The Peacekeeping Economy Lloyd J. Dumas, 2011-09-20 DIVThe idea that military strength is virtually synonymous with security is deeply entrenched and widely held But while the threat or use of military force may sometimes be necessary it cannot keep us as safe as we would be by building relationships that replace hostility with a sense of mutual purpose and mutual gain Economic relationships says Lloyd J Dumas can offer a far more effective and far less costly means of maintaining security After defining the right kind of economic relationship one that is balanced and nonexploitative emphasizes development and minimizes environmental damage Dumas then addresses some practical concerns in establishing and maintaining these relationships He also considers the practical problems of the transition from military based security arrangements to economic peacekeeping and the effects of demilitarized security on economic development and prosperity div

Special Bibliography Series, 1957 Sponsoring Nature Maano Ramutsindela, Marja Spierenburg, Harry Wels, 2013-11-05 Saving the world's flora and fauna especially high profile examples such as chimpanzees whales and the tropical rain forests is big business Individuals and companies channel their resources to the preservation of nature through various ways one of which is the funding of environmental non governmental organizations ENGOs and community based organizations CBOs This book is the first to comprehensively address this issue and focus on a dominant theme in environmental philanthropy the links between ENGOs and CBOs and their sponsors especially the private sector It has been argued that donor support is based on recipient s perceived expertise and needs with no favouritism of flagship environmental organizations as recipients of donor funds A counterview holds that the private sector prefers to fund mainstream ENGOs for environmental research and policy reforms congenial to industrial capital The authors show that the debate about these arguments together with the empirical evidence on which they are based may shed light on certain aspects of the nature of environmental philanthropy The book evaluates practical examples of environmental philanthropy from Africa and elsewhere against philosophical questions about the material and geographical expressions of philanthropy and the North South connections among philanthropists and ENGOs and CBOs
