Remaking Life Death:

An Anthropology of Biomedicine Margaret M. Lock, Vinh-Kim Nguyen, 2011-09-09 An Anthropology of Biomedicine is an exciting new introduction to biomedicine and its global implications Focusing on the ways in which the application of biomedical technologies bring about radical changes to societies at large cultural anthropologist Margaret Lock and her co author physician and medical anthropologist Vinh Kim Nguyen develop and integrate the thesis that the human body in health and illness is the elusive product of nature and culture that refuses to be pinned down Introduces biomedicine from an anthropological perspective exploring the entanglement of material bodies with history environment culture and politics Develops and integrates an original theory that the human body in health and illness is not an ontological given but a moveable malleable entity Makes extensive use of historical and contemporary ethnographic materials around the globe to illustrate the importance of this methodological approach Integrates key new research data with more classical material covering the management of epidemics famines fertility and birth by military doctors from colonial times on Uses numerous case studies to illustrate concepts such as the global commodification of human bodies and body parts modern forms of population and the extension of biomedical technologies into domestic and intimate domains Winner of the 2010 Prose Award for Archaeology and Anthropology

Biomedicalization Adele E. Clarke, Laura Mamo, Jennifer Ruth Fosket, Jennifer R. Fishman, Janet K. Shim, 2010-08-31 Essays describing how dramatic and especially technoscientific changes in the constitution organization and practices of contemporary biomedicine have coalesced since the mid 1980s in biomedicalization the second transformation of American medicine

Remaking Humanity Adam Beyt, 2024-08-22 Drawing upon Edward Schillebeeckx's theology and Judith Butler's philosophy Adam Beyt uses the framework of nonviolent hope to construct a Catholic political theology responding to dehumanizing violence Dehumanizing violence names words institutions or acts violating the inherent dignity of being made in the image and likeness of God Theology can participate in dehumanizing violence by claiming an uninterrogated universality that marginalizes bodies due to their perceived differences such as gender race sexuality or ability The book's constructive project integrates Schillebeeckx's and Butler's thought with queer theory and phenomenology to model embodiment as an enfleshing dynamism between bodies and signification The text then posits Catholic discipleship as incarnating hope by defending the humanum the new humanity announced through God's Reign Combining reflections from Schillebeeckx and Butler this hope centers discipleship as nonviolent world building Concluding with a sustained reflection with the writings of Franz Fanon and Walter Benjamin the final chapter sketches a Catholic solidaristic response to contemporary struggles against the necropolitics of colonizing and state violence through assemblies of hope

Living and Dying in the Contemporary World Veena Das, Clara Han, 2015-11-17 Taking a novel approach to the contradictory impulses of violence and care illness and healing this book radically shifts the way we think of the interrelations of institutions and experiences in a globalizing world Living and Dying in the Contemporary World is not just another reader in medical anthropology but a true tour de force a deep exploration of all that makes life unbearable and yet livable through the labor of ordinary people This book comprises forty four chapters by scholars whose ethnographic and historical work is conducted around the globe including South Asia East Asia Latin America Africa the Middle East Europe and the United States Bringing together the work of established scholars with the vibrant voices of younger scholars Living and Dying in the Contemporary World will appeal to anthropologists sociologists health scientists scholars of religion and all who are curious about how to relate to the rapidly changing institutions and experiences in an ever more connected world

Stem Cell Research in Asia Margaret Sleeboom-Faulkner, 2016-03-22 The great hurry to realise promised cures in stem cell research requires regulation to guarantee bioethical research practices Yet increasingly similar national guidelines for stem cell research yields a range of diverging research practices This book shows how the different rationale of regulation affects stem cell research practices in Asia In low and medium income countries such as India and China the advancement of science has a different weight on the national agenda and the evaluation of scientific research is measured with a different yardstick depending on the political and national research environment For developing countries the question of research funding into stem cell research healthcare and the donation of embryos fetuses and oocytes entail different considerations compared to in affluent welfare societies Moreover research institutions have different cultural and political histories so that the meaning of formal guidelines legislation and social rules may differ according to their various institutional settings This volume discusses the informal cultures social conventions and traditions that are crucial to the way in which stem cell research takes place in Asia This book was originally published as a special issue of New Genetics and Society

Assisted Reproduction Across Borders Merete Lie, Nina Lykke, 2016-10-04 Today it often seems as though Assisted Reproductive Technologies ARTs have reached a stage of normalization at least in some countries and among certain social groups Apparently some practices for example in vitro fertilization IVF have become standard worldwide The contributors to Assisted Reproduction Across Borders argue against normalization as an uncontested overall trend This volume reflects on the state of the art of ARTs From feminist perspectives the contributors focus on contemporary political debates triggered by ARTs They examine the varying ways in which ARTs are interpreted and practised in different contexts depending on religious moral and political approaches Assisted Reproduction Across Borders embeds feminist analysis of ARTs across a wide variety of countries and cultural contexts discussing controversial practices such as surrogacy from the perspective of the global South as well as the global North as well as inequalities in terms of access to IVF This volume will appeal to scholars and students of anthropology ethnography philosophy political science history sociology film studies media studies literature art history area studies and interdisciplinary areas such as gender studies cultural studies and postcolonial studies

Matching Organs with Donors Marie-Andrée Jacob, 2012-08-16 While the traffic in human organs stirs outrage and condemnation donations of such material are perceived as highly ethical In reality the line between illicit trafficking and admirable donation is not so sharply drawn Those entangled in the legal social and commercial dimensions of transplanting organs must reconcile motives bureaucracy and medical desperation Matching Organs with Donors Legality and Kinship in Transplants examines the tensions between law and practice in the world of organ transplants and the inventive routes patients may take around the law while going through legal processes In this sensitive ethnography Marie Andr e Jacob reveals the methods and mindsets of doctors administrators gray sector workers patients donors and sellers in Israel s living kidney transplant bureaus Matching Organs with Donors describes how suitable matches are identified between donor and recipient using terms borrowed from definitions of kinship Jacob presents a subtle portrait of the shifting relationships between organ donors sellers patients their brokers and hospital officials who often accept questionably obtained organs Jacob s incisive look at the cultural landscapes of transplantation in Israel has wider implications Matching Organs with Donors deepens our understanding of the law and management of informed consent decision making among hospital professionals and the shadowy borders between altruism and commerce

Exploring Medical Anthropology Donald Joralemon, 2017-03-16 Now in its fourth edition Exploring Medical Anthropology provides a concise and engaging introduction to medical anthropology It presents competing theoretical perspectives in a balanced fashion highlighting points of conflict and convergence Concrete examples and the author s personal research experiences are utilized to explain some of the discipline s most important insights such as that biology and culture matter equally in the human experience of disease and that medical anthropology can help to alleviate human suffering The text has been thoroughly updated for the fourth edition including fresh case studies and a new chapter on drugs It contains a range of pedagogical features to support teaching and learning including images text boxes a glossary and suggested further reading

The Palgrave Handbook of Biology and Society Maurizio Meloni, John Cromby, Des Fitzgerald, Stephanie Lloyd, 2017-10-27 This comprehensive handbook synthesizes the often fractured relationship between the study of biology and the study of society Bringing together a compelling array of interdisciplinary contributions the authors demonstrate how nuanced attention to both the biological and social sciences opens up novel perspectives upon some of the most significant sociological anthropological philosophical and biological questions of our era The six sections cover topics ranging from genomics and epigenetics to neuroscience and psychology to social epidemiology and medicine The authors collaboratively present state of the art research and perspectives in some of the most intriguing areas of what can be called biosocial and biocultural approaches demonstrating how quickly we are moving beyond the acrimonious debates that characterized the border between biology and society for most of the twentieth century This landmark volume will be an extremely valuable resource for scholars and practitioners in all areas of the social and biological sciences The chapter Ten Theses on the Subject of Biology and Politics Conceptual Methodological and Biopolitical Considerations is open access under a CC BY 4 0 license via link springer.com Versions of the chapters The Transcendence of the Social Scrutinizing the Epigenetics Revolution Species of Biocapital 2008 and

When Species Meet Donna J. Haraway, 2013-11-30 In 2006 about 69 million U S households had pets giving homes to around 73.9 million dogs 90.5 million cats and 16.6 million birds and spending more than 38 billion dollars on companion animals As never before in history our pets are truly members of the family But the notion of companion species knotted from human beings animals and other organisms landscapes and technologies includes much more than companion animals In When Species Meet Donna J Haraway digs into this larger phenomenon to contemplate the interactions of humans with many kinds of critters especially with those called domestic At the heart of the book are her experiences in agility training with her dogs Cayenne and Roland but Haraway's vision here also encompasses wolves chickens cats baboons sheep microorganisms and whales wearing video cameras From designer pets to lab animals to trained therapy dogs she deftly explores philosophical cultural and biological aspects of animal human encounters In this deeply personal yet intellectually groundbreaking work Haraway develops the idea of companion species those who meet and break bread together but not without some indigestion A great deal is at stake in such meetings she writes and outcomes are not guaranteed There is no assured happy or unhappy ending socially ecologically or scientifically There is only the chance for getting on together with some grace Ultimately she finds that respect curiosity and knowledge spring from animal human associations and work powerfully against ideas about human exceptionalism

Disclosure Dilemmas Hansjakob Müller, 2017-03-02 There exists today a fast growing availability of personal genetic information Its prognostic impact and value for an individual or family member's health is sometimes unclear whilst at other times it is clear cut The issue of whether to disclose genetic information does however have wide ranging implications Avoiding the rhetoric of genetic exceptionalism and drawing on an expanded field of bioethical sociological and anthropological research this book sets a new agenda for discussing the ethics surrounding the disclosure of prognostic genetic information A hermeneutical approach reconsiders the ethics of disclosure in a variety of contexts in which genetic information is generated requested interpreted or communicated from the provider perspective but also from the moral perspectives of clients and their families It is in situations of disclosure in these different contexts that genetic information meets morality Providers and recipients can become vulnerable to the revelation or concealment of information and the forms in which it may be provided Disclosure Dilemmas invites readers to explore these contexts from an ethical viewpoint and will be a valuable resource for anyone with an interest in biomedical ethics

Women in Biotechnology Francesca Molino, Flavia Zucco, 2008-08-05 Johannes Klumbers Biotechnologies such as genetic engineering cloning and biodiversity raise many legal and ethical concerns so it is important that people understand these issues and feel able to express their opinions This is why the European Commission has been for a number of years supporting actions to improve communication among scientists in these diverse areas The project Women in Biotechnology

WONBIT financed under the 6th Framework programme of the European Commission is an excellent example of what can be done to target opinion formers such as scientists economists and lawyers in bottom up activities and to encourage a debate on gender issues triggered by developments in the life sciences WONBIT gave rise to a successful international conference highlighting the importance of adopting good practices and ethical considerations in parallel with the rapid pace of progress in biotechnology from a woman's point of view In particular the conference addressed women in decision making positions in biotechnology with specific reference to scientific excellence social competencies and management qualities as well as issues relating to environment society and the younger generation But it did not stop there a key part of the conference was dedicated to stimulating public debate among non specialists which has led to a number of recommendations to policy makers on better communication in biotechnology on taking better account of the gender aspects of research and on involving more women in the decision making process that surrounds developments in biotechnology
