New Designs Of Small Properties:

Pioneers of American Landscape Design Charles A. Birnbaum, Lisa E. Crowder, 1993 New Old House, 2010 New Old House offers ideas and the principles in creating a home with character. It is for readers who are serious about the design of their homes and want to create a home that looks like it has always been there while incorporating the comforts of today. Launched in 2004 Old House Journal's New Old House provides inspirational yet practical articles on how architects and homeowners work together to maintain the design integrity of the past in new houses. Editorial content features beautifully photographed new houses in classical regional styles, interviews with architects and craftspeople schooled in traditional design, sensitive addition case histories, a resource guide to traditional products and tips from designers who are well versed in reviving traditional styles in today's homes.

Small Houses Editors of Fine Homebuilding, 2019-04-30 In this new collection of small houses from Fine Homebuilding magazine, the authors look at houses both new and remodeled, traditional and modern, urban and rural, by the water and in the mountains. The houses exude as much style as homes many times their square footage and all are as big as they need to be to fit the lifestyles and aspirations of the people who live in them. Houses include bungalow on a budget, magnificent mountain cabin, family friendly remodel, garden cottage for low impact living, design build, delight in the desert, little house on an urban infill, modern Victorian in a mountain resort. With the growing popularity of small, micro and tiny houses, it's no surprise that the average house size is actually trending smaller in recent years.

Historic Residential Suburbs David L. Ames, Linda Flint McClelland, 2002 A Field Guide to American Houses (Revised) Virginia Savage McAlester, 2015-11-10 The fully expanded, updated and freshly designed second edition of the most comprehensive and widely acclaimed guide to domestic architecture in print since its original publication in 1984 and acknowledged everywhere as the unmatched essential guide to American houses. This revised edition includes a section on neighborhoods, expanded and completely new categories of house styles with photos and descriptions of each, an appendix on Approaches to Construction in the 20th and 21st Centuries, an expanded bibliography and 600 new photographs and line drawings.

The New Modern House Will Jones, 2005-04-07 Every architect dreams of a perfect client and every client dreams of a perfect architect. Alas, these relationships don't always work out to everyone's expectations. But when they do, when there are shared ideas and the communication flows, the results can be spectacular. The New Modern House features forty new buildings where the synergy between the right designer and the right client resulted in works that surpass everyone's expectations. The book is divided into five thematic chapters: conditions, materials, environment, budget and aesthetics, and each contains eight case studies. These include Rafael Violy's Piano House in New York, Sean Godsell's Peninsula House in Australia, and Ahadu Abaineh's Tree House in Ethiopia, among others. Beautifully produced, The New Modern House captures these noteworthy designs with a wealth of color photography, plans and drawings, and makes an ideal book for anybody dreaming of the perfect house.

Southern Homes and Plan Books Sarah J. Boykin, Susan M. Hunter, 2018-08-01 Southern Homes and Plan Books showcases the architectural legacy and design philosophy of Leila Ross Wilburn 1885-1967 a legacy that includes hundreds of houses in a variety of popular house styles from bungalows to ranch houses built using Wilburn's plan books during the first six decades of the twentieth century Wilburn opened her own firm in Atlanta in 1908 and practiced until her death in 1967 She published nine plan books that offered mail order house designs to contractors builders and prospective homeowners and allowed them the ease of choosing a preconceived design and construction plan Sarah J Boykin and Susan M Hunter provide a survey of the southern homes built from Wilburn's plan books examining Wilburn's architectural legacy and her achievements as a plan book architect The book provides beautiful photographs of houses built from her plans along with illustrations from the plan books themselves and other related documents from the time Readers can thus see how her designs were realized as individual houses and also how they influenced the development of some of the Atlanta area's beloved historical neighborhoods most notably Druid Hills Morningside Virginia Highland and Candler Park as well as the McDonough Adams Kings Highway MAK Historic District in Decatur Today Wilburn's houses are enjoyed as appealing historic homes and represent some of the richest examples of southern vernacular architecture to emerge from the plan book tradition

A House in the Sun Daniel A. Barber, 2016-10-13 A House in the Sun describes a number of experiments in solar house heating in American architectural engineering political economic and corporate contexts from the beginning of World War II until the late 1950s Houses were built across the Midwest Northeast and Southwestern United States and also proposed for sites in India South Africa and Morocco These experiments developed in parallel to transformations in the discussion of modern architecture relying on new materials and design ideas for both energy efficiency and claims to cultural relevance Architects were among the myriad cultural and scientific actors to see the solar house as an important designed element of the American future These experiments also developed as part of a wider analysis of the globe as an interconnected geophysical system Perceived resource limitations in the immediate postwar period led to new understandings of the relationship between energy technology and economy The solar house both as a charged object in the milieu of suburban expansion and as a means to raise the standard of living in developing economies became an important site for social technological and design experimentation This led to new forms of expertise in architecture and other professions Daniel Barber argues that this mid century interest in solar energy was one of the first episodes in which resource limitations were seen as an opportunity for design to attain new relevance for potential social and cultural transformations Furthermore the solar discussion established both an intellectual framework and a funding structure for the articulation of and response to global environmental concerns in subsequent decades In presenting evidence of resource tensions at the beginning of the Cold War the book offers a new perspective on the histories of architecture technology and environmentalism one more fully entangled with the often competing dynamics of geopolitical and geophysical pressures

Popular Science ,1965-02 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better The British Architect ,1912 Architect and Engineer ,1921 Bulletin ,1925 An Uncommon Cape Eleanor Phillips Brackbill,2012-09-07 When Eleanor Phillips Brackbill bought her suburban Westchester house in 2000 three mysteries came with it First from the former owner came the information that the 1930s house was a Sears house or something like that Thrilled to think it might be a Sears Roebuck Co mail order house Brackbill was determined to find evidence to prove it She found instead a house pedigree of a different sort Second and even more provocative was the discovery of several iron stakes protruding from the property s enormous granite outcropping bigger in square footage than the house itself When queried about them the former owner told her Someone a long time ago kept monkeys there chained to the stakes Monkeys Was this some kind of suburban legend A third mystery came to light at closing when a building inspector s letter contained a reference to the house having had at one time a different address Why would the house have had another address Her curiosity aroused and intent upon finding the facts Brackbill gradually peeled back layers of history allowing the house and the land to tell their stories and uncovering a past inextricably woven into four centuries of American history At the same time she found thirty two owners across 350 years who had just one thing in common ownership of a particular parcel of land An Uncommon Cape not only tells the story of an eight year odyssey of fact finding and speculation but also answers the broader question What came before and through material presented in twenty two sidebars offers readers insights and guidelines on how to find the stories behind their own homes

Houses from Books Daniel D. Reiff, 2010-11-01 Many homes across America have designs based on plans taken from pattern books or mail order catalogs In Houses from Books Daniel D Reiff traces the history of published plans and offers the first comprehensive survey of their influence on the structure and the style of American houses from 1738 to 1950 Houses from Books shows that architectural publications from Palladio's I Quattro Libri to Aladdin's Ready Cut Homes played a decisive role in every aspect of American domestic building Reiff discusses the people and the firms who produced the books as well as the ways in which builders and architects adapted the designs in communities throughout the country His book also offers a wide ranging analysis of the economic and social conditions shaping American building practices As architectural publication developed and grew more sophisticated it played an increasingly prominent part in the design and the construction of domestic buildings In villages and small towns which often did not have professional architects the publications became basic resources for carpenters and builders at all levels of expertise Through the use of published designs they were able to choose among a variety of plans styles and individual motifs and engage in a fruitful dialogue with past and present architects Houses from Books reconstructs this dialogue by examining the links between the published designs and the houses themselves Reiff's book will be indispensable to architectural historians architects preservationists and regional historians Realtors and homeowners will also find it of great interest A catalog at the end of the book can function as a guide for those attempting to locate a model and a date for a particular design Houses from Books contains a wealth of photographs many by the author that enhance its importance as a history and guide
