of such food editors as Jane Nickerson Jeanne Voltz and Ruth Ellen Church who were unheralded pioneers in the field as well as Cecily Brownstone Poppy Cannon and Clementine Paddleford who are well known today an analysis of their work demonstrates changes in the country's culinary history. The book concludes with a look at how the women's pages folded at the same time that home economics saw its field transformed and with thoughts about the foundation that these women laid for the food journalism of today The Noir Thriller Lee Horsley, 2016-01-03 What is literary noir How do British and American noir thrillers relate to their historical contexts In considering such questions this study ranges over hundreds of novels analysing the politics and poetics of noir from the hard boiled fiction of Hammett Chandler and Cain to the exciting diversity of nineties thrillers with sections on the tough investigators gangsters and victims of the Depression years the first person killers femmes fatales and black protagonists of mid century the game players voyeurs and consumers of contemporary thrillers and future noir The China Threat Nancy Bernkopf Tucker, 2014-03-04 Nancy Bernkopf Tucker confronts the coldest period of the cold war the moment in which personality American political culture public opinion and high politics came together to define the Eisenhower Administration's policy toward China A sophisticated multidimensional account based on prodigious cutting edge research this volume convincingly portrays Eisenhower's private belief that close relations between the United States and the People's Republic of China were inevitable and that careful consideration of the PRC should constitute a critical part of American diplomacy Tucker provocatively argues that the Eisenhower Administration s hostile rhetoric and tough actions toward China obscure the president s actual views Behind the scenes Eisenhower and his Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pursued a more nuanced approach one better suited to China's specific challenges and the stabilization of the global community Tucker deftly explores the contradictions between Eisenhower and his advisors public and private positions Her most powerful chapter centers on Eisenhower's recognition that rigid trade prohibitions would undermine the global postwar economic recovery and push China into a closer relationship with the Soviet Union Ultimately Tucker finds Eisenhower's strategic thinking on Europe and his fear of toxic anticommunist domestic politics constrained his leadership making a fundamental shift in U S policy toward China difficult if not impossible Consequently the president was unable to engage congress and the public effectively on China ultimately failing to realize his own high standards as a leader Introduction to Criminology Frank E.
