The Impact of Watching Violent Television Programs on Secondary School Children in Tanzania Watson Lupogo Masiba, 2016-06-14 Violent television programs are highly preferred by children They stimulate their emotions and increase curiosity about violence related issues This means that watching violent television programs has an impact upon their way of perceiving the world around them and acting in response to it This study investigated the impacts of watching violent television programs on secondary school children in Tanzania The specific objectives were to examine children s accessibility to the TV ascertain the types of violent TV programs and the time children spend watching them determine the ways in which watching violent TV programs affects their academic performance find out the impact of watching violent TV programs on their discipline and examine the role of parents in addressing the impacts of watching violent TV programs upon their children Results indicate that most secondary school children watch violent TV programs at home in the sitting rooms They spend an average of three hours per day on weekdays and seven and half hours on weekends watching movies music drama and informational programs that were identified as the most violent ones Obviously spending lots of time watching violent TV programs decreases children s academic performance and discipline This book is important because it discusses the parents role in discouraging and limiting children from watching violent TV programs and choosing appropriate TV programs for them

The Age of the Borderlands Andrew C. Isenberg, 2025-04-14 In The Age of the Borderlands acclaimed historian Andrew C Isenberg offers a new history of manifest destiny that breaks from triumphalist narratives of US territorial expansion Isenberg takes readers to the contested borders of Spanish Florida Missouri New Mexico California Texas and Minnesota at critical moments in the early to mid nineteenth century demonstrating that the architects of American expansion faced significant challenges from the diverse groups of people inhabiting each region In other words while the manifest destiny paradigm begins with an assumption of US strength the government and the agents it dispatched to settle and control the frontier had only a weak presence Tracing the interconnected histories of Indians slaves antislavery reformers missionaries federal agents and physicians Isenberg shows that the United States was repeatedly forced to accommodate the presence of other colonial empires and powerful Indigenous societies Anti expansionists in the borderlands welcomed the precarity of the government's power the land on which they dwelled was a grand laboratory where they could experiment with their alternative visions for American society Examining the borderlands offers an understanding not just about frontier spaces but about the nature of the early American state ambitiously expansionist but challenged by its native and imperial competitors Africa South of the Sahara 2003 Europa Publications,2002-10-31 A one volume library of essential and comprehensive data on all the countries of sub Saharan Africa including essays on regional issues statistical surveys and directories of invaluable contact names and addresses Essentials of Neonatal Ventilation, 1st edition, E-book Rajiv PK,Satyan
