Earth Tremors, Mountain Movements Richard Cullern, 2011-06-15 In the land of Evermore little folks both good and evilgnomes who influence their human counterparts battle for supremacy Brimen and the Oakmen have just recently been honored by the king for a daring rescue mission but they still have one thing to worry about Drasnah the evil goblin After plundering the marsh Drasnah and his goblins have failed to retrieve the magical golden acorns needed for his ally Ersatz In revenge they return to Evermore intending to wreak havoc Among their destructive objectives is to reintroduce the ferocious Skelt hound then bring over the Red Witch of Drone to challenge the witch sisters Merva and Derva But most of all they want to drain the marsh and flood the Oakwoods home to the mighty Oakmen On Brimen and the Oakmens return to Oak Village near the marsh Brimen is attacked by the goblins They steal the satchel that holds important detailed information to the whereabouts of all the mines tunnels caves and canyons throughout the whole of Evermore Now that such sensitive information has fallen into scheming hands the Oakmen must work closely together and consult the Oracles and Chronicles to save Evermore from disaster

Mountain Environments John Gerrard, 1990 Using examples chosen from a variety of geographical settings and scales A J Gerrard presents a novel approach to the study of mountain environments He provides a framework in which mountains as special environments can be studied and shows how no matter what their location or origin all mountain regions share common characteristics and undergo similar shaping processes Gerrard s integrated approach combines ecological climatological hydrological volcanic and environmental management concerns in a systematic treatment of mountain geomorphology He begins by examining the special nature of mountains including a new classification of mountain types He discusses mountain ecosystems stressing the interaction between biota soil climate relief and geology examines the high energy systems of weathering and mass movement and analyzes the role of rivers and hydrology and the processes of slope evolution Two chapters are devoted to the particular characteristics of glaciation and vulcanism in mountain formation The book concludes with a discussion of the special problems that human use of mountain regions create including engineering natural hazards soil erosion and the concept of integrated development A J Gerrard is Lecturer in Geography at the University of Birmingham England

The Monkey Mountain Story Michael White,Bai Jin De,2013-03-19 The Monkey Mountain story started in a Canadian community health centre Over the past ten years it has been successfully introduced to groups attending community health and recreational centres and in retirement and nursing homes in diabetes and mental health programs Presentations at community college activation programs and at the Toronto Island Sunshine Center have resulted in Monkey Mountain being taken to many settings Tai Chi has real benefits for all ages But especially as we get older we can lose the ability or confidence to walk and move about easily That loss can be the result of physical changes or simply because of life factors such as our constant use of chairs Consider falls alone A serious fall in later years is often the event that may begin the loss of independence People who do Tai Chi and who do the Monkey Mountain story really do improve their balance and flexibility They avoid or recover from near falls They gain or regain their ability to walk or to enjoy exercise Being able to move about with confidence encourages socialization and adds to the enjoyment of living There is also a calming logic to the moves of Tai Chi and the Monkey Mountain story The concentration required to learn and play the moves clears the mind and relieves stress Tai Chi is sometimes called a moving meditation

Thinking Freedom in Africa Michael Neocosmos, 2016-12-01

Thinking Freedom in Africa conceives an emancipatory politics beginning from the axiom that people think Previous ways of conceiving the universal emancipation of humanity have in practice ended in failure Marxism anti colonial nationalism and neo liberalism all understand the achievement of universal emancipation through a form of state politics Marxism which had encapsulated the idea of freedom for most of the twentieth century was found wanting when it came to thinking emancipation because social interests and identities were understood as simply reflected in political subjectivity which could only lead to statist authoritarianism Neo liberalism and anti colonial nationalism have also both assumed that freedom is realizable through the state and have been equally authoritarian in their relations to those they have excluded on the African continent and elsewhere Thinking Freedom in Africa then conceives emancipatory politics beginning from the axiom that people think In other words the idea that anyone is capable of engaging in a collective thought practice which exceeds social place interests and identities and which thus begins to think a politics of universal humanity Using the work of thinkers such as Alain Badiou Jacques Rancière Sylvain Lazarus Frantz Fanon and many others along with the inventive thought of people themselves in their experiences of struggle the author proceeds to analyse how Africans themselves with agency of their own have thought emancipation during various historical political sequences and to show how emancipation may be thought today in a manner appropriate to twenty first century conditions and concerns
