Canada in the European Age, 1453-1919 R.T. Naylor, 2006-07-10 When Canada in the European Age 1453 1919 was first published it reversed traditional methodology by placing Canada s evolution in the context of the rise and fall of empires around the world not just in the Americas R T Naylor contends that the struggle for property and political rights in early nineteenth century Newfoundland is incomprehensible without an understanding of events as distinct as the Afro American slave trade or the Napoleonic Wars the opening of the natural resource frontier of British Columbia makes sense only if seen as another manifestation of the same historical forces that fired the opening shots in the Opium wars in China and the fate of Canada s native peoples may have been different in form but not in essence from that of the aboriginal inhabitants on almost every continent

Map Worlds Will C. van den Hoonaard, 2013-09-21 Map Worlds plots a journey of discovery through the world of women map makers from the golden age of cartography in the sixteenth century Low Countries to tactile maps in contemporary Brazil Author Will C van den Hoonaard examines the history of women in the profession sets out the situation of women in technical fields and cartography related organizations and outlines the challenges they face in their careers Map Worlds explores women as colourists in early times describes the major houses of cartographic production and delves into the economic function of intermarriages among cartographic houses and families It relates how in later centuries working from the margins women produced maps to record painful tribal memories or sought to remedy social injustices Much later one woman so changed the way we think about continents that the shift has been likened to the Copernican revolution Other women created order and wonder about the lunar landscape and still others turned the art and science of making maps inside out exposing the hidden unconscious and subliminal text of maps Shared by all these map makers are themes of social justice and making maps work for the betterment of humanity Shananditti Keith Winter,1975 Biography of the last survivor of the Beothuck tribe of Newfoundland

Native American Art in the Twentieth Century W. Jackson Rushing III,2013-09-27 This illuminating and provocative book is the first anthology devoted to Twentieth Century Native American and First Nation art Native American Art brings together anthropologists art historians curators critics and distinguished Native artists to discuss pottery painting sculpture printmaking photography and performance art by some of the most celebrated Native American and Canadian First Nation artists of our time The contributors use new theoretical and critical approaches to address key issues for Native American art including symbolism and spirituality the role of patronage and museum practices the politics of art criticism and the aesthetic power of indigenous knowledge The artist contributors who represent several Native nations including Cherokee Lakota Plains Cree and those of the Plateau country emphasise the importance of traditional stories mythologies and ceremonies in the production of contemporary art Within great poignancy they write about recent art in terms of home homeland and aboriginal sovereignty Tracing the continued resistance of Native artists to dominant orthodoxies of the art market and art history Native American Art in the Twentieth Century argues forcefully for Native art's place in modern art history

India Diversity Hilda David, Francis Jarman,2017-01-31 The more you look around the world at the chaos conflict horror and repression in the name of religious ideology not least in the lands very close to India the more you realise how Nehru for all his imperfections got the biggest question right Now that India is finally positioning itself for a spectacular economic takeoff it is not the right time to endanger that by opening the can of worms that is communalism
