Mountains and the Law Astrid Castelein, 2006-01-01 Rev ed of Mountains and the law A Villeneuve A Castelein M A Mekouar for the Development Law Service FAO Legal Office 2002

Mountains and the Law Annie Villeneuve, Astrid Castelein, Mohamed Ali Mekouar, 2002-01-01 Most countries have not yet adopted mountain specific laws preferring to protect mountains through existing sectoral legislation However countries such as France Georgia Italy Russian Federation North Ossetia Alania Switzerland and Ukraine have enacted legal instruments dealing specifically with mountains and other countries are developing similar legislation This publication broadly describes the main elements of international and national mountain specific legal texts and also includes national case studies

Mountain People Gordon Wilson, 2024-04-26 You have to love the mountains to live here Nevertheless at seventeen Salva left returning many years later with ngels to the family farm Now it s a holiday centre I was sleeping in the tent The bear was eating a sheep fifty metres away says Must a shepherd who moved to the Pyrenees from Morocco Born here without doctors without anything Josep has never left his mountain village Once a secretary in Barcelona his wife Mar a is now the farmer in the family Five in depth life stories from the fifteen in Mountain People Stories of hope in the face of adversity reflecting our common humanity Stories that like the surrounding mountains will ignite your imagination

The Mountain Bernard Debarbieux, Gilles Rudaz, 2015-09-10 From the Enlightenment to the present day and using a variety of case studies from all the continents the authors show us how our ideas of and about mountains have changed with the times and how a wide range of policies from border delineation to forestry as well as nature protection and social programs have been shaped according to them A rich hybrid analysis of geography history culture and politics Jacket

Training Manual on International Environmental Law, 2006 It is widely recognized that most environmental problems challenges and solutions are transboundary regional or global in scope The environment is an area where states and stakeholders are cooperating extensively and progressively This manual seeks to provide a comprehensive overview of the current body of environmental law Publisher s description

The Mining Law John D. Leshy, 1987 In this highly entertaining as well as profoundly scholarly study of the 1872 Mining Law John Leshy has produced both a legal treatise and a history of the West written from the vantage point of mineral exploration and production The Mining Law illuminates some of the more obscure corners of Western history federal land and resource policy and the relationships among various branches of government in making and carrying out policy For more than a century the mining of hard rock minerals in the United States has been carried out under this law which was written to promote mineral development in the age of the pick and shovel prospector It is the last important survivor of the great laws undergirding the westward expansion The Mining Law has never been changed to reflect modern mining technologies or newer social values that question whether mineral extraction is the best use of the land and its resources From its enactment the Mining Law s inadequacies have given rise to illegal abuse litigation and patchwork regulation by federal agencies and judge made law

Leshy explains how the law has survived by a combination of executive and judicial manipulation in the face of legislative paralysis. Today, as concern mounts about economic efficiency, government regulation, environmental protection, the rebuilding of the nation's industrial base, and competing uses of the land and its resources, the argument for reform of the law becomes compelling. The present law not only obstructs the very mineral development it was designed to promote; it may no longer be in the national interest. Certainly any future attempts to rewrite or amend the Law will start off with Leshy's exposition and analysis of its origins, operation, and implementation, and his detailed examination of the issues surrounding the law, its interpretation by courts and administrative agencies, and the attempts to adapt the law to changing conditions and social goals. Assessing the prospect for reform in today's political climate, he suggests arrangements regarding the law's reform that might be concluded by industry, small operators, and environmental protection advocates, as well as creative measures that might be taken by Congress, the president, and the courts.

Sustainable Development in Mountain Regions Georgi Zhelezov, 2015-12-23. This second edition of the book Sustainable Development of Mountain Regions Southeastern Europe integrates the scientific results and expertise of the researchers from the countries in Southeastern Europe. The book consists of updated information for the topics observed in first edition and several new chapters with analysis of some problems in the mountain regions of four new for the edition countries in Southeastern European space. The general themes in the book are related to Global problems and mountain regions, Nature resources and land use in mountain regions, Social economic and regional problems of mountain regions, Nature protection, conservation and monitoring, and Networks and strategies for mountain regions. The key topics for discussion are Natural resources and land use in mountain regions, Sustainable social and economic development of the mountain regions, Natural disasters and risk prevention, Spatial modeling and planning, Nature protection, monitoring and conservation, Politics and sustainable practices for development of mountain regions, Transborder and regional cooperation. Mountain regions in Southeastern Europe are characterized by unique landscape and biological diversity and great economic potential. They have function as a living space and provide different groups of ecosystem and landscape services. In social and economic aspects, these regions are one of the poorest in Southeastern European countries with unused potential. Human ecological and economic problems arising in various mountain regions have the same basic characteristics irrespective of the country. Some mountain regions are subject to specific conditions of the mountain and country policy for planning development and mountain population promotion. The general goal is development of whole economy and the efficient management of natural resources and prevention of natural and technological disasters. The mountain regions are one of the most threatened landscape systems in Southeastern Europe. Understanding the importance of the mountain regions and conservation of the natural heritage require scientific and institutional cooperation at all levels.
