Religious Processes The Puranas And The Making Of A Regional Tradition:

Religious Process Kunal Chakrabarti, 2001 This volume traces the evolution of a process of interaction between brahmanism and the indigenous social groups of Bengal during the early medieval period Religious Process Kunal Chakrabarti, 2018-03-20 This book traces the evolution of a process of interaction between Brahmanism and the indigenous social groups of Bengal during the early medieval period Following the logic of cultural negotiation implicit in the Puranas composed in Bengal the book unravels a pattern that governed this relationship of reciprocity contestation and domination Two significant methodological issues have been addressed the manner in which didactic Sanskrit texts can be read for the reconstruction of early Indian history and the application of anthropological models such as great and little traditions to such texts for a more comprehensive understanding of the Indian culture continuum The book focuses on Bengal but cultural negotiations refers to a fundamental civilizational process common to most regions in India and as such has wider relevance Postcolonial Theory and the Making of Hindu Nationalism Meera Nanda, 2025-06-06 This book tells the story of two strange bedfellows the Postcolonial Left and the Hindu Right It argues that the Postcolonial Left's relentless attacks on the epistemic violence of Western norms of rationality and modernity are providing the conceptual vocabulary for the Hindu Right's project of decolonizing the Hindu mind The postcolonial project of provincializing Europe is widely shared by the Hindu Right and harks back to the Hindu revivalist movements of the nineteenth century This book argues that postcolonial thought in India bears a strong family resemblance in context and content with the conservative revolution that brought down the Weimar Republic in Germany before the Nazi takeover Both an intellectual history of India through the last half century and a critical engagement with postcolonial theory this book will be of interest to scholars of South Asia and the humanities and social sciences at large Pilgrimage and Politics in Colonial Bengal Imma Ramos, 2017-03-16 Reviving Sati's corpse Mother India tours and Hindutva in the twenty first century Bibliography Index The Routledge Handbook of the State in Premodern India Hermann Kulke, Bhairabi Prasad Sahu, 2022-01-13 This handbook presents a multilayered and multidimensional history of state formation in premodern India It explores dense and rich local and subregional historiography from the mid first millennium BC to the eighteenth century in South Asia Shifting the focus away from economic and political factors this handbook revises the conventional understanding of states and empires and locates them in their quotidian conduct and activity on socio cultural and concomitant factors Comprehensive in scope this handbook addresses a range of themes connected with the idea of state formation in the subcontinent It includes discussions and debates on ritual practices and the Brahmanical order in early India the Delhi Sultanate and role of Sultans among the Hindu kings the cosmopolitan Islamic cultural influences on Puranic Hinduism cultural background of the Mughal state The handbook examines new questions and ideologies of state formation such as facets of violence and resistance the significance of the autonomous spaces and forests regional elites including Little kings tribal background of some famous cults trade and maritime commerce royal patronage courtly manners lineage formation imperial architecture monuments and temple among others Featuring case studies from different part of the India subcontinent and with contributions by renowned historians this authoritative handbook will be an indispensable reading for teachers scholars and students of early India medieval India premodern India South Asian history Asian history historiography economic history historical sociology and South Asia studies

Caste, Culture and Hegemony Sekhar Bandyopadhyay, 2004-08-19 It is widely believed that because of its exceptional social development the caste system in colonial Bengal differed considerably from the rest of India Through a study of the complex interplay between caste culture and power this book convincingly demonstrates that Bengali Hindu society preserved the essentials of caste discrimination in colonial times even while giving the outward appearance of having changed Using empirical data combined with an impressive array of secondary sources Dr Bandyopadhyay delineates the manner in which Hindu caste society maintained its cultural hegemony and structural cohesion This was primarily achieved by frustrating reformist endeavours by co-opting the challenges of the dalit and by marginalising dissidence It was through such a process of constant negotiation in the realm of popular culture argues the author that this oppressive social structure and its hierarchical ideology and values have survived Starting with an examination of the relationship between caste and power the book examines early cultural encounters between high Brahmanical tradition and the more egalitarian popular religious cults of the lower castes It moves on to take a close look at the relationship between caste and gender showing the reasons why the reform movement for widow remarriage failed It ends with an examination of the Hindu partition campaign which appropriated dalit autonomous politics and made Hinduism the foundation of an emergent Indian national identity Sekhar Bandyopadhyay breaks with many of the assumptions of two important schools of thought the Dumontian and the subaltern and takes instead a more nuanced approach to show how high caste hegemony has been able to perpetuate itself He thus takes up issues which go to the heart of contemporary problems in India's social and political fabric This important and original contribution will be widely welcomed by historians sociologists and political scientists

Notions of Nationhood in Bengal: Perspectives on Samaj, c. 1867-1905 Swarupa Gupta, 2009-06-24 This book reopens the debate on colonial nationalisms going beyond derivative borrowed political and modernist paradigms It introduces the conceptual category of samaj to demonstrate how indigenous socio-cultural origins in Bengal interacted with late colonial discourses to produce the notion of a nation Samaj a historical society and an idea in practice was a site for reconfiguring antecedents and negotiating fragmentation Drawing on indigenous sources this study shows how caste class ethnicity region and community were refracted to conceptualise wider unities The mapping of cultural continuities through change facilitates a more nuanced investigation of the ontology of nationhood seeing it as related to but more than political nationalism It outlines a fresh paradigm for recalibrating postcolonial identities offering interpretive strategies to mediate fragmentation

Poetics of Conduct Leela Prasad, 2007 Leela Prasad's riveting book presents everyday stories on subjects such as deities ascetics cats and cooking along with stylized publicly delivered ethical discourse and shows that the study of oral narrative and performance is essential to ethical inquiry Prasad builds on more than a decade of her ethnographic research in the famous Hindu pilgrimage town of Sringeri Karnataka in southwestern India where for centuries a vibrant local culture has flourished alongside a tradition of monastic authority Oral narratives and the seeing and doing orientations that are part of everyday life compel the question How do individuals imagine the normative and negotiate and express it when normative sources are many and diverging Moral persuasiveness Prasad suggests is intimately tied to the aesthetics of narration and imagination plays a vital role in shaping how people create refute or relate to text moral authority and community Lived understandings of ethics keep notions of text and practice in flux and raise questions about the constitution of theory itself Prasad s innovative use of ethnography poetics philosophy of language and narrative and performance studies demonstrates how the moral self with a capacity for artistic expression is dynamic and gendered with a historical presence and a political agency

Empire of Labor Titas Chakraborty, 2025-03-04 Empire of Labor tells the story of how hired workers experienced and responded to the rise to power over the long eighteenth century of the English East India Company EIC which perennially hired thousands of people in and around its settlements in Bengal Focusing on boatmen and silk reelers as well as sailors and soldiers a remarkable look at both indigenous and European workers the story begins with the earliest accounts of the EIC s dealings with hired labor in the region from 1651 Prior to EIC dominance hired workers drove hard bargains with their employers making demands that drew upon their own notions of wages work rhythms and time When their demands were not met they ran away often to rival indigenous or European employers Empire of Labor explores these demands and how they conflicted with the EIC s notions of discipline Analyzing Bengali literary sources and Dutch and English archival materials the book rethinks the ascendancy of the company state as a violent process involving removing competing employers imposing army and police power introducing new production technologies and instituting draconian regulations which eliminated indigenous cultures of work Most importantly it depicts the lifeworlds of these recalcitrant workers showing how they lived and resisted A major intervention in histories of colonialism labor migration and law Empire of Labor ultimately recasts colonial rule as a novel form of state labor relationship

Decolonizing Theory Aditya Nigam, 2021-12-30 Decolonizing Theory Thinking across Traditions aims at disentangling theory from its exclusively Western provenance drawing insights and concepts from other thought traditions connecting to what it argues is a new global moment in the reconstitution of theory The key argument which is the point of departure of the book is that any serious theorizing in the non West should be fundamentally suspicious of any theory that only gives you one result that four fifths of the world does not and cannot do anything right Everything in the non West from its modernity and secularism to its democracy and even capitalism is always seen to be deficient In other words all it tells us is that we do not live up to the standards set by Western modernity From this point of departure it seeks to create a conceptual space outside Western modernity and capitalism by insisting on a rethink of non synchronous synchronicities The book takes three key themes around which the whole story of modernity can be unraveled namely the question of the political capital and historical time and secularism for a detailed discussion It does so by bracketing in a sense the autobiographical story that Western modernity gives itself In each case it tries to show that past forms never simply disappear without residue to be fully supplanted by the modern and merely applying theory produced in one context to another is therefore very misleading

Unforgetting Chaitanya Varuni Bhatia, 2017 Religion in decline in an age of progress Untidy realms A Swadeshi Chaitanya Recovering Bishnupriya's loss Utopia and a birthplace Spatializing Popular Sufi Shrines in Punjab Yogesh Snehi, 2019-04-24 This book explores the organic lives of popular Sufi shrines in contemporary Northwest India It traverses the worldview of shrine spaces rituals and their complex narratives and provides an insight into their urban and rural landscapes in the post Partition Indian Punjab What happened to these shrines when attempts were made to dissuade Sikhs Muslims and Hindus from their veneration of popular saints in the early twentieth century What was the fate of popular shrines that persisted even when the Muslim population was virtually wiped off as a result of migration during Partition How did these shrines manifest in the context of the threat posed by militants in the 1980s How did such popular practices reconfigure themselves when some important centres of Sufism were left behind in the West Punjab now Pakistan This book examines several of these questions and utilizes a combination of analytical tools new theoretical tropes and an ethnographic approach to understand and situate popular Sufi shrines so that they are both historicized and spatialized As such it lays out some crucial contours of the method and practice of understanding popular sacred spaces within India and elsewhere

bridging the everyday and the metanarratives of power structures and state formation This book will be useful to scholars researchers and those engaged in interdisciplinary work in history social anthropology historical sociology cultural studies historical geography religion and art history as well as those interested in Sufism and its shrines in South Asia Global Tantra Julian Strube, 2022 Global Tantra explores the global exchanges that shaped a subject often associated with sexuality social liberation and bodily wellbeing but that also offers insights into political and religious developments in colonial India involving race education and national identity The study elides boundaries in disciplinary historical and regional contexts tackles issues such as revivalism and reformism and provides an integrative approach that suggests ideas to advance the debate about post colonialism and cultural appropriation Deities and Devotees Uma Maheswari Bhrugubanda, 2018-09-18 How have cinema and popular religion shaped each other Is the display of devotion in a cinema hall the same as devotion in a temple How do we understand cinema's compelling power to mesmerize people Unlike Hindi cinema mythological and devotional films remained popular genres in Telugu and Tamil too until quite recently The political success of film star N T Rama Rao well known for his portrayal of gods and kings posed afresh the problem of cinema's power to enthrall To what extent viewers were persuaded of his divinity became a matter of debate In later decades the figure of another kind of viewer haunted the discourses around cinema that of the female viewer who got possessed during screenings of goddess films Using questions around viewership as the focal point this book studies the intersections between popular cinema religion and politics in South India The first full length study of Telugu mythological and devotional films it combines an account of the history and politics of these genres with an anthropology of film making and viewership practices It argues that cinema and other audio visual technologies lead to the re orientation of sensibilities and the cultivation of new sensory modes The Cultures of History in Early Modern India Kumkum Chatterjee, 2009-02-11 This book examines the nature and function of history writing in India by focusing on early modern traditions of historiography with particular reference to Bengal Situating distinctive cultures of history vis vis their relevant political and cultural contexts it highlights the richness variety and politically sensitive character of a range of oral and textual narratives Kumkum Chatterjee also makes a significant contribution to the intellectual and cultural history of early modern India by exploring interactions between regional vernacular cultures on the one hand and the Islamicate Persianized culture of the Mughal Empire on the other Strongly grounded in primary sources The Cultures of History in Early Modern India re examines the concepts of authority evidence and method in early modern historiography It also discusses the debates surrounding the culture of history writing in India Archaeology of Buddhism, 2025-10-27 The archaeology of Buddhism involves the recovery and scientific investigation of the material remains of past cultures that can illuminate the periods events and other descriptions mentioned in the religious texts The geographical distribution of the adherents of Buddhism spread rapidly after the mahaparinirvana of the Lord Buddha the Enlightened One India was the fulcrum of Buddhism in the ancient world but today

the whole of South Asia covering Afghanistan Bangladesh Bhutan India Maldives Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka is replete with innumerable material remains of the past which can be associated with the Lord Buddha and Buddhism Many of these sites have been inscribed on the UNESCO s list of World Heritage properties This book contains 40 contributions by 55 leading archaeologists historians and other experts in the field of South Asian art and archaeology These contributions range from the country reports on recent discoveries of Buddhist sites and remains in South Asia to in depth studies in Buddhist archaeology art and architecture of this region Other topics included in this volume discuss the cultural geography of the Buddhist archaeological sites their digital mapping using advanced ICT tools the archaeology of the Buddhist monasteries as well as their relationship with contemporary society These essays read together present a narrative that transcends borders and defies time It is hoped that this volume will underscore the imperative need for institutionalizing the archaeology of Buddhism as a specialized branch of the study of our shared heritage and will promote a better appreciation of the archaeological heritage of Buddhism that binds the SAARC nations with a common historical and cultural thread SAARC Cultural Centre and Sri Lanka

Caste, Communication and Power Biswajit Das, Debendra Prasad Majhi, 2021-07-12 Caste Communication and Power explores communication and the constitution of caste in Indian society Intimately connected both communication and caste are determined by historical developments The book looks at communication as a lens to study caste and power relations with its immense potential to shape perception and affect ground reality It also studies the evolution of the conceptual and theoretical foundations of caste and power relations and maps their emergence from communicative resources and practices These communication practices are inevitably linked to the social structure with their reliance on symbolic forms of self expression often revealing the underlying ideological attitudes The book studies this interface of culture and media evaluating the caste question and the associated power relations in terms of modes of communication practised in the society
