Remaking Muslim Politics Robert W. Hefner, 2009-01-10 There is a struggle for the hearts and minds of Muslims unfolding across the Islamic world The conflict pits Muslims who support pluralism and democracy against others who insist such institutions are antithetical to Islam With some 1.3 billion people worldwide professing Islam the outcome of this contest is sure to be one of the defining political events of the twenty first century Bringing together twelve engaging essays by leading specialists focusing on individual countries this pioneering book examines the social origins of civil democratic Islam its long term prospects its implications for the West and its lessons for our understanding of religion and politics in modern times Although depicted by its opponents as the product of political ideas made in the West civil democratic Islam represents an indigenous politics that seeks to build a distinctive Islamic modernity In countries like Turkey Iran Malaysia and Indonesia it has become a major political force Elsewhere its influence is apparent in efforts to devise Islamic grounds for women's rights religious tolerance and democratic citizenship Everywhere it has generated fierce resistance from religious conservatives Examining this high stakes clash Remaking Muslim Politics breaks new ground in the comparative study of Islam and democracy The contributors are Bahman Baktiari Thomas Barfield John R Bowen Dale F Eickelman Robert W Hefner Peter Mandaville Augustus Richard Norton Gwenn Okruhlik Michael G Peletz Diane Singerman Jenny B White and Muhammad Qasim Zaman

Remaking Muslim Politics Robert W. Hefner, 2005 Twelve essays examine the social origins of civil democratic Islam its long term prospects implications for the West its lessons for our understanding of religion politics in modern times

The Many Faces of Political Islam, Second Edition Mohammed Ayoob, Danielle Nicole Lussier, 2020-01-03 Analysts and pundits from across the American political spectrum describe Islamic fundamentalism as one of the greatest threats to modern Western style democracy Yet very few non Muslims would be able to venture an accurate definition of political Islam Fully revised and updated The Many Faces of Political Islam thoroughly analyzes the many facets of this political ideology and shows its impact on global relations

Cosmopolitanisms in Muslim Contexts Derryl N. MacLean, 2012-06-15 This collection of 9 essays focuses on instances in world history when cosmopolitan ideas and actions pervaded specific Muslim societies and cultures The contributors explore the tensions between regional cultures isolated enclaves and modern nation states Cosmopolitanism is a key concept in social and political thought standing in opposition to closed human group ideologies such as tribalism nationalism and fundamentalism Recent discussions of it have been situated within Western self perceptions Now this volume explores it from Muslim perspectives

Islamist Populism in Turkey and Indonesia: A Comparative Analysis Mustafa Demir, Greg Barton, 2023-12-30 This book focuses on the dynamics of democracy and populism in Muslim majority countries such as Turkey and Indonesia It does so by examining the complexities of democratic development in these areas ranging from flawed to hybrid regimes Despite the aspirations for democratic progress recent democracy indices reveal a concerning trend of backsliding particularly in the last decade This regression can be attributed in part to the ascendancy of populist politics. Populist movements have adeptly exploited both real and perceived cultural insecurities to acquire, consolidate and maintain political power. This phenomenon is especially pronounced in flawed democracies and hybrid regimes within Muslim majority countries such as Turkey and Indonesia. Notably, religion, specifically Islam, has emerged as a central tool within the populist playbook. Populist actors have constructed a religious, civilizational framework that leverages political binaries, manipulates insecurities and fosters traditional anti elite and anti other sentiments. In this book, the authors advance the notion that populism is a multifaceted phenomenon that relies on various pre-existing fractures within societies and cultures. Once in power, populism intensifies these differences to further consolidate its position, utilizing various state apparatuses such as state-controlled religious institutions. This comprehensive analysis offers insights into the growing trend of populism in the Muslim world and its impact on contemporary politics.

Schooling Islam Robert W. Hefner, Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2010-12-16 Since the Taliban seized Kabul in 1996, the public has grappled with the relationship between Islamic education and radical Islam. Media reports tend to paint madrasas, religious schools dedicated to Islamic learning, as medieval institutions opposed to all that is Western and as breeding grounds for terrorists. Others have claimed that without reforms, Islam and the West are doomed to a clash of civilizations. Robert Hefner and Muhammad Qasim Zaman bring together eleven internationally renowned scholars to examine the varieties of modern Muslim education and their implications for national and global politics. The contributors provide new insights into Muslim culture and politics in countries as different as Morocco, Egypt, Pakistan, India, Indonesia, Iran, and Saudi Arabia. They demonstrate that Islamic education is neither timelessly traditional nor medieval, but rather complex, evolving and diverse in its institutions and practices. They reveal that a struggle for hearts and minds in Muslim lands started long before the Western media discovered madrasas and that Islamic schools remain on its front line. Schooling Islam is the most comprehensive work available in any language on madrasas and Islamic education. Mohamed Nawab, Mohamed Osman, 2025-10-01 Pathways to Contemporary Islam: New Trends in Critical Engagement highlights that the current tensions in Islam and the Muslim world are the result of historical dynamics, as opposed to an alleged incompatibility between religious tradition and modernity. The emphasis on pathways indicates that critical engagement and contestation have always been intrinsic to the history of Islam. The aim of the book is to elaborate the contemporary pathways and analyse the trends that contest the Islamic intellectual tradition, the relationship between religion and politics, and the individual and collective practice of religion. The collection of essays analyses the current efforts of critical re-engagement with the Islamic intellectual tradition and underlines the historical diversity of Islamic orthodoxies that led to the establishment of various pathways in the practice and role of religion in Muslim societies. Fieldwork and the Self Jérémy Jammes, Victor T. King, 2021-11-09 This book presents new perspectives on Southeast Asia using cases from a range of ethnic groups, cultures and histories, written by scholars from different ethnicities, generations, disciplines and scientific traditions It examines various research trajectories engaging with epistemological debates on the global and local on insiders and outsiders and the role played by personal experiences in the collection and analysis of empirical data The volume provides subjects for debate rarely addressed in formal approaches to data gathering and analysis Rather than grappling with the usual methodological building blocks of research training it focuses on neglected issues in the research experience including chance error coincidence mishap dead ends silence secrets improvisation remembering digital challenges and shifting tracks Fieldwork and the Self is relevant to academics and researchers from universities and international organisations who are engaged in teaching and learning in area studies and social science research methods A rich and compelling set of writings about fieldwork in and beyond Southeast Asia Lyn Parker Emeritus Professor University of Western Australia A must read for all especially emerging scholars on Southeast Asia and a refreshing read for critical old hands on the region Abdul Rahman Embong Emeritus Professor Institute of Malaysian and International Studies IKMAS Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia An impressive collection of essays by two academics who have devoted their academic life to anthropological fieldwork in Southeast Asia Shamsul A B Distinguished Professor and UNESCO Chair Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia The contributors share an unquenchable and passionate curiosity for Southeast Asia They have survived the uncertainties and disillusionment of their fieldwork and remained first grade scholars Marie Sybille de Vienne Professor National Institute for Oriental Languages and Civilisations Paris A penetrating reflection on current social science research on Southeast Asia Hans Dieter Evers Professor Emeritus and Senior Fellow University of Bonn

Ethnizität, Islam, Reformasi Andreas Ufen, 2011-12-12 Das malaysische Parteiensystem wurde im Laufe der letzten Jahrzehnte von mehreren Konfliktlinien geprägt Andreas Ufen zeigt dass zunächst ein ethnischer Gegensatz vorherrschend war der sich im Zusammenhang mit dem elektoralen Autoritarismus also aufgrund der strikten Kontrolle der Arbeiterbewegung und prodemokratischer Kräfte und aufbauend auf einer frühzeitig ins Leben gerufenen interethnischen Elitenkoalition entfalten und stabilisieren konnte Dieser Gegensatz wurde von einem solchen zwischen Sektularisten und Anhängern eines politisch interpretierten Islam zunehmend überformt Seit 1998/99 hat sich quer zu den ethnischen und religiösen Konfliktlinien erstmals ein Gegensatz zwischen Status quo und Reformasi herausgebildet der die Auseinandersetzungen im Parteiensystem heute dominiert und das gesamte politische System transformieren kann

Muslim Politics Dale F. Eickelman, James Piscatori, 2018-06-05 In this updated paperback edition Dale Eickelman and James Piscatori explore how the politics of Islam play out in the lives of Muslims throughout the world They discuss how recent events such as September 11 and the 2003 war in Iraq have contributed to reshaping the political and religious landscape of Muslim majority countries and Muslim communities elsewhere As they examine the role of women in public life and Islamic perspectives on modernization and free speech the authors probe the diversity of the contemporary Islamic experience suggesting general trends and challenging popular Western notions of Islam as a monolithic movement In so doing they clarify concepts such as tradition authority ethnicity protest and symbolic space notions that are crucial to an in depth understanding of ongoing political events This book poses questions about ideological politics in a variety of transnational and regional settings throughout the Muslim world Europe and North America for example have become active Muslim centers profoundly influencing trends in the Middle East Africa Central Asia and South and Southeast Asia The authors examine the long term cultural and political implications of this transnational shift as an emerging generation of Muslims often the products of secular schooling begin to reshape politics and society sometimes in defiance of state authorities Scholars mothers government leaders and musicians are a few of the protagonists who invoking shared Islamic symbols try to reconfigure the boundaries of civic debate and public life These symbolic politics explain why political actions are recognizably Muslim and why Islam makes a difference in determining the politics of a broad swath of the world

Islam, Secularism, and Liberal Democracy Nader Hashemi, 2009-04-02 Islam's relationship to liberal democratic politics has emerged as one of the most pressing and contentious issues in international affairs Nader Hashemi challenges the widely held belief among social scientists that religious politics and liberal democratic development are structurally incompatible While there are certainly tensions between religion and democracy the two are not irreconcilable Liberal democracy requires a form of secularism to sustain itself yet the main political cultural and intellectual resources that Muslim democrats can draw upon are religious How can this paradox be reconciled Hashemi makes three principal arguments First in societies where religion is a key marker of identity the road to liberal democracy must pass through the gates of religious politics The process of democratization therefore cannot be artificially de-linked from debates about the normative role of religion in government Secondly while liberal democracy requires secularism religious traditions are not born with an inherent secular and democratic conception of politics These ideas must be developed and in an emerging democracy how they are developed is critical Finally Hashemi argues that there is an intimate relationship between religious reformation and political development While the first often precedes the second these processes are deeply interlinked Democratization does not require a privatization of religion but it does require a reinterpretation of religious ideas that are conducive to liberal democracy By engaging in this reinterpretation religious groups can play a central role in the development and consolidation of democracy Islam Secularism and Liberal Democracy argues for a rethinking of democratic theory so that it incorporates the variable of religion in the development of liberal democracy In the process it proves that an indigenous theory of Muslim secularism is not only possible but is a necessary requirement for the advancement of liberal democracy in Muslim societies

Muslim Democracy Edward Schneier, 2015-10-23 Muslim Democracy explores the relationship between politics and religion in forty seven Muslim majority countries focusing especially on those with democratic experience such as Indonesia and Turkey and drawing comparisons with their regional non Islamic counterparts Unlike most studies of political Islam this is a politically focused book more concerned with governing realities than ideology By changing the terms of the debate from theology to politics and including the full complement of Islamic countries Schneier shows that the boundaries between church and state in the Islamic world are more variable and diverse than is commonly assumed Through case studies and statistical comparisons between Muslim majority countries and their regional counterparts Muslim Democracy shows that countries with different religions but similar histories are not markedly different in their levels of democratization What many Islamists and western observers call Islamic law moreover is more a political than a religious construct with religion more the tool than the engine of politics Women who drive in Saudi Arabia as the author says are not warned they will go to hell but that they will go to jail With the political salience of religion rising in many countries this book is essential reading for students of comparative politics religion and democratization interested in exploring the shifting boundaries between faith and politics

Democratization in the Muslim World Frederic Volpi, Francesco Cavatorta, 2013-09-13 This book examines the role that political Islam plays in processes of democratization in the Muslim world detailing the political processes that facilitate the collective learning of democratic ways of solving the practical problems of those polities Democratization in the Muslim World represents an important contribution to the debate on democratization and political Islam that emphasises the synergetic effects and global reach of both Islamist and democratic politics It comes to terms with the problematic relationship between Islam and democracy in the uncertain post Cold War post 9 11 world order by highlighting the malleability of Islamic discourses and of its institutional resources as well as the diversity of the political strategies of incumbent regimes to remain in power It combines key theoretical issues and country specific studies of some of the most relevant Muslim polities of the post Cold War and post 9 11 era This text was previously published as a special issue of Democratization and will be of interest to students of Middle East politics governance democracy and human rights Islam and Politics (3rd edition) Peter Mandaville, 2020-04-28 This book is an accessible and comprehensive account of political Islam in the contemporary world Providing a broad introduction to all major aspects of the interface of Islam and politics it combines an accessible style with sufficient depth for the academic classroom Drawing on insights from comparative politics and Islamic studies this book explains the complex interaction between Islam society the state and processes of globalization Preserving the previous editions strong focus on key concepts from Islamic history as they relate to contemporary political Islam this new edition includes coverage of important developments and updated country overviews from the Middle East Central and South Asia Southeast Asia Europe and North America Features include Two new case studies on Southeast Asia and Europe Exploration of the origins and development of ISIS Al Qaeda and various regional affiliates of the global Salafi Jihadi movement Coverage of contemporary debates about radicalization and violent extremism Examination of questions of

Islam's compatibility with democracy the role of women and Islamic perspectives on violence and conflict Discussion of major theoretical debates in the literature on political Islam the debate on Islamic exceptionalism and whether Islamist politics can be understood using the conventional tools of comparative political science and International Relations These updates ensure the book remains the single best introduction to the topic of political Islam for students and scholars foreign policy professionals and the general reader

Princeton Readings in Islamist Thought Roxanne L. Euben, Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2009-10-11 An anthology of key primary texts that offer an introduction to Islamist political thought since the early twentieth century

The Making of the Modern Muslim State Malika Zeghal, 2024-03-26 An innovative analysis that traces the continuity of the state's custodianship of Islam as the preferred religion in the Middle East and North Africa In The Making of the Modern Muslim State Malika Zeghal reframes the role of Islam in modern Middle East governance Challenging other accounts that claim that Middle Eastern states turned secular in modern times Zeghal shows instead the continuity of the state's custodianship of Islam as the preferred religion Drawing on intellectual political and economic history she traces this custodianship from early forms of constitutional governance in the nineteenth century through post Arab Spring experiments in democracy Zeghal argues that the intense debates around the implementation and meaning of state support for Islam led to a political cleavage between conservatives and their opponents that long predated the polarization of the twentieth century that accompanied the emergence of mass politics and Islamist movements Examining constitutional projects public spending school enrollments and curricula Zeghal shows that although modern Muslim majority polities have imported Western techniques of governance the state has continued to protect and support the religion community and institutions of Islam She finds that even as Middle Eastern states have expanded their nonreligious undertakings they have dramatically increased their per capita supply of public religious provisions especially Islamic education further feeding the political schism between Islamists and their adversaries Zeghal illuminates the tensions inherent in the partnerships between states and the body of Muslim scholars known as the ulama whose normative power has endured through a variety of political regimes Her detailed and groundbreaking analysis which spans Tunisia Morocco Egypt Turkey Syria and Lebanon makes clear the deep historical roots of current political divisions over Islam in governance
