Selving A Relational Theory Of Self Organization:

Selving Irene Fast, 2013-05-13 In Selving A Relational Theory of Self Organization Irene Fast invokes the basic distinction between the self as me and the self as I in order to develop a contemporary theory of the self as subject In a return to Freud's clinical finding that all psychological processes are personally motivated she elaborates a notion of the I self that is intrinsically dynamic and relational Within this conception our perceiving thinking feeling and acting are not what our self does rather they are what our self is According to Fast the basic unit of the dynamic I self of selving is a scheme of personally motivated interaction between self and nonself This notion which comprehends development and developmental failure as a product of integration and differentiation among discrete I schemes provides a radically new framework for understanding those dynamic phenomena that Freud included within his structural model of the mind and that contemporary theorists have addressed within object relational perspectives Via the notion of selving Fast likewise brings fresh insight to a host of issues that have engaged psychoanalysts and developmental psychologists in recent years These topics include the place of bodily experience in a relational model of mind the organization of self as simultaneously individual and relational the formulation of a constructivist model of psychic structure among others Selving is not only a lucid demonstration of how a relational theory of self can reorder clinical observations in conceptually and therapeutically illuminating ways It is also a convincing demonstration of how a constructivist model emphasizing the interactive nature of meaning making provides bridges to Piagetian theory developmental research and observational infancy studies also delineates a method for practicing with problems in the Buddhist sense of the word practice It investigates how problems are constructed and elucidates a strategy for finding the wisdom and opportunities for growth which are contained within them Mindfulness Informed Relational Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis demonstrates in clear language how the experience of Self and Other is involved in emotional pain and relational suffering In the relational milieu of psychotherapy Inquiring Deeply fosters emotional insight and catalyzes psychological growth and healing This book will be of great interest to psychoanalytically oriented clinicians as well as Buddhist scholars and psychologically minded Buddhist practitioners interested in the clinical application of mindfulness The Concealed Art of the Soul Jonardon Ganeri,2007-07-05 Jonardon

Five Kohutian Postulates Ronald R. Lee,Angie Rountree,Sally McMahon,2010-12-02 In comparison with the traditional notion of science as generalizable and predictive knowledge Five Kohutian Postulates presents psychotherapy as a science of the unique It uses the philosopher Imre Lakatos emphasis on research programs that organize around a central postulate and auxiliary postulates to explicate Heinz Kohut s self psychology Kohut s psychotherapy theory entails four auxiliary postulates that are interlinked to the central postulate of empathic understanding and to each other The main chapters illustrate how these postulates function as orienting stars in theoretical space to foster a firm psychotherapeutic identity and to concurrently foster the inclusion of complementary ideas from other psychotherapy theories These chapters also reveal how self psychology exemplifies Lakatos s idea that the most valuable scientific theory is regenerative The last chapter points to the need for post modern psychoanalytic psychotherapy to take seriously the idea of a professional commitment to the patient
