Architecture and Nationalism in Sri Lanka Anoma Pieris, 2013 The role of the home the domestic sphere and the intimate ethno cultural identities that are cultivated within it are critical to understanding the polemical constructions of country and city tradition and modernity and regionalism and cosmopolitanism The home is fundamental to ideas of the homeland that give nationalism its imaginative form and its political trajectory This book explores positions that are vital to ideas of national belonging through the history of colonial bourgeois self fashioning and post colonial identity construction in Sri Lanka The country remains central to related architectural discourses due to its emergence as a critical site for regional architecture post independence Suggesting patterns of indigenous accommodation and resistance that are expressed through built form the book argues that the nation grows as an extension of an indigenous private sphere ostensibly uncontaminated by colonial influences domesticating institutions and appropriating rural geographies in the pursuit of its hegemonic ideals This ambitious comprehensive wide ranging book presents an abundance of new and original material and many imaginative insights into the history of architecture and nationalism from the mid nineteenth century to the present day

Inside Third World Cities Stella Lowder, 2021-06-29 Originally published in 1986 this book focusses on life within global cities in the developing world analysing on a city level the circulation and consumption of goods and services within them When the book was first published it was one of only a few to offer systematic comparative analyses of developing world cities and those stemming from different regions with examples from different continents in each chapter It discusses the problems faced by such city populations and shows how the procedures distributive systems and social conventions reflect the complex histories of the cities most of which have been subject to colonial rule and of their inhabitants many of whom are either migrants or first generation citizens

Social Policy In A Non-democratic Regime Gil Shidlo, 2019-07-11 This book had its origins in my doctoral research at the London School of Economics It developed more rapidly than expected thanks to the good will and collective efforts of various people and institutions who provided help and support material intellectual and moral throughout four years at the LSE and two years at Tel Aviv University I am most grateful to George Philip and Patrick Dunleavy who have patiently read the many drafts and offered their comments and suggestions at various stages of this work I would also like to thank Peter Dawson who during my early days at the LSE as a research and MSc student supervised advised and above all encouraged my intentions to carry out research on developing countries Henrique Rattner of the Fundacao Getulio Vargas provided me not only with technical support but also introduced me to the complex Brazilian bureaucracy Gabriel Bolaffi of the Faculty of Architecture and Urbanism at the University of Sao Paulo made it possible for me to gain access to the otherwise restricted public housing agencies I also extend my gratitude to the officials at COHAB SP CODESPAULO INOCOOP and the BNH in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo who spared precious time to be interviewed and supplied me with published and unpublished documents The IPT Sao Paulo Institute of Technological Research provided the primary material on Itaquera and enabled me to use their computing facilities and process the data Special thanks are due to Ros Mari Kaupatez The friends we made in Sao Paulo whose welcome and warmth surpassed all expectations made a long stay more bearable This project could not have been carried out without the moral and financial support of both my grandfather and my parents who took a deep interest in my studies and encouraged me during difficult periods A debt of thanks is also owed to the Publication Committee of the London School of Economics especially P C Davis Anthony Hall s comments were very valuable Thanks are due to the Faculty of Social Sciences and the Department of Political Science at Tel Aviv University for financial help in preparing this work for publication Finally this study is dedicated to my wife Sarah who interrupted her studies to accompany me to Brazil and helped me in ways I cannot adequately acknowledge

Social Impact Analysis And Development Planning In The Third World William Derman, Scott

Whiteford, 2019-06-26 Although national governments and international agencies have committed vast sums of money to development many projects have not only failed to improve the lives of the poor but in some cases have created additional social and economic problems Such failures can often be traced to an inadequate understanding of the socio cultural reality of the people most directly affected and to a lack of their participation in project planning implementation and evaluation In this collection of essays scholars and practitioners from diverse disciplines examine many of the perplexing social issues of development planning from the perspective of social impact analysis Drawing on national regional and local case studies the authors demonstrate why sociocultural factors are seldom adequately understood and discuss how they can be effectively incorporated into the planning process
