Sankaran Krishna, 2009 Globalization has become a widely used buzzword yet popular discussions often miss its deeper realities This book offers the first clear explanation of the impact of colonialist legacies in a globalized world in an era defined by the War on Terror Sankaran Krishna explores the history of the relationship between Western dominance and the forms of resistance that have emerged to challenge it Moving beyond the simple formulation of They hate us because we are rich we are free and they are crazy he asks What have we done that might generate such animosity What face has the United States presented to the developing world over time Krishna argues that we live on an interrelated globe that history matters a great deal in constructing contemporary realities and that others create stories or narratives about the world based on their experiences just as we do based on ours He contends that the interactions between the West and the non West have not been politically innocent economically egalitarian or culturally benign in their consequences Presenting a lucid exploration of the intertwined histories of both globalization and postcolonialism this book uses compelling real world examples to make sense of this crucial relationship Postcolonial Studies Pramod K. early 1980s The Companion turns an authoritative engaged and discriminating lens on postcolonial literary studies The Postcolonial Science and Technology Studies Reader Sandra Harding, 2011-09-12 A collection of foundational and contemporary essays in postcolonial science studies

Tertullian the African David E. Wilhite, 2011-06-24 Who was Tertullian and what can we know about him This work explores his social identities focusing on his North African milieu Theories from the discipline of social cultural anthropology including kinship class and ethnicity are accommodated and applied to selections of Tertullian's writings In light of postcolonial concerns this study utilizes the categories of Roman colonizers indigenous Africans and new elites The third category new elites is actually intended to destabilize the other two denying any essential Roman or African identity Thereafter samples from Tertullian's writings serve to illustrate comparisons of his own identities and the identities of his rhetorical opponents The overall study finds Tertullian's identities to be manifold complex and discursive Additionally his writings are understood to reflect antagonism toward Romans including Christian Romans which is significant for his so called Montanism and Romanized Africans While Tertullian accommodates much from Graeco Roman literature laws and customs he nevertheless retains a strongly stated non Roman ness and an African ity which is highlighted in the present monograph The Routledge Companion To Postcolonial Studies John McLeod, 2007-10-09 With an A Z of the key writers and thinkers central to contemporary postcolonial study and featuring historical maps and full cross referencing throughout this is a comprehensive introduction to the history of the great European empires and the cultural legacies they left in their wake

Postcolonial Criticism and Representations of African Dictatorship Cecile Bishop, 2017-07-05 The figure of the dictator looms large in representations of postcolonial Africa Since the late 1970s writers film makers and theorists have sought to represent the realities of dictatorship without endorsing the colonialist cliches portraying Africans as incapable of self government Against the heavily politicized responses provoked by this dilemma Bishop argues for a form of criticism that places the complexity of the reader's or spectator's experiences at the heart of its investigations Ranging across literature film and political theory this study calls for a reengagement with notions often seen as unwelcome diversions from political questions such as referentiality genre and aesthetics But rather than pit political approaches against formal and aesthetic procedures the author presents new insights into the interplay of the political and the aesthetic Cecile Bishop is a Junior Research Fellow in French at Somerville College Oxford

A Postcolonial Reading of post-1945 East-Central European Culture* Cristina Sandru, 2013-01-16 This study explores the relation of the Eastern European problematic to postcolonial critical practice interrogating the extent to which postcolonialism can help illuminate instances of imperial domination in non Third World contexts It argues that colonisation is to be understood principally as a condition of ideological domination that has engendered similar forms of literary and cultural resistance consequently it offers a comparative framework which enables a reading in differential contexts of texts that ostensibly have little in common but which on close examination reveal a shared imaginative space rhetoric and narrative agency The book consists of two interrelated parts Part one is a critical discussion of the ideologies cultural imaginaries and representational practices articulated in a diverse range of representative postcolonial and post 1945 East Central European texts these are shown to share despite dissimilar conditions of production uncannily related narrative modes and thematic emphases Part two is a comparative literature case study which discusses two authors whose work is both highly representative of the cultural formations discussed in the first part Milan Kundera and Salman Rushdie and at the same time highly controversial The chapters dedicated to Kundera's and Rushdie's work examine the cultural geography of their novels particularly in the writers use of memory and story telling to reconfigure history and personal identity in conditions of literal and metaphorical displacement While their novels thrive on ironic subversion and ambiguity they simultaneously gesture towards a redemptive space of the imagination transcending the constraints of both locality and history Postcolonial Writers in the Global Literary Marketplace S. Brouillette, 2007-05-16 Combining analysis with detailed accounts of authors careers and the global trade in literature this book assesses how postcolonial writers respond to their own reception and niche positioning parading their exotic otherness to metropolitan audiences within a global marketplace Postcolonial Locations Robert Spencer, Anastasia Valassopoulos, 2020-10-19 Postcolonial Locations seeks to clarify the meaning of the postcolonial through close textual readings and prioritises material and located readings over more abstract theoretical discussions it seeks to reorient the field by providing practical explorations of what the discipline is for The book begins with an introduction of the key theoretical debates in the field between the universal and the particular the global and the local but it then goes on to demonstrate via a series of close textual readings that these distinctions are not always useful and that we can achieve a more comprehensive and complete reading of the multiple times places and texts in which colonial power is both exerted and fought An engaging and comprehensive guide to contemporary postcolonial studies this book is essential reading for students as well as professors The Postcolonial Challenge Couze Venn, 2006-01-24 An outstanding contribution to our understanding of postcolonial theory and its engagement with significant changes within the contemporary world Couze

Venn forces us to rethink the very parameters of the post colonial and suggests a new political economy for post modern times This critical engagement opens up the possibility to reimagine the world from its current narrow European strictures to a world full of alternative possibilities and modernities This is a timely and ground breaking book that contributes to a much needed reconceptualisation of the postcolony Professor Pal Ahluwalia Goldsmiths University of London What is postcolonial studies What are its achievements strengths and weaknesses This ground breaking book offers an essential guide to one of the most important issues of our time with special emphasis on neo liberalism within world poverty and the third world It clarifies The territory of postcolonial studies How identity and postcolonialism relate The ties between postcolonialism and modernity New perspectives in the light of recent geo political events Potential future developments in the subject

Postcolonial Custodianship Filippo Menozzi, 2014-02-05 This book engages with current developments in postcolonial research exploring notions of cultural transmission tradition and modernity authenticity cross cultural aesthetics and postcolonial ethics The author considers the ethical responsibility of the postcolonial intellectual enhancing our understanding of this topic through the concept of custodianship which may be defined as a responsibility towards the other in forms of cultural and literary inheritance The author introduces custodianship as a central theme and a vital question for the committed intellectual today proposing original interpretations of major postcolonial texts by key figures including Anita Desai Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Mahasweta Devi and Arundhati Roy Through close reading and historical analysis Postcolonial Custodianship reveals that a practice of custodianship has always been an essential element of these writers ethical engagement yet in a way that has never been explored The author contends that the question of custodianship should not be seen as a merely negative designation it is by redefining the very meaning of custodianship that the ethical dimension of postcolonialism can be rediscovered

Post-Colonial Theology Robert S. Heaney, 2019-05-08 Hate is unveiled on our streets Politics is polarized and the cohesion of communities is under stress and threat Religious and theological leaders appear compromised or paralyzed Robert S Heaney grew up in a Northern Ireland where enmity paraded itself and policed the boundaries between segregated identities and aspirations Such conflict with deep historic roots is inextricably linked to religion and colonization The theologizing of colonialism and the ongoing implications of colonialism cannot be ignored by those who wish to understand the most intractable of human conflicts Religious adherents and scholars are increasingly seeking to understand colonialism and decolonization in theological terms The field of post colonial studies across a range of contexts and in a complex network of inter disciplinary analyses has emerged as a major scholarly movement seeking to provide resources for such a task Theologians have increasingly seen the field as a resource and have made their own contributions to its development However depending as it does on a series of theoretical and technical commitments post colonialism remains inaccessible to the uninitiated Beginning with his own particular context of formation in this book Heaney provides an accessible introduction to post colonial theology
