Visions Margaret Archuleta, Rennard Strickland, 1993 Native American Art in the Twentieth Century W. Jackson Rushing III, 2013-09-27 This illuminating and provocative book is the first anthology devoted to Twentieth Century Native American and First Nation art Native American Art brings together anthropologists art historians curators critics and distinguished Native artists to discuss pottery painting sculpture printmaking photography and performance art by some of the most celebrated Native American and Canadian First Nation artists of our time The contributors use new theoretical and critical approaches to address key issues for Native American art including symbolism and spirituality the role of patronage and museum practices the politics of art criticism and the aesthetic power of indigenous knowledge The artist contributors who represent several Native nations including Cherokee Lakota Plains Cree and those of the Plateau country emphasise the importance of traditional stories mythologies and ceremonies in the production of contemporary art Within great poignancy they write about recent art in terms of home homeland and aboriginal sovereignty Tracing the continued resistance of Native artists to dominant orthodoxies of the art market and art history Native American Art in the Twentieth Century argues forcefully for Native art's place in modern art history Shared Visions Heard Museum, 1992 In Focus: Serving the Pacific Southwest District, The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod , North American Women Artists of the Twentieth Century Jules Heller, Nancy G. Heller, 2013-12-19 First Published in 1997 North American Women Artists of the Twentieth Century A Biographical Dictionary was created to fill a gap of there being a comprehensive reference work like this available even though the bibliography in English on various aspects of the history of women artists has grown exponentially during the past ten years As researchers the editors have been frustrated many times by being unable to locate basic information about many of the artists included in this volume especially those working outside the United States This leads directly to another reason for producing this particular kind of reference book to try and create a better understanding between and among the artists and art audiences in these countries Unmaking Race, Remaking Soul Christa Davis Acampora, Angela L. Cotten, 2008-06-05 Explores the theme of aesthetic agency and its potential for social and political progress

Encyclopedia of Native American Artists Deborah Everett, Elayne L. Zorn, 2008-09-30 Indigenous North Americans have continuously made important contributions to the field of art in the U S and Canada yet have been severely under recognized and under represented Native artists work in diverse media some of which are considered art sculpture painting photography while others have been considered craft works on cloth basketry ceramics Some artists feel strongly about working from a position as a Native artist while others prefer to produce art not connected to a particular cultural tradition Shifting Grounds Kate Morris, 2019-03-22 Foregrounds the importance of landscape within twenty first century Indigenous art A distinctly Indigenous form of landscape representation is emerging among contemporary Indigenous artists from North America For centuries landscape painting in European art typically used representational strategies such as single point perspective to lure viewers and settlers into the territories of the old and new worlds In the twentieth century abstract expressionism transformed painting to encompass something beyond the visual world and later minimalism and the Land Art movement broadened the genre of landscape art to include sculptural forms and site specific installations In Shifting Grounds art historian Kate Morris argues that Indigenous artists are expanding and reconceptualizing the forms of the genre expressing Indigenous attitudes toward land and belonging even as they draw upon mainstream art practices The resulting works evoke all five senses from the overt sensuality of Kay WalkingStick's tactile paintings to the eerie soundscapes of Alan Michelson's videos to the immersive environments of Kent Monkman's dioramas this art resonates with a fully embodied and embedded subjectivity Shifting Grounds explores themes of presence and absence survival and vulnerability memory and commemoration and power and resistance illuminating the artists' engagement not only with land and landscape but also with the history of representation itself Making Representations Moira G. Simpson, 2012-12-06 Drawing upon material from Britain Canada the United States Australia and New Zealand Making Representations explores the ways in which museums and anthropologists are responding to pressures in the field by developing new policies and practices and forging new relationships with communities Simpson examines the increasing number of museums and cultural centres being established by indigenous and immigrant communities as they take control of the interpretive process and challenge the traditional role of the museum Museum studies students and museum professionals will all find this a stimulating and valuable read Art Information and the Internet Lois Swan Jones, 2013-12-16 In the first book of its kind art information expert Lois Swan Jones discusses how to locate visual and textual information on the Internet and how to evaluate and supplement that information with material from other formats print sources CD ROMS documentary videos and microfiche sets to produce excellent research results The book is divided into three sections Basic Information Formats Types of Websites and How to Find Them and How to Use Web Information Jones discusses the strengths and limitations of Websites scholarly and basic information resources are noted and search strategies for finding pertinent Websites are included Art Information and the Internet also discusses research methodology for studying art historical styles artists working in various media individual works of art and non Western cultures as well as art education writing about art problems of copyright and issues concerning the buying and selling of art This title will be periodically updated Sociology of Death and the American Indian Gerry R. with oral histories The focus is that learning about other cultures can enhance the understanding of one's own culture by comparing traditional and modern societies Gerry R Cox addresses the centuries of injustices committed against American Indians that led to a neglect of learning about American Indian cultures and attempts to fill the gaps in knowledge of American Indian practices

Art of the Cherokee Susan C. Power, 2007-01-01 In addition to tracing the development of Cherokee art Power reveals the wide range of geographical locales from which Cherokee art has originated These places include the Cherokee's tribal homeland in the southeast the tribe's areas of resettlement in the West and abodes in the United States and beyond to which individuals subsequently moved Intimately connected to the time and place of its creation Cherokee art changed along with Cherokee social political and economic circumstances The entry of European explorers into the Southeast the Trail of Tears the American Civil War and the signing of treaties with the U S government are among the transforming events in Cherokee art history that Power discusses
