Abstract

Aim: The aim of this study is to analyze the long-term outcomes of above-knee femoro-popliteal bypass procedures with Omniflow® II biosynthetic grafts. Primary patency and graft related complications were the end points of the study.

Methods: Between January 2012 and January 2021, a total of 50 patients (42 males, 8 females) were revascularized using an in-situ Omniflow® II graft. Demographic, clinical, operative and postoperative characteristics of the patients were analyzed retrospectively.

Results: Mean age was 63.8 ± 10.1 (range 40-82) years. Fifty above-knee femoropopliteal bypass procedures were performed. Four patients (8%) were operated on due to a previous vascular graft infection where 8 (16%) were operated on due to a previous occlusion. Primary patency rate was 88%. Early graft thrombosis occurred in 2 (4%) patients where late graft stenosis unrelated to the anastomotic sites was encountered in 1 (2%) patient. An endarterectomy on either the proximal or distal site of the anastomosis were performed in 12 (24%) patients. Mean follow-up was 32.9 ± 20.8 (range 12-90) months. Three (6%) patients died due to a COVID-19 infection. No graft infection nor mortality related to arterial bypass procedures was encountered.

Conclusion: The Omniflow® II biosynthetic graft provides superior results in treatment of above-knee femoro-popliteal bypass procedures with high patency rates and low incidence of graft infection and aneurysm formation.

1. Introduction

Patients with peripheral arterial disease (PAD) have a poor circulation due to decreased arterial perfusion. The arterial blood flow to the distal extremity is restricted most frequently by systemic atherosclerosis. Its prevalence is 3-10% between 40-59 years and 15-20% over 70 years¹. The most significant risk factors for PAD are diabetes mellitus (DM), hypertension (HT), hyperlipidemia (HL), chronic kidney disease (CKD), and smoking². In addition, there is an increased rate of myocardial infarction, ischemic stroke, and cardiovascular death in patients with PAD³.

There is a remarkable elevated risk of adverse limb events like ischemic ulceration and gangrene unless treated. Revascularization deemed mandatory, particularly in patients with more advanced symptoms and presentations. Duplex ultrasonography, computed tomography angiography (CTA), magnetic resonance angiography or conventional peripheral angiography should be performed to diagnose and define the anatomy before revascularization. Though endovascular approaches have extended the invasive treatment modalities in peripheral arterial occlusive disease, surgical interventions must be considered especially for long occlusive disease, aneurysm formation, vascular graft infection and failure of endovascular treatment.

Despite the fact that superiority of the autogenous grafts are well-known, prosthetic grafts should be the selected conduit type in a variety of patients especially when autogenous grafts are not accessible, available or suitable⁴. Since 1983, the Omniflow® vascular grafts have been in clinical practice and advances in technology throughout this time period led to the current Omniflow® II vascular graft (OVG)⁵⁻⁷. Omniflow® II (Bio Nova International, Victoria, Australia) is created by using cross linked ovine collagen and an endoskeleton made of polyester mesh which

Long Term Results Of Arterial Interventions:

Long-Term Results of Arterial Interventions Alain Branchereau, MD, Michael Jacobs, MD, 1997-10-07 This volume is particularly valuable as a current standard reference. It covers all the major vascular operations: carotid endarterectomy, aortoiliac reconstructions and infrainguinal bypasses in situ and reversed vein, Dacron and PTFE prosthetic thoracic and abdominal bypasses matching each to its competing endovascular procedure. In addition, it provides excellent long-term data on such less common procedures as internal carotid bypass, vertebral artery revascularization, adjunctive procedures to enhance the patency of infrainguinal prosthetic bypass and percutaneous intentional extraluminal revascularization. Finally, this framework is reinforced by in-depth chapters on current non-interventional management, surveillance programs to enhance long-term patency and the ultimate challenge for all practicing vascular surgeons: the management of infected aortic grafts. Such clear, comprehensive and current analysis should be of considerable and on-going value both by helping vascular surgeons to make more effective decisions and to more knowledgeably discuss functional results, complication risks, life expectancy and surgical outcome issues with the patient and family.

Peripheral Arterial Interventions Nicolas W. Shamma, 2022-10-13 This book examines new technologies, device and pharmacologic that have evolved over the past few years in treating peripheral arterial disease. Chapters offer optimal strategies to treat PAD supported by peer-reviewed data. The pillars of this strategy will focus on a changing vessel compliance to allow better lumen expansion, less recoil and dissections and less bailout stenting. Chapters also review embolic protection devices and apply the adjunctive use of anti-proliferative therapy to maintain good long-term outcomes. In addition, the book reviews drug-coated balloons and drug-eluting stent technologies and other means of drug delivery into the vessel wall. The goal of this book is to discuss all these emerging technologies under the strategy of treating patients with the focus on both acute and long-term outcomes. Featuring world-renown experts, this book offers a critical and comprehensive overview of the current data and future directions that would pave the way for optimal PAD management. Peripheral Arterial Interventions is an essential resource for physicians, residents, fellows and medical students in cardiology, radiology, vascular surgery, primary care and health promotion and disease prevention as well as internal and vascular medicine specialists.

Manual of Peripheral Vascular Intervention Ivan P. Casserly, Ravish Sachar, Jay S. Yadav, 2005 This manual is a practical how-to guide to vascular interventional procedures for all arteries and veins outside the coronary vascular system. The book provides the information needed to evaluate patients and perform procedures and describes the actual techniques used by experienced practitioners including anticoagulants, antithrombotics, wires, guides, angioplasty and stents. More than 400 illustrations complement the text. Chapters on each artery cover indications for interventional procedures, vascular anatomy, access, diagnostic angiography and specific interventional techniques. Complications and risks of restenosis are also discussed. The book also includes a chapter on training and credentialing in peripheral vascular intervention.
