concentration camp inmate and survivor but also as a sister and daughter Born in 1928 Gutmann and her twin sister Eva escaped the growing Nazi threat in Germany on a Kindertransport to Holland in 1939 The false expectation of being allowed to immigrate to Cuba as a family led her father Samuel Herskovits to bring the twins back to Hannover in 1941 Rather than receive travel visas however they their father and their stepmother Mania were arrested and deported first to Theresienstadt and then Auschwitz Birkenau After their parents were killed the girls spent the remainder of the war in numerous other camps Gutmann s compelling story captures many facets of the Jewish experience in Nazi Germany She describes her early life in Hannover as the daughter of a prominent and patriotic member of the Jewish community Her flight on the Kindertransport offers a vivid firsthand account of that effort to save the children of Jewish families Her memories of the camps include coming to the attention of Josef Mengele who often used twins in human experiments Gutmann writes with moving clarity and nuance about the complex feelings of survivorship Gutmann paints a multifaceted portrait of her father Samuel A leader in the Jewish community of Hannover he was cajoled coerced and ultimately forced to communicate with and cooperate with Nazi and public officials Gutmann uses her own memories as well as years of reflection and academic study to reevaluate his role in their community A Final Reckoning provides not only insights into Gutmann s own experience as a child in the midst of the atrocities of the Holocaust but also a window into the lives of those like her father who were forced to carry on and comply with the regime that would ultimately bring about their demise

Victimhood Nationalism

Jie-Hyun Lim, 2025-04-01 Nationalism today depends on the perception of victimhood The historical memory of past suffering endows nationalist movements with political legitimacy and a sense of moral superiority Koreans recall Japanese colonial atrocities while Japan commemorates the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Israel sanctifies the Holocaust and Poland trumpets the Nazi and Soviet occupations Even Germany and Russia perpetrators of historical crimes today cast themselves as victims by pointing to national suffering In this theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich book Jie Hyun Lim offers a new way to understand nationalism and its political instrumentalization of suffering developing the concept of victimhood nationalism and exploring it in a range of global settings He examines relations among Poland Germany Israel Korea and Japan focusing on how memories of colonialism the Holocaust and Stalinist terror have converged and intertwined in transnational spaces With an emphasis on memory formation Lim scrutinizes how perpetrators in Germany and Japan transformed themselves into victims as well as how nationalists in Poland Korea and Israel portray themselves as hereditary victims in order to rebut external criticism He considers the construction of nations as victims and perpetrators tracing the interaction of history and memory Ultimately the book contends challenging victimhood nationalism is necessary to overcome the endless competition over national suffering and instead promote reconciliation mutual understanding and transnational solidarity
