Gardens in the Modern Landscape Christopher Tunnard, 2014-07-11 Between 1937 and 1938 garden designer Christopher Tunnard

published a series of articles in the British Architectural Review that rejected the prevailing English landscape style Inspired by the principles of Modernist art and Japanese aesthetics Tunnard called for a new technique in garden design that emphasized an integration of form and purpose The functional garden avoids the extremes both of the sentimental expressionism of the wild garden and the intellectual classicism of the formal garden he wrote it embodies rather a spirit of rationalism and through an aesthetic and practical ordering of its units provides a friendly and hospitable milieu for rest and recreation Tunnard's magazine pieces were republished in book form as Gardens in the Modern Landscape in 1938 and a revised second edition was issued a decade later Taken together these articles constituted a manifesto for the modern garden its influence evident in the work of such figures as Lawrence Halprin Philip Johnson and Edward Larrabee Barnes Long out of print the book is here reissued in a facsimile of the 1948 edition accompanied by a contextualizing foreword by John Dixon Hunt Gardens in the Modern Landscape heralded a sea change in the evolution of twentieth century design and it also anticipated questions of urban sprawl historic preservation and the dynamic between the natural and built environments Available once more to students practitioners and connoisseurs it stands as a historical document and an invitation to continued innovative thought about landscape architecture

The Garden, 1880 Contemporary Garden Aesthetics, Creations and Interpretations Michel Conan, 2007 Using a variety of critical perspectives this text demonstrates a renewal of garden design and directions for garden aesthetics analysing projects by Fernando Chacel Brazil Andy Goldsworthy Great Britain Charles Jencks Great Britain Patricia Johanson U S and Bernard Lassus France The Garden, an illustrated weekly journal of horticulture in all its branches, 1896 The Garden [London], 1892 Ecology, 1922 Settings and Stray Paths Marc Treib, 2018-10-24 These collected works represent twenty five years of study of the designed landscape which the author here takes to include gardens cemeteries plazas and other shared spaces Asking essential questions about the nature of order and its perception this book includes in its impressive scope analyses of both historic and modern works with a geographical distribution that extends across Europe Asia and North America With unique depth in many areas of study Treib brings his expertise to bear on a range of inter related and mutually influential issues within the subject taking in an assessment of the lives and contributions of a number of leading figures in the field the contents of a landscape and the meanings ascribed to it and a theoretical formulation of the ideas from which or by which landscape architecture is produced
